Today

The World's Silver Italy Finds Oil Strange British Hanging Mohammed's Pigeon

— By Arthur Brisbane —

GEORGE E. ROBERTS, vice-president of the National City Bank, says our business troubles are due to our great gold reserve. On our huge gold pile, dangerous inflation, reckless speculation and other evils were based. They hurt all nations, and hurt us most of all.

Some believe, rightly, that the butchering of silver's value, hurt the world more than the scramble for gold. Making silver practically worthless as money made half the people on earth, about eight hundred millions, unable to buy goods. China and India, with more than seven hundred million human beings, are without useful money.

Even high finance was made to understand the situation last week, when Mexico, with every desire to pay, was forced to suspend interest payments on five hundred millions of gold bonds. You cannot pay your debts if your creditors make payment impossible.

The Mexican situation may cause the money power of the world to realize that demonetizing silver is dangerous. Small bank notes in France and Britain, as cheap as eight cents each in France, drove silver from circulation. And our "cart-wheels" are seen rarely. Britain attempted to put India on a gold basis when she was not really strong enough for a gold basis herself, and India's great hoards of silver, becoming less and less valuable, were marketed at ruinous prices.

Gold and silver have been used, side by side, as the world's money for thousands of years, with silver the dominant metal, the greater part of the time. The French word for money is argent, which means "silver," and today silver is practically worthless, a gold dollar being worth about 50 times its weight in silver.

Now, we consider lending China one hundred million ounces of silver, to help her finances. It would rid us of part of our useless silver, but would be, to China, about as useful as the loan of a trainload of confederate money.

It would interest W. J. Bryan to look down and see to what the financiers' contempt for silver has led.

The world's "gold" governments might well call a conference to restore to silver its value, on a basis of 30 to 1 at most, with renewed and extensive coinage of the metal. The desire to "control money" will not be so keen, now that one-sided money means bankruptcy, with half the earth's people unable to buy from the gold hoarders.

Italy has discovered oil, in encouraging quantities, at Fontevivo, near Parma. There is no great quantity, as yet, but the oil does gush from the ground, and in Italy today that means as much as four or five rainbows in the sky at once.

Mussolini, most energetic and efficient of earth's rulers, with the possible exception of Stalin, organized the Azienda Generale Italiana Petrola to seek for oil and has found it 700 feet down.

Mussolini might imitate Stalin, who sends for American experts in his industrial difficulties.

Kingsbury, of California, Seubert, of Indiana, or Teagle, of New Jersey, might tell him, on the transatlantic telephone, what to do. The message might read, "We are going down as far as 9000 feet here, try that. There are often deeper, richer sands below the shallow sands."

Or Mussolini could call in his European neighbor, Deterding, who is no child in oil since he dominates the world's oil business now as Standard Oil once did before our wise men decided not to let American enterprises become too successful.

Mussolini might even interest John D. himself, causing that ancient power to awaken from its Fafnir sleep and take a hand. Not long since the Rockefeller family, just to show it could be done, and for possible future use, brought in a well, far inside the Arctic circle, although it would cost $50,000,000 to run a pipe line up there.

It might amuse them to prove that oil underfoot is perhaps on the very spot where Archimedes requested the soldier to get out of his sunlight. What a marvellous combination would come of Italian industry and abundant, cheap oil and gasoline.

Everyone wishes full success for the Azienda Generale.

England sentences Alfred Arthur Rouse to be hanged for the murder of a man unknown, something that has not happened in 145 years, and the jury took only 15 minutes to decide. The British believe in punishing murder. We believe in coddling, or

Continued on Page 2, Column 7

GALLAGHER CALLS SULLIVAN PERJURER

Foch's Memoirs on Page 10

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN
A HOME PAPER FOR PEOPLE WHO THINK

VOL. 27—No. 265 Published Daily by N. E. Newspaper Pub. Co. Entered as 2d Class Matter at Boston P.O. BOSTON, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1931 2 CENTS ZONE PRICE 3 CENTS

FINANCIAL STATE ST.

Firemen on Swinging Ladders Fight Dock Blaze

WOMAN 'POISON PEN' PLOTTER

SULLIVAN IS SCORED BY GALLAGHER

Thirteen Counts Against the Women Are Dropped, He Informs the Jury

Thirteen counts of 45 in one indictment against Lillian V. Hatch were dropped before closing arguments at the Garrett trial began today.

Daniel J. Gallagher, counsel for Miss Hatch and Florence H. Garrett, on trial with Oliver B. Garrett, ex-police raider, so informed the jury during his address.

Gallagher and Herbert F. Callahan, attorney for the ex-raider, presented their final arguments during the morning session.

Gallagher's was, in part, an excoriation of John F. Sullivan, claimed victim of the alleged conspiracy, and of Sydney Fields, another government witness.

"SULLIVAN PERJURER"

"That's the government's case—Sullivan, the perjurer, and Fields, the thief," Gallagher told the jury which is expected to receive the case for deliberation tomorrow.

"There have been multitudes of witnesses before, our courts, and in all the history of jurisprudence there never was a man so bereft of conscience as John F. Sullivan—a man who would assail anyone."

If Garrett is not guilty, his wife and Miss Hatch must be found not guilty, Gallagher asserted. He warned the jurors that if there was one man among them who wanted to convict because of prejudgment, he committed a more heinous offense than any in the indictments.

ONLY ONE ACCOUNT.

"Shall we, after four weeks of foul mouthings of Sullivan and

Continued on Page 2, Column 1

Rep. Denison Must Face Liquor Charge

Washington, Feb. 2 (AP)—The District of Columbia Court of Appeals today held that Representative Denison of Illinois must stand trial on an indictment charging him with possession of a trunk containing intoxicating liquors. The trunk was found in Denison's office at the House office building in January, 1929.

Ship Burns, All Hands Feared Lost

Eureka, Cal., Feb. 2 (INS)—An unidentified coastwise steamship of about 900 tons burned today six miles off Trinidad Head, 23 miles north of here, and was believed to have sunk with all hands.

BANK CLEARINGS
Detroit (Feb. 1) $24,877,178
Baltimore (Feb 2) $12,378,290

Radio Broadcast Tests Link U. S. With Vatican

Vatican City, Feb. 2 (AP)—The Vatican City broadcasting station communicated with the United States Friday night and early Saturday morning in carrying out its first transmission experiments, it was revealed today.

As a consequence of thes experiments, which were executed perfectly, it is practically certain that the station will begin to function regularly Feb. 12, which is the anniversary of the Pope's coronation.

With the Marquis Guglielmo Marconi, himself conducting the experiments, the Vatican operators made four radio-telegraphic broadcasts beginning at 7 p. m., Friday (1 p. m. E. S. T.), and ending at 2 a. m., Saturday (8 p. m., E. S. T.). The National Broadcasting Company acknowledged receipt of the broadcasts.

So bad were atmospheric conditions that neither Rome's 50 kilowatt station nor London's station could hear New York but the Vatican station heard perfectly.

The Marquis Marconi was to be received in private audience by the Pope this afternoon reporting at that time his experiments and giving his recommendations as to whether the station should be inaugurated Feb. 12.

The Weather

Partly cloudy and colder tonight, Tuesday fair and colder; northerly winds. Minimum temperature tonight will be near 12 degrees above zero.
High tide 10:35 a.m.; 11:05 p.m.
Sun rises 6:58; sets 4:59.
Details on Page 16.

Einstein All Wrong, Says U.S. Scientist; Relativity 'Silly'

San Francisco, Feb. 2 (INS)—A new attack upon the famous relativity theory of Dr. Albert Einstein, celebrated German physicist, now visiting in southern California, was launched here today by Capt. Thomas J. J. See, former head of the United States Naval Observatory at Mare Island, and one of the world's best-known astronomers and mathematicians.

Capt. See declared in a formal statement that Prof. Einstein "had spread about a great number of errors and fallacies," and that there was "not one truth in the whole mass of relativity literature."

His statement follows:

By T. J. J. SEE
(Discoverer of the Wave-Theory of Gravitation.)

In 1911 Einstein claimed that there was no connection between electrodynamics and gravitation, thereby setting European thought on the wrong course.

I began to straighten out these errors in 1916, and in 1921, proved that magnetism and gravitation both are due to waves in the ether—thus connecting the great force of terrestrial magnetism of the universal civilization, by new equations which are numerically verified in both hemispheres of the earth, and the knowledge therefore as eternal as our globe itself.

PULL OF GRAVITY

In 1929, seven years after my discovery was published in Germany, Einstein was able to see the light and gave up his error of 1911, in favor of a unified field theory, merely another name for the wave-theory of the ether, to which I devoted 12 years.

In 1919 Einstein proposed to do away with the ether, and again set very superficial writers on the wrong track, so that the half trained presumed to turn away from masters like Ruyghens and Newton, who understood the necessity of the ether for holding

Continued on Page 2, Column 2

CAPT. T. J. J. SEE

240-MILE CLIP BY CAMPBELL

Daytona Beach, Fla., Feb 2 (AP)—Captain Malcolm Campbell, British contender for the world's automobile speed record, attained an unofficial speed of approximately 240 miles an hour on a practice run over the ocean course.

Fall Kills Wife of Western U. Official

New York, Feb. 2 (INS)—Clad only in a nightgown, Mrs. Marie Louise Tauber Stark, wife of Francis Raymond Stark, general counsel for the Western Union Telegraph Company, was killed today when she fell or jumped from a window of her 15th-story apartment. Mrs. Stark had been under treatment for a nervous breakdown. Her nurse was in an adjoining room when Mrs. Stark plunged from the window.

ICE TITLE GAME WON BY BOSTON

Krynica, Poland, Feb. 2 (AP)—The Boston ice hockey team started its quest of the world title here today by defeating the Rumanian 15 to 0.

Playing with a speed and dash that has made it the favorite with the University of Manitoba grads for the finals, the American six skated all around its Balkan rival to score almost at will.

Seven goals were scored in the first period, five in the second and three in the third.

Anderson and Smith starred for the Boston team, dazzling the Rumanians with their fine stick work and scoring three goals each. Sapino, Sanford and Ramsey each scored two goals and Thayer, Elliot and Shepler one each.

It was the Boston team's first match. The Manitoba Grads, Canada's representatives in the World Hockey Tournament being played here, won their first round match yesterday nine goals to none.

Banker Arrested in New York Quiz

New York, Feb. 2 (INS)—Joseph C. Brownstone, a director of the closed Bank of the United States, was placed under arrest today when he refused to answer questions put by Max D. Steuer on alleged use of loans from the bank to gamble in the stock market.

NAME THE NEW EAST BOSTON TUNNEL SEE PAGE 10

3 ALARMS FOR B. & M. COAL POCKET FIRE

Several Overcome by Dense Smoke; Fireboats Unable to Aid; Loss Heavy

PICTURE ON PAGE 2

Flames that spread on an oil film under Mystic docks, Charlestown, today called apparatus on three alarms for a bitter battle to save the burning pier.

Low tide that prevented fireboats from nearing the scene aided to the difficulty, but land forces worked through holes ripped in the dock as they swung on ladders.

Dense smoke and heat overcame and affected several firemen and they were relieved from duty but none would accept hospital treatment.

NEW TYPE PIPE USED

The blaze started before dawn directly under the rails that carry heavy coal conveyors along the dock. Burning embers fell to the film of oil on top of the water, scarce and the rapid spread ignited other piles.

The new type whirling collapsible ware used by firemen to climb the swinging ladders held firm against the force of the whirling stream of fire lines seven stories or more above the holes in the dock.

Two fire department lighting trucks were "on ends" on the pier, but were of little avail in the dense smoke that enveloped the firemen.

Strong searchlights from Fireboats 31 and 47 were played under the pier, however, and aided materially.

BOATS THREATENED

Several boats were threatened at the U. S. Gypsum Co. dock, adjoining, but the tide rose sufficiently to allow the fireboats to ply between, ready to throw a water screen if the flames threatened.

Fire Commissioner Edward F. McLaughlin responded when the third alarm was sounded.

Officials estimated that $5000 worth of coal was destroyed in the blaze or lost in the harbor as the dock broke through in many places. They said they believed sparks from a locomotive started the original blaze.

Gen. Edwards Weak, but Resting Well

Gen. Clarence R. Edwards was resting comfortably at Phillips House, Massachusetts General Hospital, today but he continued weak due in part to his inability to take much nourishment. He lost no ground during the night, according to his physicians, and his condition remained the same as yesterday. For the past three days the general has been weaker. Col. John W. Hyatt and the general's sister Mrs. Charles A. Otis of Cleveland, are the only ones permitted to see him.

Red Cross Fund Is Now $5,069,000

Washington, Feb. 2 (AP)—The Red Cross drouth relief fund today passed the halfway mark, the total being $5,069,000. The goal is $10,000,000.

Relief Sent Arkansas

Torrington, Wyoming, Feb. 2 (AP)—Five carloads of foodstuffs left here today for the relief of the needy in Arkansas. It was contributed by ranchers, townspeople and merchants of this community.

Einstein's Wine Cellar at Summer Home Looted

Caputh, Germany, Feb. 2 (AP)—Burglars broke into Prof. Albert Einstein's wine cellar at his summer home last night, and carried off what they did not drink on the premises.

It was the second time thieves had broken into the scientist's home since he went to the United States. In December all they took was Frau Einstein's winter coat.

Rudolf Kayser, Prof. Einstein's son-in-law, said the thieves last night also had taken a beautiful piece of silk embroidery, the gift of a Japanese university, which hung in Frau Einstein's room.

He told the police he believed the burglars must have stolen most of their wine from some other summer home in the neighborhood and drunk it in the Einstein cottage.

Woman Hunted in Pen Plot

ARTHUR D. HILL

MRS. GREENOUGH MALCOLM GREENOUGH

"POISON PEN" letters written to Mrs. Malcolm Greenough, society leader and wife of a former football star, threatening disfigurement of her child, were written by a woman, handwriting experts said today. Arthur D. Hill, former district attorney, has been retained by the Greenoughs to aid in the investigation.

DAISY JURORS SUMMONED

Los Angeles, Feb. 2 (AP)—William Bierne, defense attorney, indicated that one or more of the jurors who convicted Daisy De Voe of the theft of $825 from her former employer, Clara Bow of the films, had been subpoenaed to appear today at a hearing on motion for a new trial.

Miss De Voe is expected to seek probation or appeal if she is refused a new trial.

Bierne will base his plea for a re-trial on a charge that the jury, in convicting Daisy, reached its verdict by selecting at random one of the 25 counts of grand theft against his client.

KING FROWNS ON ROMANCE

Stockholm, Sweden, Feb. 2 (AP)—King Gustave's frown has cast a shadow upon the romance of Prince Lennart, his grandson, and Fraulein Karin Nissvandt, the daughter of a Swedish industrialist.

The King issued a communique today announcing he would withhold his consent to the wedding, but it was understood the prince was ready to abide by the consequences and marry the girl of his choice. Should he do so, he would forfeit his right of succession to the throne. The marriage, however, probably will be indefinitely postponed.

In a communique issued by the grand marshal of the court it is pointed out that "the constitution provides that a prince of the royal house shall not marry without the knowledge and consent of the king. Notwithstanding this, Prince Lennart has announced his intention to marry without previously obtaining the king's consent. After earnest consideration the king has concluded it is impossible for him to give consent in this marriage."

BALANCE AND RECEIPTS

Washington, Feb. 2—Today's Treasury balance, $157,190,208.
C. S. customs receipts, $37,404,888.

GREENOUGH THREATS PROBED BY FOLEY

Arthur D. Hill, Former District Attorney, Engaged by Greenoughs to Aid Investigation

A sinister woman—a woman of education and refinement, many times more dangerous because of her identity is unknown—was revealed today as the central figure in the Greenough threatening letter mystery.

Eventual disclosure of her identity, the authorities believe, may prove sensational.

It was her hand that penned the messages to Mrs. Malcolm W. Greenough, society leader of 415 Beacon st., threatening disfigurement of her baby and demanding $2500.

A handwriting expert of international repute, Capt. Albert S. Osborn of New York, has so declared. The Boston Evening American learned today.

As a result of this report, made jointly to the police and to special counsel hired by the millionaire Greenoughs, Dist.-Atty. William J. Foley has suddenly launched a investigation designed to ferret out the threat-sender.

HILL CALLED INTO CASE.

The authorities fear that the threats may be the result of a distorted and unfounded grudge against the family of the former Harvard gridiron leader, and that the same insane motive may lead eventually to an attempt to disfigure the child, now six weeks old.

Working with the district attorney and police on the case is Arthur Dehon Hill, former district attorney, who fought the last legal battles for Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti.

Hill, engaged by the Greenoughs, went to New York to consult personally with the penmanship expert last week, it was learned. He refused to comment on the case today.

"Mal" Greenough at his broker-age office today told a reporter that he views the letters as possibly the working out of an insane and groundless enmity against him or his wife and family. He does not believe any attempt will ever be made to carry out the threats.

"Capt. Osborn said that characteristics in the handwriting of the threatening letters indicated that a woman wrote them," said Greenough.

FAIL TO CONNECT RUIZ

"He said he had failed to tie up the handwriting with samples furnished him of the handwriting of Magie E. Ruiz, when a arrested in the case some time ago.

"Nevertheless there are strong indications, I believe, that the letters were the product of a disordered mind and were sent not necessarily with any intent to collect money or inflict harm on the baby, but to work out some fancied wrong.

The official investigation is proceeding on the presumption that Ruiz is entirely eliminated.

No official or investigator work-

Continued on Page 2, Column 6

In Today's American

Financial 16, 17, 18
Radio 15
Classified Ads 19
Ship News 19
Crossword Puzzle 10
Society 7
Amusements 6
Sports 8, 9
Letters from Readers 3
Comics 14
Magazine, Fiction 13

ROXBURY MAN, BLINDED BY STORM, HIT BY TRAIN IN CHARLESTOWN

ENGINE DRAGS INJURED MAN 20 FEET

Cold Wave Broken; 3500 Obtained Work Clearing Streets of Snow

A snowstorm which started early today was responsible for serious injuries suffered by Thomas Bradley, 60, of 150 Cabot st., Roxbury, who was struck by a train in Charlestown.

Bradley, blinded by the snow, was crossing a spur track near the Revere Sugar Refinery, in Medford st., Charlestown, when a two-engined freight hit him and dragged him 20 feet.

The train, in charge of Engineer A. L. Jennings, was stopped and Bradley was rushed to Haymarket Relief Station with two broken ribs and a fractured pelvis.

SNOW IN SUBURBS.

Harry Makin, of Oxford st., Lynn, was struck on the head by an icicle which fell from the top of a six-story building while he was walking on Central ave., in that city today. He was removed to Lynn Hospital, where two stitches were taken in the wound and he was then sent home.

Prospects for further temporary relief for the unemployed in the removal of snow were dissipated when the storm ended about 7:30.

Practically all eastern New England was enveloped in clouds of dancing snowflakes early today. Heavy snow was reported in Marlboro as early as 3 a. m. The storm also was reported along the North Shore and the Newburyport turnpike, as well as in towns adjacent the Greater Boston area. An earlier hour snow was reported falling in Gloucester, Salem, Newburyport, Danvers and Woburn.

THOUSANDS AT SPORTS

The mercury slumped down to 4 above at 7 a. m. yesterday. As the day advanced it rose to 21 at 2 p. m., but then began to drop again, registering 15 degrees above at midnight. The 4-degree mark equals the low mark for the winter, registered on Dec. 16. It was also the coldest Feb. 1 since 1920, at which time the mercury registered an official minimum of 7 degrees below zero.

The frigid temperatures yesterday failed to dispel the enthusiasm of countless devotees of winter sports. Hundreds took advantage of the ideal coasting, skiing and snow shoeing.

Maine Hit by Snow and Biting Cold

Portland, Me., Feb. 2 (AP)—Stinging snow, driven by a bitterly cold north wind, today gave Maine residents one of the most disagreeable and frigid days of the winter.

Unofficial temperatures scaled downward to 40 degrees below zero, the low mark being recorded in Van Buren and vicinity.

SULLIVAN HELD UP AS PERJURER

Continued from First Page

Fields, put the brand on these women as accessories before the fact of a felony punishable in a state prison?" he asked. Sullivan perjured himself at the Garrett trial, Gallagher said.

Callahan argued: "If you don't believe Sullivan there is nothing to the case. I can't see where the testimony of Sullivan, who admits he is a perjurer, is worthy of a moment's consideration."

He stressed the point that Garrett, on the liquor squad, made from 15,000 to 17,000 arrests in an unpopular job, and that the only one to accuse him of graft was Sullivan. Fields, he said, was afraid to speak the whole truth for fear he would be in the toils of the police.

GARRETT'S HONEST STORY

"I feel confident, Mr. Foreman and gentlemen of the jury, what your verdict will be. There are not 12 men who could be gathered from any place who honestly would take a man's liberty and good name on testimony of a man like Sullivan. It has never happened and it never will happen."

Garrett, he declared, told an honest story on the witness stand and his failure to recall the specific sources of certain bank deposits was an honest lapse of memory in view of the time that has elapsed since the money was banked.

The former raider, could if he wished, have framed a story to make his bank deposits dove-tail with certain flights and the fact that he did not do so was further evidence of his innocence, it was argued.

Edison Named for List of Ten Greatest

New York, Feb. 2 (AP)—Rabbi Louis I. Newman has definite ideas on who are the ten greatest living men. In his Sunday sermon before congregation Rodeph Sholom he named Thomas A. Edison, Albert Einstein, Mahatma Gandhi, George Bernard Shaw, Joseph Stalin, Leon Trotzky, Benito Mussolini, Henri Bergson, Ernest, Bloch and Rabindranath Tagore.

Subway Golf

By FRANKLIN COLLIER

BOSTON ELEVATED TO CONVERT PART OF SUBWAY INTO A NINE-HOLE MINIATURE GOLF COURSE.
SORRY I WANT MERELY TO RIDE
TRAINS FOR SULLIVAN SQUARE EVERETT-CHARLESTOWN
I MAY BE GREEN BUT YEW CAN'T TELL ME THAT THEY PLAY GOLF IN THE SUBWAY!
MINIATURE GOLF
MOTORMAN
VAIN SHOULDN'T TH' ELEVATED PROMOTE GOLF? OUR BALL TEAMS HAVE BEEN IN TH' SUBWAY FOR YEARS!
IT'S GOING TO BE HARD TO SELL THE IDEA.
JUST A MOMENT! PLEASE
I SAY YOU HAVE CHANGED SIX!
SUBWAY TIEUP.
HAZARDS

Einstein Theory Is Denounced

Continued from First Page

the planets in their orbits 250 years ago.

The mechanical pull for holding the earth in its orbit is equivalent to the breaking strength of an 11-inch cable of strong steel on each square foot of a cross section of our globe.

Naturally Michelson rejected this indefensible reasoning of Einstein, and so did 2 and all astronomers who study celestial mechanics. Behold the result—the ether was not done away with, and will be here while the stars shine and the planets pursue their elliptical orbits in the heavens. Thus Einstein is not a leader, but a poor follower, generally on the wrong side of everything.

PROVED WRONG

About 1916, the quasi-Einsteinian, Prof. Desitter, in Holland, made the "great discovery" that "gravity is not a force, but a property of space," which is an insult to the intelligence of even the superficial mechanic, who knows by shop work that if flywheel revolves too rapidly it will fly all to pieces under the increasing centrifugal force. The planets, likewise, would fly off on tangent lines but for Newtonian gravitation holding them in their Keplerian orbits, by a pulling equivalent to millions of immense cables of the strongest steel, and thus not a property of space, but due to the elastic strength of the ether, the most real medium in the universe.

Following this half-baked craze about space (emptiness) which the misguided relativists—Einstein, Desitter, Eddington and Joans four of the greatest confusionists of any age—had spread about, Dr. St. John at Mt. Wilson observatory had the temerity to claim, in a lecture at Pasadena, on January 20, that the shift of the nebular spectral lines towards the red might not mean motion at all, but "that in speeding earthward through millions of miles of curving space the light simply tires and slows up, thus yielding the needed tendency to shift the lines toward the red.

Einstein was reported pleased with such chimerical reasoning. If true it shows that both St. John and Einstein are utterly ignorant of the nearly infinite elasticity of the ether, 589,321,600,000 times greater than that of air in proportion to its density, which keeps the velocity of light constant in all parts of space.

Both Einstein and St. John ought to study Newton's Formula on Wave Motion, 1687—that much are they behind the times.

Einstein's explanations of the outstanding motions of Mercury's perihelion is known and proved to be false: There are eight other explanations of this motion, that based on the wave theory, 1920, being the simplest and best.

His juggling with Soldner's calculation, 1801, on the bending of the path of light near the sun, is in eclipses, misled astronomers into the idea that the amount of deflection should be doubled—an error—but the error in the Einstein theory was discovered independently by Sir John Marmor, Cambridge, England, by Prof. Charles Lane Poor of Columbia University, and by me, 1924.

"DISORDERED MINDS"

Our decision in this matter is final: Einstein took the action proportional to twice the mass, instead of simply proportional to the mass itself—as uniformly verified in physical sciences for 300 years, since the time of Galileo and Newton.

The relativity confusionists talk about the curvature of space, and fourth dimension: Yet Gauss, the greatest mathematician in the history of the world, said that to the human soul space is of three dimensions, and those who could not understand that are Bootians—stupid and uncultured people from the backwoods mountainous districts northwest of Athens.

Gauss likewise dealt profoundly with the curvature of surfaces in space, yet never once used the phrase "curvature of space" and no such thing exists, except in the disordered minds of those who are neither astronomers, mathematicians nor physicists.

To sum up briefly, we may conclude by stating definitely that Einstein has spread about a great number of errors and fallacies, but after a careful study of all his theories, I know of not one truth in the whole mass of relativity literature, and thus for the good of science not a line of it should have been published.

It has simply added to the darkness and confusion of a superficial and unthinking age, in which quantity production of inferior literature is injuring the public mind.

A philanthropist would render a great public service if he would gather up all the books on relativity and dump them in the ocean; they are the outcome of an attempt to tinker with Newton's law without understanding it, and, being misleading, these relativity books ought to be destroyed. Einstein is a sophist, and his books deal only with sophisms and fallacies.

I call your attention to the fact that in 1904 the celebrated Henri Poincare of Paris, the greatest mathematician of our time, came over to the Scientific Congress at St. Louis, yet naturally moved about quietly, avoiding vulgar appeals to mob psychology, as becomes a real philosopher carrying the torch of light handed down the centuries by Archimedes and Newton.

Whatever has been back of Einstein's visit, it was not a mission of pure science, and the quicker it is forgotten the better.

BUTLER TO FACE COURT-MARTIAL ON FEB. 16

White House Intimates That Charge May Be Dropped in Favor of Reprimand

Washington, Feb. 2 INS)—Maj.-Gen. Smedley D. Butler, United States Marine Corps, will be tried by a general court-martial on February 16, for the reflections which he cast upon Premier Mussolini of Italy, as a "hit-and-run driver."

This decision was reached today and announced by Secretary of the Navy Adams, after a conference with President Hoover, and after strong intimation had come from the White House that the proceedings against Butler might be dropped and he be reprimanded instead of tried.

The Philadelphia navy yard was chosen as the locale for the trial, which promises to be spectacular.

MAY SOFTEN CHARGES

The project of abandoning the trial was considered and then apparently rejected on the basis that the proceedings had gone so far now, with the appointment of the court and the drafting of charges, to permit it.

The charges and specifications, however, probably will be softened somewhat from what was originally proposed. It is understood every effort will be made to prevent the trial from becoming a highly sensational proceeding. This was indicated by the fact that the scene of the trial was shifted from Washington to Philadelphia.

No decision was made today whether the sessions of the trial court are to be open or closed to the public. It rests with Secretary of the Navy Adams, who indicated he had not made up his mind.

BILL OF PARTICULARS

Rear Admiral David F. Sellers, judge advocate-general of the Navy, put the finishing touches on the bill of particulars, corresponding to an indictment, against Gen. Butler today. He will submit it to Secretary Adams this afternoon.

After the charge are sanctioned upon Gen. Butler, the limits of his "arrest" will be extended, and he will be permitted to consult Washington to confer with counsel.

Washington, Feb. 2 (AP)—The time, the place and the specific charges against Maj.-Gen. Smedley D. Butler still were withheld today by the marine officer and his counsel. The latter declined to discuss the case in any way.

Appeal of Fall's Conviction Heard

Washington, Feb. 2 (AP)—Arguments for reversing the conviction of Albert B. Fall for accepting a bribe began today in the District of Columbia Court of Appeals. Counsel for the former interior secretary contended he had had no jurisdiction over the Elks Hills, Cal., Naval oil reserve, leasing of which led to his conviction a year ago of taking $100,000 for the lease to Edward L. Doheny Co.

Anne Nichols' Plea for New Trial Denied

Washington, Feb. 2 (INS)—The Supreme Court today denied the petition of Anne Nichols, author of "Abie's Irish Rose," for review of her unsuccessful suit in lower courts to collect $3,000,000 damages from the Universal Pictures Corporation for alleged infringement of her copyright in the production of the cinema, "Cohens and Kellys."

Killing

ACCORDING to New York police, Mrs. Elizabeth Tierney has confessed that she used belt to strangle her husband, Thomas, who spent what little money he made for bootleg liquor, while she and her three children went hungry. (International Newsreel photo.)

WOMAN HUNTED AS 'POISON PEN'

Continued from First Page

ing on the case was prepared to hazard a guess as to the identity of the letter-writer, but it was guardedly admitted that the writer was supposed to be involved may be of social rank.

Capt. Osborn is reported to have stated definitely that the feminine characteristics in the messages positively indicated a woman of refinement and good education.

Four threatening letters in all have been received by Mrs. Greenough, three of them since Ruiz was arrested and locked up. The first was received just after New Year's and the rest at intervals during January.

An attempt was made to trap the sender, who asked that the money be carried by Mrs. Greenough ready for delivery on a moment's notice, but nothing came of it.

A police guard was placed on the Greenough home. This was withdrawn with the arrest of Ruiz, but re-established when more letters were received, and a guard was also placed at the home of State Sen. Henry Parkman, Jr., of Beacon st., whose wife is Mrs. Greenough's mother. He has been active in the investigation.

Consultation of the New York expert was decided upon because of the continued arrival of threats after Ruiz was in custody, indicating that he had nothing to do with them.

SMOOT MOVES TO SHATTER DEADLOCK

Both Sides Refuse to Budge in Congress Fight as an Extra Session Looms

Washington, Feb. 2 (AP)—With an extra session of Congress looming, congressional leaders determined today to begin conferences late in the day or tomorrow seeking a break in the deadlock between the administration and the Democrats on the $25,000,000 relief fund.

The veteran Sen. Smoot, Republican, Utah, returned to the Capitol today from a sick bed to obtain an immediate conference between the Senate and House.

He is chairman of the Senate conferees on the interior department appropriation bill in which the Senate coalition of Democrats and Republican independents incorporated the disputed relief fund.

As Smoot started to the House to confer with leaders there, the spokesmen of the Democrats and the administration were adamantly standing their ground in the controversy.

"I have nothing to propose," he admitted.

Senator Robinson, Arkansas, Democratic leader, with the backing of a party caucus, has served notice that some measure of federal relief must be incorporated in the interior bill or it cannot pass.

Representative Tilson, Connecticut, administration leader in the House, has served an equally firm notice that the House will not compromise.

Tourists Stripped by Mexican Bandits

Guadalajara, Mexico, Feb. 2 (AP)—Troops have been dispatched in pursuit of bandits who yesterday held up several automobiles filled with tourists on the road to Tequila. The motorists were robbed of even their clothes.

60 Injured in Panic at Mexican Church

Mexico City, Feb. 2 (AP)—Sixty persons were injured, several seriously, in a panic at the Sacred Heart Cathedral in Guadalajara Sunday. The panic was due to the collapse of a building adjoining the temple, which was crowded for noon mass.

TODAY

Continued from First Page

ignoring it. It's a crime in England, an industrial institution here.

Rouse had become involved in love affairs and desired to disappear, without dying. His automobile was burned, and in it was found the charred corpse of a man, not Rouse, who was dropped appointed in his murder theory that his own death would be taken for granted.

How he got the man into the car and burned him is not known. Sherlock Holmes would have advised him to buy a corpse and burn that. In case of need, he could prove it and escape hanging.

Civilization's methods improve even executions. Rouse will be hanged, and promptly, but out of sight, in a prison cell yard. When the thing happened 145 years ago, in 1786, a sailor, never identified, was murdered near Hindhead. Three men were hanged in chains, on the scene of the crime, for the edification of the public.

Marconi, Italian genius, will install for Pope Pius a radio phone enabling the Pope to communicate secretly with his nuncios all over the world.

How that would have impressed and convinced the skeptics 3,200 years ago.

Mohammed, it is said, trained a pigeon to eat dry peas out of his ear. The pigeon would fly down before the multitude, light on the prophet's shoulder and put its beak in his ear. No one doubted that the pigeon brought a special message from Allah, himself.

But that would be nothing to proving you had actually talked with a human being, 5000 miles away, reaching him in less than the 37th part of a second.

Even Alborak never pretended to that speed.

Interesting news for our farm board struggling with a wheat corner. Egypt's government, trying to hold up cotton, as Uncle Sam is trying to hold up wheat, accumulated gigantic quantities of cotton, and has not dared sell it, for fear of ruining the market price and ruining itself politically.

Now it proposes to get rid of the cotton gradually, selling 300,000,000 pounds of its accumulations each year.

That will NOT be good news for our cotton farmers.

(Copyright, 1931, King Features Synd., Inc.)

PEOPLE

Who Interest You and What They Are Doing

Paul Whiteman Denies He Plans Divorce

Indianapolis, Feb. 2—Paul Whiteman, noted orchestra leader, today denied reports he planned a divorce, but intimated differences between his wife and himself have arisen.

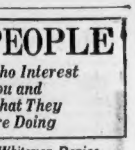
Whiteman said:

"There may be a conference between my wife and me in the spring. If anything happens, all the facts will be made public."

He blamed "the hellish life of being on the road that makes happy, married life almost impossible."

Asked about the report he is engaged to Margaret Livingston, he said:

"Can a man be engaged when he already has a wife and child and is not divorced?"



Paul Whiteman

Husband of Ex-U. S. Girl Heads House of Bourbon

Cannes, France, Feb. 2 (U.S.)—Death here yesterday of Prince Philippe, 59, the Duke de Vendome, head of the house of Bourbon-Orleans.

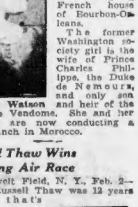
Peggy Watson

The former Washington society girl is the wife of Prince Charles Philippe, the Duke de Nemours, and only son and heir of the Duke de Vendome. She and her husband are now conducting a sheep ranch in Morocco.

Russell Thaw Wins Thrilling Air Race

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., Feb. 2—When Russell Thaw was 12 years old — that's seven years ago —he told the world he was going to be a great surgeon. Since then he has won dozen contests, worked as a life guard and proved a versatile young man.

Today he holds the distinction of one of the youngest racing aviators in the country. He proved his metal by coming in a victory over William Patterson of Mineola when the two raced to Newark and back. Better than 120 miles an hour was the average speed.



Russell Thaw

Princess Margaretta of Greece to Wed in March

Paris, Feb. 2 (US)—The marriage of Princess Margaretta of Greece to Prince Friedel Hohenlohe-Langenbourg is scheduled for March at the Hohenlohe-Langenbourg estate in Germany, it was learned today.

The princess is the eldest daughter of Prince Andrew of Greece and niece of Prince Christopher erstwhile husband of the late Mrs. William B. Leeds. She is also the cousin of Princess Xenia, former wife of William B. Leeds, Jr.

Princess Margaretta

The prince was formerly most attentive to Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt.

Princess May Set Style With Rabbit-Skin Coat

London, Feb. 2—Princess Mary exhibited the latest thing in women's wearing apparel when she appeared with a new coat made of fur of blue beaver and rabbit and the smoky blue Persian cat. English society women are now bewailing a marked inclination for fur coats of economical rabbit fur, bearing odd names.

Princess Mary told friends she was very pleased with her coat. Lady Evelyn Guinness is sporting a rabbit chinchilla. The wrap is naturally marked, as no dyes are used.

Princess Mary

Heavy Smoke Hampers Firemen Battling Coal Blaze

THOUSANDS OF TONS of coal were set afire early today by a mysterious fire that started in piling beneath the B. & M. coal pockets at Mystic Wharf early today. Dense clouds of smoke that billowed from the coal piles forced firemen to don gas masks to fight the flames. A receding tide prevented fireboat crews from fighting the flames. (Staff photo.)

HUNDREDS MAROONED BY FIRE, BLAST, IN EAST BOSTON TUNNEL

Manhole Blowup Here ↓

SERVICE ON the East Boston tunnel line was paralyzed for several hours today when a short circuit burned out the main power cable on the Boston side of the tunnel. Two manhole covers in front of 284 State st. were hurled into the air when the cable was burned out.

Caused This Jam Here ↓

JAMMED THOUSANDS turned to ferries and autos for transportation to the city when the tunnel power line was burned out. A jam such as shown above confronted South Ferry workers for hours as a result of the tieup. (Staff photos.)

THOUSANDS IN RUSH TO FERRIES

Manholes Blown Up in State St. as Short Circuit Causes Blaze

Hundreds of persons were marooned in the East Boston tunnel today when a short circuit in the main power line under State st. blew two manhole covers into the air and stalled trains in both directions.

It was the worst tieup since the East Boston tunnel was opened in December, 1904.

While hundreds from the trains warily picked their way along the tunnel tracks to darkened stations, thousands of others rushed to the North and South ferries to cross the harbor.

RUSH TO FERRIES.

Boston-bound travelers quit cars at Maverick sq., the East Boston end of the tunnel, and walked half a mile through Lewis st. to the South ferry. Others walked more than a mile to the North ferry. An extra ferry was placed in service by the city in an attempt to relieve the congestion.

More than 7,000 extra passengers were carried on the city ferries and another 4,000 used the Boston, Revere Beach & Lynn Railroad ferry.

When the short circuit occurred two manhole covers were blown 15 feet in the air in front of Nos. 284 and 294 State st. Flames leaped 10 feet in their wake and fire underground destroyed a large section of cable that necessitated a ripping of the sidewalk to make repairs.

POWER AND LIGHTS GO.

All power and lights in the subway went off immediately and frantic preparations were made by Elevated officials to handle the morning rush that was to follow. The stalled passengers were in four trains of two cars each, one of them directly under the harbor.

The crush was particularly heavy at the Devonshire and Maverick stations for the first hour, thousands milling on the platforms in the hopes that the power would be turned on again.

At 9:30 a temporary connection was made with the overhead system on Atlantic ave., so that service in the tunnel could be resumed.

Battle On at State House Over Public Control of Boston 'L'

SENATOR TOWHIG SENATOR HOLLIS BITTER CLASHES featured the hearing at the State House today on House Bill 199 for public control of the Boston Elevated. Senator Towhig of South Boston scored the bill. Atty. James H. Vahey, Jr., appeared as counsel for the State Branch, American Federation of Labor, which is on record as opposed to public ownership. (Staff photo.)

ATTY. VAHEY

Heated Clash Over 'L'; Labor for Private Ownership

Public ownership of the Boston Elevated was denounced by representatives of the State Federation of Labor and the Boston Chamber of Comerce before the joint legislative committee on metropolitan affairs today.

James T. Moriarty, president of the State Federation, and Charles F. Rowley of the Chamber, joined in stating that the road should be kept out of politics, and gave it as their opinion that a privately-operated organization is more efficient than one run by the people.

Both spoke in favor of an Elevated bill sponsored by the State labor organization, for a continuance of public control for 42 years, with a cut in common stock dividends from 6 to 5 per cent. There is a provision permitting the public to take over the road if it so desires.

TWOHIG SCORES BILL

Both speakers clashed with Senator James J. Twohig of the committee, who characterized the bill as a "half purchase" measure and said the State would be justified in going ahead with the purchase of the entire road.

This statement was made after Pres. Moriarty had denied Sen. Twohig had told him he would vote for a public montrol bill.

Later when Mr. Rowley, who is chairman of the Chamber of Commerce committee on Elevated matters, attacked politicians, Senator Twohig rushed to their defense.

"I do not have to sit here and listen to these attacks," he said. "You are hitting me and men like me in the State House."

"No, I'm not," replied Rowley. "I had something bigger in mind.

"What I was trying to show was that when the government goes into business, political pressure is brought to bear and that is a bad thing. There is a tremendous amount of political interference in public service."

SAYS LABOR HAS AGREED.

Robert J. Watt, acting legislative agent for the labor body, said the petition was the result of many year's discussion and the first that labor had agreed on in years.

Atty. James H. Vahey, Jr., counsel for the Federation, said he drew the petition in collaboration with H. Ware Barnum of the Elevated. He said that in face of the decline in revenue no saving could be expected except in overhead, and that $1,127,000 would be made by the retirement of preferred stock.

Wreckage of Lost Tradewind Sighted

Washington, Feb. 2 (INS)—The steamship Youngstown radioed the Navy Department today it sighted gray-colored wreckage in the Atlantic 150 miles off the Azores. Department officials believe the wreckage might be part of the airplane Tradewind, which was lost last month en route from Bermuda to the Azores with William S. MacLaren and Mrs. Beryl Hart.

Princess Beatrice Suffers Relapse

London, Feb. 2 (US)—The condition of the Princess Beatrice, 74, mother of the Queen of Spain and aunt of King George, was reported "less satisfactory" early today.

N. E. FIGHTS OIL EMBARGO BILL

Washington, Feb. 2 (INS)—New England's opposition to any embargo on imports of crude oil was voiced today before the Senate commerce committee by representatives of the Associated Industries of Massachusetts, the American Automobile Association, independent oil interests and the City of Savannah.

The committee is considering the Capper bill which would limit imports to 16,000,000 barrels yearly.

Albert R. White, vice-president of the Associated Industries, said an embargo would cause an increase of $1 a barrel to Massachusetts and other New England firms that now take advantage of a 75-cent differential in favor of oil over coal. He said gasoline would be increased to the consumer by 8 cents a gallon, and that Mexico, Colombia and Venezuela would retaliate against New England's textile industry.

Lloyd Infant's Home

YOUNG MR. LLOYD, three days old and already nationally famous, is making his temporary home in the very latest of residences for babies who need special care. Photo shows the type of incubator being used for the Lloyd baby in a special room, large enough to hold three or four cribs. Young Mr. Lloyd occupies it alone, however. Name of Los Angeles baby doubling for Harold, Jr., was unknown. (International Newsreel photo.)

FATHER TERMS HASTINGS SANE

A. B. Hastings, father of Samuel B. Hastings, Boston and Lexington sportman, testified in Middlesex Court today that his son was normal before he destroyed a will in 1925, a copy of which Hastings' divorced wife petitioned be allowed.

Mrs. Hazel G. Somers, divorced from the younger Hastings and since married again, claims $10,000 for herself and $7500 for a daughter in the will Hastings burned before his suicide in August, 1925. She claimed Hastings was insane when he destroyed the will.

"In May and June when Sam was at my farm in Wayland he was normal as far as I could discern," the father, who is opposing the petition, testified.

Dr. Abraham Myerson, well-known alienist, also testified that in his opinion Hastings was sane. His reply came after a long hypothetical question was read him.

COMPROMISE ON BONUS HINTED

Washington, Feb. 2 (AP)—Representative Patman told today of compromise offers having been talked of by some administration followers as settlement of the issue over cash redemption of veterans' bonus certificates.

The Texas Democrat, one of the original sponsors of the cash redemption plan, named Senator Vandenberg. He said the Michigan Republican had expressed a belief after a White House conference that an increase by 50 per cent of the loan value of the certificates and a reduction in the interest would meet administration approval.

"While most of the compromise advocates have discussed it quietly," Patman said, "I have definite information that they would be only too willing to accept such a compromise.

"It would please Secretary Mellon and the administration, I know. The proposal has been discussed with nearly all of us who are advocating a 100 per cent cash bonus."

Senator Vandenberg has proposed a measure allowing loans up to 50 per cent face value of the certificates. The ultimately would involve a total outlay of $1,700,000,000, if all veterans took advantage of it. The Government already has a $700,000,000 fund for this purpose.

Meanwhile, George W. Shaller, Storm Lakes, banker, today suggested the increasing of loans on veterans certificates for relief of pressing need. He testified the House Ways and Means Committee.

Vermont Official Drowns in Icy Pond

Vergennes, Vt., Feb. 2—Following a day's ice fishing, Arthur E. Longeway, 58, chief constable at Paxton for 25 years, was drowned when his truck broke through Dead Creek Pond last night. His assistant, Benjamin Kesse, jumped clear, broke through the ice, but was able to save himself. Although the temperature was 24 below zero, a diver recovered Longeway's body. He leaves a widow and four children.

Penniless Mother Swims 48 Hours to Win $1000

Sydney, Australia, Feb. 2 (AP)—Mrs. Katherina Rehua, a Maori woman whose husband has been out of work for nine months, entered an endurance swimming contest here yesterday to earn enough money to buy food for her four children, one of whom is only nine weeks old.

She swam 47 hours and 52 minutes, but she finished second to Mercedes Gleitz, who lasted 23 minutes longer.

Her prize was $500 and Miss Gleitze contributed another $500 from her winnings of $1000. Mrs. Rehua and her husband said they had spent their last shilling for carfare to the pool for the marathon.

Itemizing the Day's News Items

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

BENITO MUSSOLINI cables he has forgotten Butler's speech—hot gravy, does—

SMEDLEY have to make it all over again? Farmers got free grass seeds from—

CONGRESS. They may starve but they will have pretty lawns. And—

MEXICO has suspended gold payments for two years. What the world needs is more free hospital beds. The city of—

NEW YORK is facing a water shortage. There have been no complaints. And what do you know about—

WILKINS? He is going to sail under the North Pole in a submarine. Claims that the—

POLE has never been discovered from the bottom. The—

SOVIET CONSTITUTION is a pippola. If you don't work, you don't eat, and they work you so hard you don't feel like eating. That's manipulating—

BOTH ENDS against the middle. Queer how styles change when there are—

INVESTIGATIONS on. Met an old legal friend yesterday and said—

HELLO JUDGE. And he said—sh-sh-shush—

SHUSH. Not so loud.

(Copyright, 1931, International by Universal Service, Inc.)

BISHOP CANNON IN HOSPITAL

Washington, Feb. 2 (AP)—On the eve of a scheduled appearance before a church board to answer charges against him, Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, today was a patient in Sibley Hospital.

For the time being, the nature and seriousness of his illness were unknown. Beyond saying the bishop was in the hospital, attaches of the institution declined to comment.

The bishop was confined to the hospital for several weeks recently with a severe case of arthritis.

He was due to appear tomorrow before a board of 12 bishops to answer accusations made by four traveling elders.

If the board finds evidence to substantiate the charges, the bishop will be suspended and brought to trial before the general conference. The nature of the accusations never has been revealed.

Awaits Stork

ESTER RALSTON, whose retirement from the screen has just been announced, is awaiting a visit from the stork in June it was revealed today. Miss Ralston in private life is Mrs. George Webb.

I. N. S. PHOTO.

SOCIETY CLUB RAID NETS 27

Los Angeles, Feb. 2 (AP)—At least 27 members of the Wilshire district's ultra fashionable set, including ten women, faced arraignment in municipal court today on gambling charges as a result of a revival of the days of '49 in an exclusive club yesterday.

Pandemonium reigned among the silk "toppers," gorgeously gowned society buds an dowagers when officers raided the club where on one floor bridge was being played, while on another floor lady luck was being importuned in games of craps, chuck-a-luck and blackjack.

More than 50 men and women escaped after a wild melee, in which officers guarding the doors were trampled.

Members of the club declared the games were not real, as a '49 celebration was in progress. Police said the club was one of several in which open gambling had flourished.

DO-X 'Taxies' Over Sea to Gando Bay

Las Palmas, Canary Islands, Feb. 2 (AP)—Butting its way through a choppy sea without attemptin to take off, the German flying boat DO-X steamed out of the harbor today and cruised 12 miles to Gando Bay. It will continue its projected transatlantic flight tomorrow if the weather is favorable.

Students Present Candles to Pope Pius

Rome, Feb. 2 (INS)—Monsignor Burke, rector of the American College here, and two students participated today in the annual candelora ceremony of the Catholic Church. Several hundred wax candles were presented to Pope Pius XI by the various religious orders and colleges.

Countess of Moray Awaited in Gotham

New York, Feb. 2—Metropolitan Society is planning a fitting welcome for the Earl and Countess of Moray, who will arrive tomorrow from England on the Aquitania. It was back in 1924 that the lovely Barbara Murray, second daughter of the Archibald Murrays of 1115 5th ave., became the bride of Lord Doune, eldest son and heir of the Earl of Moray. While in New York, Lord and Lady Moray will occupy an apartment at the Hotel Pierre.

Munson Liner Is Ashore Off Nassau

Nassau, Bahamas, Feb. 2 (AP)—The passenger liner Munargo, of the Munson Steamship Lines, ran aground on the south bank of the Channel while entering Nassau harbor today. Harbor officials said they believed a jammed steering gear caused the craft to go aground. Passengers were taken off by the harbor tug Potter.

$100,000,000 for U. S. Buildings Favored

Washington, Feb. 2 (AP)—The Senate Public Buildings Committee today ordered a favorable report on the administration's measure authorizing expansion of the public buildings program by $100,000,000.

Black Cat Breaks Finger

But a Cat Has No Finger; Ah, but Max Has—a Broken One

Max Broomstein, 45, of 322 Chelsea st., East Boston, today has a broken finger serving as a constant reminder that black cats are bad luck to him.

For years he ignored the superstition and it meant so little that when Broomstein saw a black cat ambling along the sidewalk as he left home this morning, he paid no attention.

That was where he made a mistake, for a second later he tripped over the cat, fell heavily and broke a finger on his left hand. He was treated at East Boston Relief Station.

Today, in the real estate columns of the Classified Ads, you will find scores of opportunities for profitable investment.

The type of bread recommended by doctors!

"Builds sturdy bodies"

GENTLES SWEDISH HEALTH BREAD

Regulates the system naturally

Growing children need GENTLES Swedish Health Bread to build stamina. At meals or between times—or for school lunches—give them this wholesome bread!

A joy to taste, yet contains the necessary roughage which doctors recommend. Keeps the system properly regulated, but so naturally that you can hardly realize it. Made from a special blend of several flours—stays fresh for days. Makes delicious toast. Ask for it at your grocer's—today!

TUNE IN Gentles "Bakerboy" Wednesdays WNAC 10:45 A. M.

GENTLES BAKING CO. BOSTON, MASS. Phone MILton 8200

Rockefeller Urged to Keep Maine Plan

Washington, Feb. 2 (AP)—Secretary Wilbur today said he had asked John D. Rockefeller, Jr., to delay pressing his request that he be permitted to withdraw his offer of $4,000,000 for roads in the Acadia National Park, Maine, until attempts could be made to iron out difficulties. Senator Hale, Maine, laid before Wilbur the appeal of citizens of Bar Harbor that efforts be made to defer action until city leaders had an opportunity to urge against withdrawal of the fund.

LOW FARE ALL RAIL

FLORIDA EXCURSIONS

Round Trip from Boston

February 9th and 21st

March 27th

Miami	$74.81

March 14th and April 4th

Miami	$74.81
Tampa	$69.24
St. Petersburg	70.10
Havana, Cuba	$99.48

Proportionately low rates to all other Florida stations on March 14 and April 4.

Stop-overs permitted

Tickets are good on all trains and in sleepers

All tickets good via Tampa and St. Petersburg going or returning, without extra cost.

Tickets, reservations, or information write

J. A. BLASER, N.E.P.A.
413 Old South Bldg., Boston, Mass.
Tel. Liberty 2018

SEABOARD AIR LINE RAILWAY

Roosevelt's Stand on 1932 Issues Clear

N. Y. Republicans Silent on Power, Unemployment and Farm Relief

By WILLIAM E. LAWBY

Albany, Feb. 2 (UR)—On the threshold of the second month of the 1931 session of the New York State Legislature, political Albany took census of cardinal developments today and found Governor Roosevelt's attitude clearly defined on four issues that are destined to be dominant in the 1932 presidential campaign.

The four issues are: Repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment; water power and public utility regulation; a long-range farm relief program, and proposals to combat and ameliorate future economic depressions and unemployment crises.

However, the first month of the session has not been witness to parallel eagerness on the part of the Republican-controlled Legislature to commit itself on the matters involved.

BOTH FOR REPEAL

The single exception is the question of prohibition repeal. Both parties in New York State are now engaged in a race to place the State on record for abolition of the national dry law.

The G. O. P. State leadership, it can fairly be said, will exercise deliberation in reaching its decisions on the part of these commanding issues. The relation which they are likely to bear to the governor's presidential potentialities will govern the Republican majority to a marked degree.

The governor blazed the way for his party's liberal stand on prohibition last fall when he declared for repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and restoration of state rights. His views were incorporated in the party's platform at the Syracuse state convention. They are ready for translation into action by means of a resolution sponsored by Democratic Leaders Senator Downing and Assemblyman Steingut, calling for immediate repeal of the Volstead and associated enforcement acts and convocation of a national constitutional convention to repeal the Eighteenth Amendment.

GOV. F. D. ROOSEVELT

STATE POWER CONTROL

Launching the aforesaid series with his stand on water power, the governor hurled a challenge at the public utilities interests of the nation. He called for four-square for creation of a state water power authority to develop the hydro-electric resources of the St. Lawrence and to arm the state with right to construct its own transmission and distribution lines in the event the Power interests refuse to enter into a fair and reasonable contract for handling the generated energy.

In presenting his long range farm relief program to the Legislature, the governor pointed out it "might be of direct value in other states." The Roosevelt plan is a 10-year survey designed to index agricultural, reforestation or other purposes for which every acre of land is best adapted. He estimates that it will cost $750,000 and has asked for $97,000 for this year.

Governor Roosevelt again sponsored another issue when he called a conference in Albany a week ago of the chief executives of Ohio, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island and New Jersey to grapple with the problem of unemployment prevention.

The result of the conference was an ambitious and somewhat daring program in which the high spots were decision to give prompt study to unemployment insurance and agreement to set up a centralized statistical bureau, to keep track of industrial trends, and interstate shifts in labor with view to equalization of the supply of workers and work.

Premier Bennett in Visit to New York

New York, Feb. 2 (AP)—Premier R. B. Bennett of Canada was in New York today but kept secret his appointments for the day. He arrived from Washington in his private car last night.

Ford Plant on 5-Day Week

The Ford plant at East Somerville, which has been operating on a tow-day week since early in January, went on a five-day schedule today, giving employment to 1560 men. It was stated that full strength is 2000 and that no new employes are being taken on.

11 Injured in Fire at Stockton, Cal.

Stockton, Cal., Feb. 2 (AP)—Fire today destroyed Stockton's largest apartment house, the Eden Square Apartment. Firemen estimated the loss at $750,000 to $1,000,000. Eleven firemen were injured.

Shopping with Priscilla Price

Dearest Anne:

Whatever your plans are for this week, if you haven't included at least three shopping trips you are going to be out of luck, for, my dear, I haven't seen such values all Winter! Never there was a time of the year when one dollar seems to do the work of two—it's right now when the shops are clearing their shelves for new merchandise. I'm so excited, Anne, about these bargains and when you read my letter you'll know why. Such thrilling values—I've never seen fur coats and frocks marked at such low prices.

Put New Life

into your mid-winter wardrobe with a cheery new print from Evelyn's! Or a delightful new plaid with the essence of spring in every smart fold! Wait until you see the charming new silk crepe suits with daring plaid blouses! You'll love them! The prices for Evelyn's frocks are just right, too! $4.95—$7.95—$12.95! At these wonderful prices you'll find refreshingly new-looking crepe, silk frocks some with pert cap sleeves — Ravishing evening gowns in all shades—Dainty chiffon Sunday night frocks—Some are those adorable printed chiffons—others in exquisite shades. There are sizes and styles to suit everyone at Evelyn's Dress Shop, 3 Winter St., Room 302.

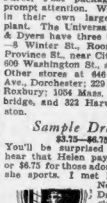
Quality Cleansing 75c!

Our Jane never wears a crumpled, mussy frock—For the Universal Cleansers & Dyers take care of her cleansing problems. These cleaners give such an improved quality of service for 75c that dresses and coats look like new when they come from them. Pleats, flares and tricky tuckings do not increase the cost. They do charge a bit more for fancy evening gowns. Parcel Post packages receive prompt attention. Work is done in their own large, sanitary plant. The Universal Cleansers & Dyers have three town shops —8 Winter St., Room 315; 32 Province St., near City Hall and 609 Washington St., street floor. Other stores at 646 Blue Hill Ave., Dorchester; 229 Dudley St., Roxbury; 1054 Mass. Ave., Cambridge, and 322 Harvard St., Allston.

Sample Dresses

$3.75—$6.75

You'll be surprised when you hear that Helen pays but $3.75 or $6.75 for those adorable frocks she sports. I met her at the New York Dress Mfg. Co. yesterday and she buys all her dresses there. For they specialize in sample dresses and sell them at their famous prices of $3.75 and $6.75! They're made to sell for three and four times as much! They have thousands and thousands to choose from at all times (mostly samples). Sizes 12 to 20—11 to 13—36 to 50—18½ to 26½. They guarantee to give you any dress free if you can duplicate their dresses in any other retail store at their prices. Plenty of saleagirls—20 private dressing rooms. Refunds and exchanges within 5 days if tag is not removed. The New York Dress Mfg. Co., 515 Washington St., 2nd floor. (Near West St.) This is their only store.

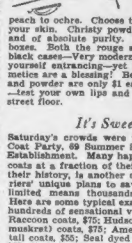


Clean Clothes

wear longer! Your wardrobe can be unbelievably increased, my dear, at the smallest cost imaginable, by having your soiled or spotted frocks cleaned at the Howard Inc. Imagine having your favorite frocks or your coat, whether it's plain or fur-trimmed, renewed — for that is what it does — for only 75c! It really means — that your Men's suits and overcoats are cleansed for the same price! Your frocks are beautifully refinished and thoroughly cleansed by their continuous Harris filtration process—All cleansing done in their own sanitary plant. You'll find Howard Inc. Cleansing Shops at 101 Milk St., 457 Columbus Ave., 125 Mass. Ave., 76 Warren St., 1918 Beacon St., Brookline; 831A Washington St., Newtonville; 418 Main St., Malden, and 280 Main St., Brockton.

At Last! A Really Clever Make-Up Test!

To tell you the exact shade of lipstick, rouge and powder for you! Really, it's very simple! You don't need complicated tests—or shelf-fulls of cosmetics. All you require is a Christy Make-Up Tester and a mirror! To test your lips—draw this clever Make-Up chart from end to end across your lips before the mirror. Then you can see the exact color for you. Not "light, medium or dark" but the "just right" shade—whether it's purplish-red or extreme orange-red. You use the same shade rouge as your lipstick. The Christy rouge is in paste form. Apply just the faintest glow and you may be sure of yourself from 9 A. M. to 5 A. M. Thank goodness, it doesn't "come off"! Both the lipstick and rouge are absolutely indelible and waterproof. Now, to test your skin—On the chart you'll find reproduced 10 different skin shades of fresh skin coloring—tones ranging from peach to ochre. Choose the shade that harmonizes perfectly with your skin. Christy powder is soft, adherent, charmingly scented and of absolute purity. Packed in irresistible silver and black boxes. Both the rouge and lipstick are in attractive silver and black cases—Very modern and smart! In this business of making yourself entrancing—yet natural and individual the Christy cosmetics are a blessing! Best of all, Anne, all three—lipstick, rouge and powder are only $1 each. Visit Filene's Toiletries Shop today—test your own lips and skin—Filene's Toiletries Shop is on the street floor.

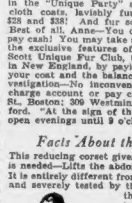


It's Sweeping New England!

Saturday's crowds were thrilling at Scott Furriers' Unique Fur Coat Party, 69 Summer St., Boston, New England's Largest Fur Establishment. Many happy women selected Scott dependable fur coats at a fraction of their original cost. This party, the third in their history, is another of Scott Furriers' unique plans to save women of limited means thousands of dollars. Here are some typical examples of the hundreds of sensational values: Smart Raccoon coats, $75; Hudson Seal (dyed muskrat) coats, $75; American Broadtail coats, $55; Seal dyed Coney coats, $25; Stunning Caracul coats, $35; Natural Muskrat coats, $35! Also included in the "Unique Party" are gorgeous cloth coats, lavishly fur-trimmed at $28 and $38! And fur scarfs at $18! Best of all, Anne—You don't have to pay cash! You may take advantage of the exclusive features of the famous Scott Unique Fur Club, the only one in New England, by paying a small payment when you purchase your coat and the balance only $5 monthly. No delay—No investigation—No inconvenience. If you prefer you may open a charge account or pay cash. Scott Furriers' stores—69 Summer St., Boston; 306 Westminster St., Providence; 1 Pratt St., Hartford. "At the sign of the climbing leopard." Scott Furriers are open evenings until 9 o'clock.

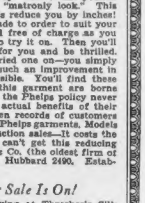
Facts About the Phelps' Reducing Corset

This reducing corset gives the stout figure support where support is needed—Lifts the abdomen without that bulge at the waistline. It is entirely different from any other corset—Not Rubber—created by the W. H. Phelps & Co.—and it is sold by them alone. I've talked to a few of their customers and here are some of the things they told me. That "roll" at your waist just rolls itself away—with it the pounds and that dreaded "matronly look." This corset actually does reduce you by inches! The garment is made to order to suit your figure—and altered free of charge as you reduce. Be sure to try it on. Then you'll see what it does for you and be thrilled. But until you've tried one on—you simply can't believe that such an improvement in your figure is possible. You'll find these claims made for this garment are borne out in facts. It is the Phelps policy never to exaggerate the actual benefits of their garments. I've seen records of customers who have returned again and again for new Phelps garments. Models for every type. Moderate prices. No reduction sales—It costs the same the year around. Remember, you can't get this reducing corset anywhere except at W. H. Phelps & Co. (the oldest firm of its kind in the country), 28 Tremont St., Hubbard 2490. Established 1832.



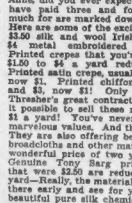
Thresher's Famous Dollar Sale Is On!

Flags should be flying and banners waving at Thresher's Silk Store!—For dollars are making history—buying values you'll remember 10 years from now as those good old days at Thresher's. Anne, did you ever expect a sale like this! Silks that we always have paid three and four times as much for are marked down to only $1! Here are some of the exciting values—$3.50 silk and wool Irish poplin, $1! $4 metal embroidered crepe, $1! Printed crepes that you've paid from $1.50 to $4 a yard reduced to $1! Printed satin crepe, usually $3 a yard, now $1. Printed chiffon, usually $2 and $3, now $1! Only because of Thresher's great contracting power is it possible to sell these materials for $1 a yard! You've never seen such marvelous values. And that isn't all—They are also offering beautiful silks, broadcloths and other materials at the wonderful price of two yards for $1! Genuine Tony Sarg printed crepes that were $2.50 are reduced to 50c a yard—Really, the materials are too numerous to describe. Just get there early and see for yourself. They have even included their beautiful pure silk chemises, panties and step-ins that were $1.85 in this dollar sale—Also beautiful sheer, chiffon stockings, and an excellent quality service weight usually $1.50 and $1.85 now $1! And their regular $1 stockings, both chiffon and service weight, are now selling three pairs for $2! Men's handmade neckties, usually $1 each —are marked at three for $1—some are two for $1. You'll want to get there early. Thresher's Silk Store is at 19 Temple Place or 41 West Street.



Here's Exciting News

Coleman's Fashion Shop is having their "After Xmas Sale." And it's a sale no girl can afford to let pass unheeded. I saw dresses marked at less than half their original price. Distinctive frocks that were $25 to $35 have been reduced to $12.50—Some that were marked at $39.75 to $59.75 are now $17.50. In their Thrift Corner you'll find a group of dresses, flat crepes, prints and chiffons that were formerly $16.50 to $29.75 now $3 and $7.50! Trim, smartly-styled knitted suits that were $16.50 and more, are now $10! These frocks will go quickly, Anne, so make a special effort to get there early! Coleman's Fashion Shop is at 175 Tremont Street at Avery.



Read and Act!

For the timely, tempting merchandise that's waiting your selection will not linger long. It's the early shopper that will get the prize packages this week Eager hands will be reaching to grasp the wonderful values that are offered you at such reasonable prices. I guess that's news enough for today—And you must admit that I've told you about some sensational values. And isn't it a saving of time, energy and shoe leather to know just where to find the things you want at the prices you want to pay? 'Bye, for now—and another busy week running down what's new and best in the shops.

Devotedly yours,

Priscilla

Advertise Your Wants in the Boston Evening American

FIRST NATIONAL STORES INC.

Where New England Buys Its Foods

BROOKSIDE

24 HOURS FRESHER

Milk goes down again

4% BUTTER FAT MILK

4% BUTTER FAT MILK

First National Leads Again

In Passing Along Savings!

Once again First National makes good on its policy of immediately passing along reductions in commodity prices to the consumer. Reflecting a new drop in the milk market, First National drops its famous Brookside milk to a new low price of 10c a quart!

Brookside is delivered and sold to you 24 hours fresher than the average milk. It contains four per cent butter fat—the factor by which milk is judged—a full 20% higher than legal requirements. And it is inspected and approved daily by your local health officer. The richest, purest, healthiest milk—get it now at your First National Store, at this new rock bottom price!

Now 10¢ a quart

$50,000 in Opium Seized in Newark

Newark, N. J., Feb. 2 (INS)—The crash of axe and crowbar against heavily barricaded doors today shattered the silkiness of Newark's underground Chinatown and signaled one of the largest opium raids in history. Fifteen opium dens were raided by a group of federal narcotic agents, and 151 Chinese were placed under arrest. Opium valued at $50,000, 65 opium pipes and 100 lamps were seized by the raiders.

Reich Defeats Move to Quit League

Berlin, Feb. 2 (INS)—The foreign relations committee of the Reichstag today defeated a motion by the National Socialists and Communists demanding Germany's immediate withdrawal from the League of Nations. Following this defeat, the National Socialists introduced a motion demanding that President Hindenberg dissolve the Reichstag.

Scotland Hit by Heavy Snowstorm

London, Feb. 2 (AP)—Scotland and northern England were digging themselves out today from the heavy snowstorms which have raged through Saturday night and continued with diminished intensity in some latitudes yesterday.

Railways and roads were blocked at some points and there were at least two deaths resulting from accidents and exposure.

Dollar Plans New Chinese Ship Line

Shanghai, Feb. 2 (AP)—Proposals to the Nationalist government from Robert Dollar, American shipping magnate, whereby the government would grant the Dollar Steamship Co. a concession to operate a fleet within Chinese coastal waters were made public today by the ministry of communications.

Hudson Man, Rough Rider of 1898, Dead

Hudson, Feb. 2 (AP)—Charles A. Carson, 70, a member of Roosevelt's Rough Riders in 1898, died last night at his home here. Mr. Carson, a native of Austin Creek, Tex., had lived here 37 years. He was a blacksmith.

Propeller Gone, Flier Glides Down

Ottawa, Feb. 2 (AP)—When his airplane propeller dropped off near a cemetery yesterday, A. P. Le-Pointe, amateur flier, glided a mile to rockliffe aerodrome and landed unhurt. The propeller went through the roof of a barn.

Advertisement

BREAKS UP A COLD IN A JIFFY

Feel Like a New Person Almost Before You Know It

If you want quick relief from a cold, go back to first principles and use something you KNOW does the business—don't start "trying" a lot of fancy ideas or remedies. Even a "little" cold is too dangerous to take chances on.

Get HILL'S Cascara Quinine. A scientific formula made to do ONE THING WELL: TO KNOCK A COLD IN A JIFFY, not to cure a hundred different things.

Take two tablets now. Then follow directions on box. Drink lots of water, too—that's all. Soon those mean, aching pains in head and body begin to go; the cold breaks up; poisons leave your system. Almost before you know it you feel like a new person.

If it doesn't do that, your money back. Get a box now. You'll be surprised at the speed with which it works. Costs only a few cents.

HILL'S Cascara Quinine Compound

Stenographer Benefited

"For two years I suffered with irregularities, frequent headaches and general weakness. I tried various medicines but all to no avail. I read about your highly praised medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, gave it a trial and obtained wonderful results from it. I am a stenographer and bookkeeper and I have recommended the Vegetable Compound to other girls who work."—Stella T. Cullotsky, 2413 Delaware Street, Gary, Indiana.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co., Lynn, Mass.

Advertisement

For Coughs From Colds That Worry You

A Super Help

Creomulsion is made to give supreme help for coughs from colds that worry you. It combines seven helps in one—the best helps known to science. It is for quick relief, for safety.

But careful people, more and more, use it for every cough that starts. No one knows where a cough may lead. No one can tell which factor will do most. That depends on the type of cold.

Creomulsion costs $1.25—a little more than lesser helps. But it means the utmost help. And it costs you nothing if it fails to bring the quick relief you seek. Your druggist guarantees it. Use it for safety's sake.

CREOMULSION* for Difficult Coughs from Colds

Advertisement

"KLUTCH" HOLDS FALSE TEETH TIGHT

Klutch forms a comfort cushion; holds the plate so snug it can't rock, drop, chafe or "be played with."

You can eat and speak as well as you did with your own teeth. A 50c box gives three months of unbelievable comfort. At all druggists—Adv.

ITCHING PILES

PAZO OINTMENT quickly relieves itching piles. Druggists recommend it for all forms of piles and guarantee to refund money if it fails. All druggists have it in tubes with pile pipe for instant use or in box 60c.

GUARANTEED

Sour Stomach sweetened at once with Pepsinic Seltzer AT DRUGGISTS

Write Wrigley Mgr. for Free Sample

INDIA REBELS SEEK TO FREE PRISONERS

Allahabad, India, Feb. 2 (AP)—India's restless millions were summoned to action anew today by the working committee of the All-India National Congress, which ordered that there be no letup in the campaign of civil disobedience.

Simultaneously a demand was made for the release of thousands of political prisoners.

The order was contained in a resolution passed several days ago by the working committee after the release of the members, including Mahatma Gandhi, from prison, but made public only now when it appeared that Nationalist activities were being allowed to halt.

METHODISTS HIT DRY REPORT

Washington, Feb. 2 (AP)—The Methodist Board of Temperance today made public a statement of several thousand words, praising much of the Wickersham Commission's prohibition report, but terming its divided recommendation for revision of the Eighteenth Amendment a "vague suggestion."

It added:

"We believe the people of the United States will insist that there be satisfactory enforcement before there shall be a repeal or revision of the Eighteenth Amendment. The very purpose of putting the Eighteenth Amendment in the Constitution was to secure eventually an accepted policy, and this will doubtless result in due time from the present legislation."

The Methodist Board also suggested that the commission's recommendation for removal of present restrictions on medicinal liquor prescriptions "not be too hastily approved.

The statement said "it will not do to say that physicians will not abuse such a privilege," adding that "some of them will."

BANDIT CHIEF'S AIDE EXECUTED

Buenos Aires, Feb. 2 (AP)—Summary justice was dealt today to Paulino Scarfo, lieutenant of the Argentina's executed gangster king and confessed co-author of the bomb attempt against the branch of the First National Bank of Boston in 1927.

Scarfo, who yesterday called out "Viva la Amarquia" as the shots ending the life of his chief, Severino di Giovanni, rang out, was put before a firing squad today.

Scarfo, one of Buenos Aires' leading Apachists, was arrested Friday after a raid on his apartment in which a policeman and two gangsters were killed. He was tried immediately for murder and sentenced to execution.

His chief, Di Giovanni, was arrested yesterday after a street fight in which a 13-year-old girl was killed. Their activities were similar to gangster activities in the United States.

Woman, Who Killed Two, Fights "Chair"

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 2 (INS)—The New Jersey court of errors and appeals today will determine the fate of Mrs. Hattie Evans, sentenced to die in the electric chair at Trenton with Private Lester Underdown, marine. They were convicted of the murder of her husband, Robert Evans, a former sailor, and his shipmate, Albert Duffy. If Mrs. Evans is put to death she will be the first woman to die in the chair in New Jersey.

Many Songs

MRS. MARGARET MILLEA HENRY, membership chairman of the Professional Women's Club of Boston, will offer a program of songs with her daughter at the meeting of the Malden Republican Women's Club tonight.

LETTERS FROM AMERICAN READERS

Letters from readers on current subjects are welcomed. Letters should not exceed 250 words in length, should be written on one side of the paper, and must bear the writer's name. Names will be omitted in publication, if requested. Address Editor, Boston American, 5 Winthrop sq.

Mr. Hearst Praised; Mellon Condemned

Editor Boston American:

To begin with, the Boston American has shown itself to be fearless, and on the side of the veteran, and is to be commended on its good work, both by its paper and by its owner, William Randolph Hearst who has shown himself on numerous occasions, a 100 per cent American citizen. No better honor could be given him. To the contrary, we have another, who I feel can not be classified in the same class, namely, Millionaire Andy Mellon, head of the Aluminum Trust and shareholder in considerable monopolies.

Mr. Mellon, I wonder, and pause to reflect, can you roll back a few years, and answer these questions?

Did you oppose the giving of adjustments to war contractors?

Did you oppose the giving of money to finance and rehabilitate the railroads?

Did you oppose the giving of money to the so called "bonus" to civilian federal employes?

Did you oppose the giving of millions to the Kerenski form of government in Russia?

Why no, dear old Andy, your voice was not heard. But! I remember Andy, when bonuses for veterans came up after the war, oh, yes, you told the country that old Uncle Sam would go into bankruptcy if the bonus was granted. Well, Andy, you were wrong as usual, as the bonus was granted, and the country enjoyed unprecedented prosperity, and the treasury had the largest surplus it had ever known.

I would suggest that at least you had ought to get acquainted with your treasury department and know its affairs or go to the Anti-Saloon League a little more often than you do.

Veterans, the next war is started. Let us all help the cash bonus, by putting our shoulders to the wheel. Write to your Congressman and Senator.

J. F. RYAN.

Bonus Is Just Debt and Should Be Paid, He Believes

Editor Boston American:

As a veteran, I wish to thank you for your editorials in favor of the payment of the adjusted compensation by the government at this time.

This is a just debt and an obligation which should be met fully, but I believe that it should be made quite clear to the public and especially to the Congress of the United States that what justice demands is the payment of the full face value of the certificates.

The veteran should not be robbed of a great portion of this money by receiving a small part in payment on which an interest will be charged that would entirely consume the balance.

Since the American Legion has decided it is in favor of the payment now, it should fully, truthfully and justly represent the greater part of its membership by declaring in favor of payment in full.

All veterans should notify their representatives in Congress that unless they favor this measure as stated, we will not again support them with our votes.

I. SULZBACH.

U. S. Navy Retired.

Butler Not Only Holder of Two Medals of Honor

Editor Boston American:

On reading your paper on the date of the 29th, I noticed an article concerning General Butler as being the only man in the United States having been awarded two "Congressional Medals of Honor."

I beg to differ this statement. If you look up the record of Mr. Patrick Deary, now lying at the Newport Naval Hospital, at Newport, R. I., you will find that this gentleman has been awarded two "Congressional Medals of Honor" long before Mr. Smedley Butler ever received his.

PATRICK JAMES McSHARA.

Newport, R. I.

Some Questions About Red Cross Work

Editor Boston American:

I suppose a citizen is not expected to ask embarrassing questions, more particularly in relation to semi-official or official organizations.

The Nation (publication) reported last July that the Red Cross had available for emergency work $38,000,000. Five million of this was supposed to be set aside for drought relief. According to a recent number of Time, the aged secretary of the Red Cross is now calling for more funds, and has reached the bottom of the barrel. What is everybody's business seems to be nobodies' business. The point is—how has $38,000,000- been spent?

If unemployment is so prevalent in all the states how is it possible for the Red Cross to raise $10,000,000 from people who haven't got it? According to the Record 21 states are now calling for relief and this aged gentleman (Mr. Payne) has entire charge of this vast undertaking. The Red Cross makes a fine point of difference between "Act of God" and man-made acts, therefore if overproduction is the cause of an economic crisis to the point of starvation and distress, the Red Cross is not willing to help, at least thus would seem to be the sense of a part of the report to the Senate committee.

It doesn't seem to me that even 57 magic names on the Red Cross is going to change the truth any. Has the Red Cross fallen down on the job as Senator Caraway says, or is the work of the Red Cross all that may be desired? If so, why Senate economies inquiry? ALFRED M. GREEN.

Rebuilt Vermont Railway Opened Up

South Londonderry, Vt., Feb. 2 (AP)—The West River Railroad, inactive since November, 1927, when flood waters washed away the bed of its single track, renewed operations today. The line runs between here and Brattleboro. The line from here to Newfane was rebuilt.

WOMEN'S 95c RUBBERS ON SALE AT

3600 Pairs

Storm Low Cut and Strap Styles

19¢

Sizes 2½ to 7

High or Low Heels

Women's $2 Cloth or Rubber Overshoes.. 88c

NEVER BEFORE AND PROBABLY NEVER AGAIN AT THIS LOW PRICE!

CRYSTAL'S 610 Washington St. Next to Keith Boston Theatre

Strength! There Are NO WEAK LINKS in Our Chain

BUDGET Payment PLAN for AUTOMOBILE INSURANCE

PLEASURE CARS — BUSSES — MOTORCYCLES TRUCKS — TAXIES

REGISTRATION:

Certificate and policy will be issued upon cash payment in even dollars of approximately one fifth of the annual premium, plus the interest and service charge. The balance of the premium may be paid in six or less installments.

THE LOWEST CHARGES IN MASSACHUSETTS

The following are the interest and service charges to be added to the initial cash payment of one fifth of the annual premium:

$1.50 for interest and charges for premium of $75.00 or less.
2.50 " " " " " " between $ 75.00—$100.00
3.50 " " " " " " 100.00— 150.00

CASH DIVIDEND CHECKS PAID 12½%

To Last Year's Policy Holders

Thos. Black Ins. Agency, Inc.

40 Broad Street, Boston, Mass.

Telephone Hubbard 7869-8720

GILCHRIST'S BARGAIN BASEMENT

88¢ DAY

Tuesday at 9 a. m.—Be sure to come early!

Irish Point or Point Venise Panels 40 inches wide, double thread nets. White and Beige. All with heavy designs. 88c each

Cottage Sets or Curtain Sets Dainty new 5-pc. curtain sets or 6-pc. cottage sets in fine scrims and voiles. 2 for 88c

Hundreds of Pairs Pure Silk Stockings Including 300 Prs. Full Fashioned Silk Stockings

Some silk to the top. Some with lisle tops and lisle feet. Also all silk, sheer stockings and pure silk with lisle tops, toes and heels. Irregulars. Some nets. 2 Prs. 88c

Boys' and Girls' Union Suits Random or white. Long or short sleeves; ankle or trunk leg. Sizes 2 to 12. 2 for 88c

Cotton Lingerie Regular and extra size gowns, slips. Also sample pile gowns, pajamas, slips and bloomers in the group. 2 for 88c

Silk Lingerie Chemises, Dance Sets and Panties in dainty pastel colors. Fine quality crepe de chine, lace trimmed. 88c

Women's Kid Gloves With novelty cuffs. An exceptional bargain. Be here early. 88c

Women's Fabric Gloves Slipon style or novelty cuffs. New shades. 2 for 88c

Women's Umbrellas Cotton umbrellas, in red, green, navy, black and purple. Odd lots. 88c

Sturdy End Tables Walnut color with fine finish. A very handy table for home. 88c

Sample Jewelry Earrings, bracelets and necklaces in new spring styles. 3 for 88c

18x36 Towels Heavy double thread absorbent towels. All firsts. 8 for 88c

Bed Sheets 72x90, 81x90 first quality, full bleached. Torn and hemmed sizes. 2 for 88c

Men's Shirts Seconds: Cotton broadcloth. Cut full. Collar attached. 2 for 88c

High Lustre Rayon Print Dresses 88c

Women's—Misses'—Juniors'

Rayon and cotton prints smartly trimmed. Some with silk trimmings. All long sleeves. Also seconds of rayon cotton crepes in bright color prints and plain combinations for juniors.

Blouses, Skirts, Sweaters 88c

BLOUSES: Long sleeves, assorted colors. New prints, seconds of peasant blouses.
SKIRTS: Silks, velvets, flannels and mixtures. Seconds and samples.
SWEATERS: Coat style, utility coats, rayon and wool or wool zephyrs.

Little Girls' Winter Coats 88c

Many bright colors for the little miss. Many fur trimmed, mixtures or plain colors. Sizes 2 to 6.

Girls' Wash Dresses Some gay and colorful figured print dresses. Sizes 7 to 14. 2 for 88c

Girls' Party Dresses Dainty pastel rayon and cotton. Sizes 7 to 14. 88c

Girls' Blouses Plain cotton broadcloth or dainty prints and polka dots. Sizes 8 to 14. 2 for 88c

Girls' Sweaters All wool slip over sweaters in plain colors. Contrasting stripes. Sizes 8 to 14 years. 88c

Seconds, Samples, Retail Stocks Women's and Children's Novelty Shoes 88c

Even Some Famous Brands in Lot

Women's novelty shoes in oxfords, ties and pumps. Patent leather, satin, velvet and suede. Sizes 3 to 7 in the lot.

Children's tan or black leather boots or oxfords. Composition leather soles. Sizes 6 to, 2 in the lot. All well made.

Boys' Blouses or Shirts 2 for 88c

Full cut cotton broadcloths, fancy patterns. Blouses sizes 8 to 15 years. Shirts sizes 12 to 14.

Boys' Knickers Smart mixtures, for dress of school. Full cut. Sizes 8 to 16 years. 2 for 88c

Infants' Warm Winter Coats 88c

Pastel colors, attractive baby models. Warmly lined. Sizes 1 to 3 in the lot.

2 for 88c

Silk lined silk bonnets
Fine nainsook dresses
Broadcloth (cotton) creepers
Pongee and rayon dresses
18x30 pads

Shirts—Bands Gowns—Binders 4 for 88c

Leatherette (fabric) Raincoats 88c Guaranteed rainproof black raincoats. All around belt. 2 pockets. Sizes 16 to 40 in lot.

Men's Pants 88c Desirable mixtures, well made, for work or dress. Sizes 29 to 42.

Men's Sox, 5 pairs 88c

New Straw Hats 88c All straw, straw combined with ribbon. Turbans and others.

French Berets 2 for 88c

Women's Outsize Vests 4 for 88c Fine jersey ribbed cotton, fancy yokes. Sizes 40 to 44.

Children's Vests Fine jersey ribbed cotton. Full cut. Sizes 4 to 16 years. 8 for 88c

Warm Plaid Blankets 88c Wool and cotton, large size (68x80). For double bed. Triple stitched cotton sateen binding. 9 shades.

Warm Blankets Either plaid or plain colors. Whipped edges. Full bed size. 2 for 88c

Bandeaux and Garter Belts Rayon strips or brocaded materials. Exceptional bargain. 4 for 88c

NO MAIL OR TELEPHONE ORDERS

INA CLAIRE EXPECTED TO GET "REBOUND" ROLE ANN HARDING REFUSED

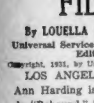
PATHE WILL PRODUCE FILM

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
Universal Service Motion Picture Editor

Copyright, 1931, by Universal Service, Inc.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 2—Ann Harding is not going to do "Rebound." She announced emphatically a few weeks ago that unless the story was just what she wanted she would not play the part. Another little story is that E. H. Griffith, who did such an excellent piece of work directing her in "Holiday," and Miss Harding do not agree on many points of production.

Pathe is, at the moment, negotiating with Ina Claire to come to Hollywood and play the same role in "Rebound" that she played on the Los Angeles stage. In fact, the contract is all but signed. Miss Claire is under contract to Paramount for two pictures, but since her next one does not start until July there is every reason to believe that Mrs. John Gilbert will be in our midst before long. Well, I can say if Ina does as well in the screen version of "Rebound" as she did in "The Royal Family of Broadway," Pathe can consider themselves lucky to get her.



Louella O. Parsons

* * *

LOOKS TO ME kind of suspicious like. Gloria Swanson has been lunching for the last two days with Pat Casey, well-known vaudeville booker, and she and Mr. Casey have appeared mighty interested in each other. Looks as if Gloria was at last going to listen to some of the staggering offers made her to appear in vaudeville. She could go on with an act or she could sing and if you don't think she would draw in the theaters and bring in the shekels not only to the R. K. O. circuit but to her own self, you don't know your public. The R. K. O. circuit which used to be the Orpheum has sent out others of our film stars and they have all done well for themselves, but Gloria who will be new to the stage should be a sensation. I look any day to see a definite announcement from R. K. O. announcing that they have signed her.

* * *

SNAPSHOTS OF Hollywood collected at random: CONSTANCE BENNETT'S car stopping midway in traffic to the CHARLIE CHAPLIN opening. CONNIE, resplendent in jewels and a Paris evening frock, getting out and offering to push her car. THE DUKE of SUTHERLAND in MARION DAVIES' party, saying he had never seen anything to compare with the CHAPLIN opening. Neither have any of the rest of us. VIRGINIA CHERRILL wearing orchids, being congratulated on her work by her friends. CHARLIE in his speech made after the picture, saying he could have made a better picture if he had had more time. CONRAD NAGEL speaking of CHARLIE as the screen's greatest artist. HENRY BERGMAN, CHARLIE'S best pal and severest critic, beaming on the many who applauded the CHAPLIN picture. JOSEPH SCHENCK being greeted by his many friends on his first appearance in Los Angeles since his trip to New York. That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Film at Scollay

"Illicit" is the feature picture attraction at the Scollay in addition to seven acts of high standard vaudeville.

Movie Clock

Feature photoplays in the picture theaters and their starting times today are as follows:

METROPOLITAN—"Scandal Sheet"; a. m., 11:33; p. m., 1:33, 4:13, 6:38, 7:56, 10:18.

BEACON AND MODERN—"Follow the Leader"; a. m., 9:10, 11:38; p. m., 2:06, 4:39, 7:05, 9:30.

FENWAY—"Ex-Flame"; p. m., 1:45, 3:55, 6:55, 7:51, 9:55.

RKO KEITH—"Little Caesar"; a. m., 10:20; p. m., 12:38, 2:56, 5:14, 7:32, 9:50.

WASHINGTON ST. OLYMPIA—"Fighting Caravans"; a. m., 10:40; p. m., 12:30, 2:45, 5:00, 7:30, 9:40.

SCOLLAY—"Illicit"; a. m., 11:38; p. m., 3:36, 6:16, 9:38.

ORPHEUM—"One Heavenly Night"; a. m., 9:15; p. m., 12:15, 3:30, 6:30, 9:45.

RKO KEITH-BOSTON—"The Royal Bed"; a. m., 10:15; p. m., 1:07, 4:18, 7:36, 10:37.

UPTOWN—"Fighting Caravans"; p. m., 12:53, 3:02, 5:11, 7:30, 9:49.

PARK—"The Chiselers of Hollywood"; a. m., 10:28; p. m., 1:17, 4:07, 6:59, 9:47.

BOWDOIN—"Paid"; a. m., 9:50; p. m., 1:05, 5:10, 9:16.

STATE—"New Moon"; p. m., 1:10, 2:20, 3:30, 7:40, 9:59.

In Smashing Musical Hit

LEONARD CEELEY

NINA ROSA is drawing big at the Majestic and here is a sketch Staff Artist Charles Schmidt made of Leonard Ceeley, one of the principals.

LOWELL SHERMAN AT BEST IN "THE ROYAL BED"

By HARLEIGH SCHULTZ

GOOD ENTERTAINMENT on stage and on screen, is the cue to enjoyment at the RKO Keith Boston this week. The film is based on Robert Sherwood's stage play, "The Queen's Husband," for some reason or other now titled "The Royal Bed." It is very amusing, thanks to the acting pace set by Lowell Sherman and Nance O'Neil.

* * *

IN RECENT MONTHS Mr. Sherman has been doing the two-fold job of actor-director. His latter to he has not met with success on the directorial end; but the current picture sees a turn of the tide in his favor. He is still better actor than director; yet he is making progress on the other side. The spirit of satire is excellently brought out, and his characterization of the king in the piece is superfine. His Henpecked Majesty, as portrayed by Mr. Sherman, is a histrionic treat. Similarly, that great old-timer of the stage, Miss O'Neil, is stellar as the queen. In lesser roles Gilbert Emery, Anthony Bushell, Mary Astor and Hugh Trevor are satisfactory.

* * *

FOOTLIGHT TALENT falls by inheritance to Charlie Foy, headliner in the RKO bill. He and folk whom he calls his cousins appear in an act he calls "Upside Down and Backwards"; it's a corker. Other good acts are offered by Zelda Santley, Wilson, Keppel and Betty, Doris Girton Company, and Senna and Dean.

Lowell Sherman

Amusements

TREMONT $1.50 MAT. WED. EVES. at 8:30
LAST 3 TIMES
DAVID BELASCO Presents
"IT'S A WISE CHILD"
ORIGINAL N. Y. CAST AND PRODUCTION
ALL EVES. 50c to $2.50 WED. MAT. $1.50

BOSTON OPERA HOUSE
Chicago Civic Opera Company
LAST WEEK
Tonight at 8, "Tristan-Isolde"
Tomorrow at 8, AIDA
Tickets at Box Office—$2 to $7

RKO Keith BOSTON
RKO Vaudeville
CHARLIE FOY and His Unruly Children
Zelda Santley
Senna & Dean
Doris Girton Co.
Wilson, Keppel & Betty
On Screen
"THE ROYAL BED"
Keith's Comedy Hit
Lowell Sherman
Mary Astor
Cont. 9:30 A. M.
25c Until 1 P. M.

COPLEY Evs. 8:30—Mats. Tues., Thurs. & Sat. 2:30
Mat. Orchestra Seats $1.50
"JONESY" HILARIOUS COMEDY
Next Mon., "See Naples and Die"

WALDRON'S CASINO
KELLY
KURLY "Melody Girls" Burlesque

BOWDOIN 7 Vaudeville Acts In Person
JOAN CRAWFORD in "PAID," with Robert Armstrong
"Cohen and Kelly in Africa," with Sidney—Ra. Con. Thurs.—"Princess and Plumber"—"Mother's Cry"

REPERTORY THEATRE
Now Playing
Cyrano De Bergerac
Ev. Gen. Pinchot in "South Seas"

Amusements

2nd BIG WEEK!

Are the Big Boys Tottering? How Much Longer Can They Get Away With It?
"LITTLE CAESAR"
with EDW. G. ROBINSON DOUG. FAIRBANKS Jr.
FIRST NATIONAL
Next Thurs. at 11:00 P.M. New England Premiere of the Greatest of All Films
"CIMARRON"
Radio Picture' Masterpiece with RICHARD DIX IRENE DUNN ESTELLE TAYLOR
Seats Reserved—Now on Sale—Bal. 2700
RKO KEITH'S
PARK—GET SOME NEW THRILLS
In a Peppy Story of Moreland
Chiselers of Hollywood with PHYLLIS BARRINGTON
Second "SEA DEVILS"
Feature

BOSTON'S THEATRES AND HITS
Direction Lee & J. J. Shubert. Tel. HAN. 4520
WILBUR—OPENING TOMORROW NIGHT
MARY NASH In One of the Greatest Roles in Her Brilliant Career
"BARBARA"
Evs. 50c to $2.50. Wed. Mat. 50c
MAJESTIC POP. MAT. WED.
The SMASHING MUSICAL HIT
NINA ROSA
BY HARBACH ~ ROMBERG ~ CAESAR, with GUY ROBERTSON
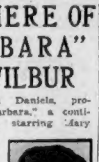
ARMIDA - MARGARET CARLISLE - LEONARD CEELEY
PLYMOUTH—EVES. AT 8:30
The Professional Players present
FRANK MORGAN
In the International Comedy Hit
"TOPAZE"
With Catherine Willard and Clarence Derwent
LYRIC—Now—Last Week
DRACULA
Sensational Vampire Thriller
Eight 50c to $2.00. Mats. 50c, $1.00, $1.50
SHUBERT—Evs. 8:30—Last Week
MESSES. SHUBERT COMIC OPERETTA
JOHANN STRAUSS'
A WONDERFUL NIGHT
350 PEOPLE—GREAT REVOLVING STAGE
All Evs. 50c to $3. Wed. & Sat. Mats. 50c to $2

PREMIERE OF "BARBARA" AT WILBUR

Cooper and Daniels, producers of "Barbara," a continental drama, starring Mary Nash, which in its English version, will have its world premiers tomorrow evening at the Wilbur, were searching for more than a type for the part of the male artist's model in this play of studio life. No one, available and familiar to Broadway quite seemed to fill the bill until someone suggested that there was a new arrival from Hollywood who aspired to give the East a sample of the technique which he had so successfully used in playing in legitimate attractions on the Coast.



Donald Douglas

Personality plus talent and the right appearance were what the role in Barbara demanded and the aspiring Donald Douglas turned his aspirations into a reality when chosen by the producers, who thought he measured exactly their ideas.

Park Has "Chiselers of Hollywood" on Program

The first feature of the triple program at the Park is "Chiselers of Hollywood," from Ida May Park's absorbing tale. Beautiful Phyllis Barrington gives one of the good performances of the year as Roxanne King, the "chiseling cutie." Edmund Breese is outstanding as a Miles Gaynor. Other notable players are: Donald Reed, Sheila Manners. The second feature is "Sea Devils," in which two-fisted men battle pirates.

Phyllis Barrington

WORLD NEWS IN NEWSREELS AT LOEW'S

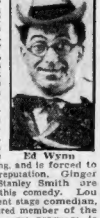
Additional glimpses of world events are brought to the patrons of Loew's State and Orpheum this week by Hearst Metrotone News. The highlight at the State is the series of exclusive pictures taken of the round table conference held at St. James' Palace, London, in which Great Britain, through Premier MacDonald, pledges India home rule. This epochal event in British history was secured by Hearst Metrotone News through special permission granted by the King.

Other subjects include: wild scenes of Jim Londos defeating Jim McMillan in an exciting mat bout; Germany's prettiest girl who will compete with international beauties in the United States.

The Orpheum lineup is featured by the presentation of "Al" Smith and other noted statesmen giving their opinions of the Wickersham report, and includes Uncle Sam's dreadnoughts in target practice, scenes of the recent earthquake in Mexico.

ED WYNN STAR ON 2 SCREENS

Ed Wynn is seen in his first talking picture, "Follow the Leader," at the Publix Beacon and Modern. It is a ripping farce comedy, in which Wynn himself won new fame on Broadway. In this story of gangdom, Wynn, with his floppy hat and oversize shoes, is seen as the cheery chef of gangdom's favorite restaurant. Inadvertently he becomes a hero in the eyes of the gang, and is forced to sustain his reputation. Ginger Rogers and Stanley Smith are delightful in this comedy. Lou Holtz, prominent stage comedian, is also a featured member of the cast. On the same program is Bob Steele, starring in "Oklahoma Cyclone," with Nita Roy, a Mexican beauty.



Ed Wynn

Amusements

Paramount-Publix THEATRES

FOLLOW THE CROWDS!
THEY GO WILD OVER HIM!
THE WHOLE TOWN'S TALKING ABOUT HIM!
THEY ACTUALLY CHEER!
BENNY MEROFF
"HE'S GOT RHYTHM"
He Plays, He Sings, He Dances!
He Talks, He Clowns, He Juggles!
A ONE MAN SHOW IN HIMSELF
METROPOLITAN BOSTON'S New Sensation!
BENNY MEROFF
A Whole Show Himself!
—On the Screen—
KAY FRANCIS
CLIVE BROOK
GEORGE BANCROFT in "Scandal Sheet"
—On the Stage—
"DRAG IN THE DRAGON" Unusual Publix Revue
SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA
Geissler Conducting
MARTEL and NEWCOMBE
At the Duel Consols

NOW!
Has Your Hubby an Ex-Flame Whom He Loves More Than You?
'EX-FLAME' with Marion Nixon
Neil Hamilton
Norman Kerry
FENWAY MASS. AVE. KEN. 1716

SCOLLAY SQ.
BIGGEST SHOW VALUE IN TOWN!
NOW!
Stolen Sweets Must Be Paid For!
SEE!
BARBARA STANWYCK IN "ILLICIT"
NEW STAGE SHOW
"PALM BEACH NIGHTS"
25—People—Mostly Girls—25
Three Glamorous Scenes
LANDER BROTHERS
Making Whoopee and Big Joy Week!
BUDDY WALKER
CHAMPION SKYROCKETER
THE EVERGLADES BEAUTIES
16—Peach's Loveliest Girls—16
MORE Grand Acts TOO

OLYMPIA UPTOWN
WASH. ST. HUNT. AVE.
FIGHTING MEN AND THE WOMEN THEY LOVE!
In Zane Grey's
"FIGHTING CARAVANS"
GARY COOPER—LILI DAMITA
ERNEST TORRENCE—TULLY MARSHALL

WASH. ST. MODERN BEACON TEMPL ST.
ED WYNN "Follow the Leader"
STANLEY SMITH—GINGER ROGERS
BOB STEELE, Oklahoma Cyclone

On Keith Screen Friday

RICHARD DIX AND IRENE DUNNE

"CIMARRON" will have its premiere at a midnight show at RKO Keith's Thursday. Richard Dix and Irene Dunne are shown in a scene from this epic film of old Oklahoma days.

"Ex-Flame" Tops Fenway Features

The Fenway this week has old fashioned melodrama for its feature. The photoplay is "Ex-Flame," in which a bride, because of her jealousy of her husband's attentions to an ex-flame of his, leaves his home and is in turn found in a compromising situation. There follows the life of the heart-broken young mother, who, forced to give up her child so that he may not be smudged by her scandal, throws herself into the gay life of two continents to forget. Neil Hamilton, Marian Nixon, Norman Kerry and Judith Barrie head the cast.

Amusements

LOEWS STATE
Mon. Eve. at Normal St.
LAWRENCE TIBBETT
GRACE MOORE in
"NEW MOON" with ADOLPHE MENJOU
Evenings: 2:30-5:30-8:30-11:30
Latest Pox Comedy, Mickey Mouse
Screen Hilarity Travelogue
LOEWS ORPHEUM
Washington St. and Hamilton Pl.
NOW PLAYING—UNITED ARTISTS'
"ONE HEAVENLY NIGHT"
EVELYN LAYE, JOHN BOLES
Evenings 8:15-10:30-12:50
Chorus Girls Complete Revue
Loew's Greater Vaudeville

"Cimarron" to Follow "Caesar" at RKO Keith's

"Little Caesar" has brought to a close one of the biggest box office weeks of RKO Keith's and bids fair to continue breaking records right through the second and final week of its engagement at that house.

The Keith management announces that the much heralded "Cimarron," starring Richard Dix, will follow "Little Caesar."

Amusements

THE OLD HOWARD
Boston's Leading Mutual Burlesque Theatre. Always Something Doing! Till 11
The Only Traveling Burlesque Show in Boston
Flappers Everybody loves a flapper, and she represents the present! Jazz is on and doing every minute. When we vapor that the "FLAPPER FOLLIES" is the sensational burlesque show at the Old Howard we've said something and a little more. Alice Duvall is a baby with plenty of pep and speed and is a simile as any doll in the game. None of the wise birds who fly will miss this burst of speed. Here's the show with a big reputation and that goes. Eddy Lloyd, the guy with the legs, and a bunch of gazelettes will romp to a win. Always something doing 1 till 11 at the Old Howard.
A MUTUAL ATTRACTION
ALICE DUVALL and FLAPPER FOLLIES Burlesque with EDDIE LLOYD and MODEL MAIDS
Artistic and amusing ALICE with her choice looks and nifty steps will furnish enough merriment for any live guy. Eddie Lloyd is the superior kid; and Gladys Hamlett, Nanette Bailey, "Tiny" Fuller and Gus Flaig and eleven chorus.
Howard Comedy Features.
WELLS, MORDANT and TAYLOR, Spectacular Colored Dancing Act
DONOVAN AND LEE—In "Doing Well, Thank You."
LENZEN-SELIG 4 CO.—European Novelty Artists
Also thrilling picture features. Always something doing 1 till 11 at the Old Howard.
Alice Duvall's Own Midnight Show Friday at 11:30 P. M.

HEIFETZ GIVES RECITAL AT SYMPHONY

By MOSES SMITH

Jascha Heifetz played the violin at Symphony Hall yesterday for an audience which was large despite operatic distractions, and which applauded valiantly on almost every occasion throughout the concert.

The program was made up mostly of music of a displayful kind; but how different from the hackneyed lists that used to do service for virtuoso violinists as recently as 10 years ago! Of the three major works only one, Bruch's "Scottish" Fantasy, came out of the "standard" violinist repertoire.

In this freshened program Heifetz fared as well as he has in the classical programs of the past. To hear him play the remarkable embroidery-texture of "The Lark" was to recognize the reason for his pre-eminence. Ravel's tour de force of gypsy music was played with extraordinary bravura. If it lacked, in the playing, the gypsy snap, a mere urbanite of this Hub of the universe could not notice it.

To the extent that these two wild compositions permitted it, and notably in the Bruch Fantasy, Heifetz dazzled the ear with a tone even more beautiful than in the past. He played with greater freedom, also with more of what the layman calls "warmth," though to us there was a disturbing note of sentimentality in parts of the program.

Bowdoin Square

At the Bowdoin Square is another fine picture and vaudeville program. Joan Crawford is the star of "Paid," vivid underworld drama. Another picture on same bill is "Cohens and Kelly in Africa."

Amusements

Today at Your Neighborhood Theatre

ALLSTON

PUBLIX ALLSTON ALLSTON STADIUM 4410 — HAROLD LLOYD in "FEET FIRST" LOWELL SHERMAN in "THE PAY OFF"

PUBLIX CAPITOL ASP 0225-0226 — JOAN CRAWFORD in "PAID" Richard Arlen-Stuart Erwin "ONLY SAPS WORK" Bargain Mat. Today

BRIGHTON

PUBLIX EGYPTIAN Stadium 6800 — "HELL'S ANGELS" BEN LYON-JEAN HARLOW Mat. 2—Eve. 8 Free Parking

CAMBRIDGE

PUBLIX CENTRAL SQ UNI 0872 — JOAN CRAWFORD in "PAID" Gar. Wheeler-Zeke Y. Woolsey "Hook, Line and Sinker"

HARVARD NO CAMBRIDGE — 'Sin Takes a Holiday' with Constance Bennett-Basil Rathbone JACK OAKIE in "SEA LEGS"

UNIVERSITY PORTER 4580 HARVARD 58 — "HELL'S ANGELS" Victor McLaglen in "A DEVIL WITH WOMEN"

CHARLESTOWN

REX HOLLYWOOD CHAS—300 — Helen Twelvetrees in "THE CAT CREEPS" BOB STEELE in "HEADING NORTH" CANNON LINEN RITE

THOMPSON SQUARE CHARLES — MAURICE CHEVALIER "Playboy of Paris" CHEVY WYNYARD "Sinner's Holiday"

DORCHESTER

PUBLIX CODMAN SQ DORCHESTER Tel. 4040 — 'Sin Takes a Holiday' with CONSTANCE BENNETT with VICTOR McLAGLEN

DORCHESTER THEATRE Tel. Comm 5700 — "TOL'ABLE DAVID" with Richard Cromwell 'A Soldier's Plaything' Tom'e Bits — Robert Ellis

PUBLIX FIELDS COR. TEL TAL 1200 — "WAR NURSE" with Robert Montgomery and Anita Page WILL ROGERS in "LIGHTNIN'"

DORCHESTER (Cont.)

PUBLIX NORTON — CONSTANCE BENNETT in 'Sin Takes a Holiday' Victor McLaglen in "Devil With Women"

PUBLIX STRAND UPHAM'S COR — JOAN CRAWFORD in "ONLY SAPS WORK" Leon Errol-Richard Arlen

EGLESTON SQ.

The EGLESTON Theatre at Eglesten Sq — 5th Anniversary "A Lady's Morals" Grace Moore-William Boyd JACK OAKIE in "SEA LEGS" Charlie Chase Comedy

HYDE PARK

EVERETT SQUARE NYA. 1224 — Charles Bickford-Kay Francis Kay Johnson-Louis Stone "PASSION FLOWER" Lila Lee-Harry Gribbon "THE GORILLA"

JAMAICA PLAIN

PUBLIX JAMAICA JAM 3290 — WALTER HUSTON in "ABRAHAM LINCOLN" "PART TIME WIFE" with EDMOND LOWE Free Parking

MALDEN

GRANADA MALDEN TEL. 0234 — JOAN CRAWFORD in "PAID" WHEELER-WOOLSEY in "HOOK, LINE AND SINKER" Starts Sat.—"WHOOPEE"

STRAND MALDEN Tel. MAL den 3711 — "HELL'S ANGELS" Also "LAUREL HARDY MURDER CASE"

MATTAPAN SQ.

PUBLIX ORIENTAL Mil. 1200 — JOAN CRAWFORD "PAID" Richard Arlen-Leon Errol "Only Saps Work"

REVERE

REVERE AND CRESCENT GARDENS — CONSTANCE BENNETT in 'Sin Takes a Holiday' with Kenneth Mathews "NIGHT WORK" with EDDIE QUILLAN

ROSLINDALE

PUBLIX RIALTO — D. W. GRIFFITH'S 'ABRAHAM LINCOLN' with WALTER HUSTON EDMUND LOWE in "PART TIME WIFE"

ROXBURY

Publix DUDLEY Hia 0041 — "WAR NURSE" Robt. Montgomery—Anita Page CHARLES FARRELL in "PRINCESS AND THE PLUMBER" with Maureen O'Sullivan

ROXBURY HUMBOLDT GAR. 9810 — MARILYN MILLER in "SUNNY" "RIVER'S END" with Charles Bickford Mon. Eve.—FREE LINEN TO LADIES

PUBLIX RIVOLI NEP. 0100 — JOAN CRAWFORD in "PAID" Richard Arlen "Only Saps Work"

SOMERVILLE

PUBLIX SHAWMUT Gar. 1370 — CONSTANCE BENNETT 'Sin Takes a Holiday' "JUST IMAGINE" EL BRENDEL Mon. Yacht Discovery Night

CAPITOL BROADWAY Som. 2700 — WILL ROGERS "LIGHTNIN'" GRACE MOORE in "A Lady's Morals"

SOUTH BOSTON

BROADWAY S BOSTON — MARILYN MILLER in "SUNNY" "MOTHER'S GRY" with Dorothy Peterson

SOUTH STRAND — CONSTANCE BENNETT 'Sin Takes a Holiday' Jackie Coogan-Mitzi Green "TOM SAWYER"

SOUTH END

NATIONAL THEATRE TREMONT ST — GLORIA SWANSON "WHAT A WIDOW" BILLIE DOVE "One Night at Susie's" Cabaret Bills-Big Stage Show

WALTHAM

PUBLIX EMBASSY WALTHAM Wal. 3840 — MARLENE DIETRICH in "MOROCCO" CHARLES FARRELL in "THE PRINCESS AND THE PLUMBER" Free Auto Park

News and Gossip of Society Circles in and About Greater Boston

Ball Tonight to Attract Many

Leaders Are on Committee for Boston Fire Department's Annual Social

THE ANNUAL BALL OF the Boston Fire Department takes place this evening at Mechanics Hall. The following, who are also on the board of directors for the Boston Fire Department Band, have arranged to be present: Mayor James M. Curley, Edward F. McLaughlin, Gordon Abbot, Jr., Russell Codman, Jr., Miss Louise Fessenden, Mrs. William Lowell Putnam, Herbert Hickey, Mrs. Gaspar Bacon, Mrs. Harold J. Coolidge, Mrs. William A. Gaston, Mr. Courtney Guild, Mr. N. Penrose Hallowell, Mr. Huntington R. Hardwick, Mr. Alexandgr Steinert, Mrs. Edward Thaw, Mr. Bentley Wirt Warren, Mr. E. Sohier Welch and Mr. Joseph W. Woods.

SEEN AT THE MAYFAIR the other evening were a group of debutantes and their escorts, among them popular Miss Kitty Burrage, Barbara Young, Nelson Aldrich, Anne Warren, Forrester Clark, Jr., Ellen deNormandie, George Clarke, Elizabeth Sawyer and her brother, Avery Sawyer, and another attractive "he" whom we did not recognize.

MRS. JOHN W. MYERS will entertain the committee of the Morning Musicales at an informal luncheon at her home, 138 Beacon st., on Wednesday, February 11, at 1 p. m.

A DINNER AND THEATER party in honor of Miss Elizabeth Sawyer, one of this year's attractive debs, will be given by Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Howard of Chestnut Hill Wednesday night.

MR. AND MRS. WILSON OLNEY, who formerly resided in Boston but who have lived on Long Island for a number of years, have returned to their native city and have taken a house on Cedar Lane Way, Beacon Hill.

Prominent at all Events Held at New Riding School

MISS RAND MISS RUSSELL MISS ALBERS MISS KEMPTON

MISS KATHERINE RAND, Olivia Russell, Betty Albers and Alison Kempton are a quartet of youthful equestriennes who may be seen at the New Riding Club on Hemenway st. frequently. They are all seasoned exhibitors at local horse shows.

Mrs. Guy Currier Entertains in Home at Supper Party

MRS. GUY CURRIER GAVE an informal supper party at her new home on Mt. Vernon st. Saturday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. George Metcalf (Polly Cabot). Mr. and Mrs. George Swinton Parker and their daughter, Miss Sally, Mr. and Mrs. George Foote, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Morison and daughter, Miss Nancy, Mr. William Mayo, Mr. Guy Currier, Jr., and his wife, Mrs. Currier, who were married in London a few months ago, and friends from Dublin and Peterboro were present and admired Mrs. Currier's most unusual house, which she has restored with priceless treasures brought from abroad, wrought iron doorways, which have been set into arches, and other valuable and unique objects from Italy. From the large reception room, which takes up the entire top floor, a magnificent panorama of the Charles river basin and surrounding country may be viewed. Mrs. Currier also has a villa in Italy, to which she will journey within a short time.

SPEAKING OF THE Charles river basin, the subject is very close to the hearts of residents of Beacon Hill and Back Bay and a recent supper and moving picture party was given at the Twentieth Century Club on Joy st. pertaining to this subject. Pictures were thrown on the screen of that portion of old Boston and the Charles river, taken 20 and 30 years ago, when Back Bay was a marsh, and the discussion which followed the slides was spirited and very interesting. Many prominent persons attended as well as a number of well known architects.

TWO GARDEN LECTURES by Mrs. John Carrol Perkins will be given at the Hotel Vendome, tomorrow and Wednesday, February 11. Tomorrow's lecture will accompany "Old Weimar Gardens" and the Wednesday subject will be Goethe's "Garten House," Tiefurt Belvedere, The Park and Schiller's Garden. The English "Cotswolds" will also be shown in colored slides.

Hostesses Chosen for English Speaking Union's Reception

AT THE MONTHLY RECEPTION and tea at the English Speaking Union on Commonwealth ave., Thursday, Feb. 12, Mrs. Quincy A. Shaw and Miss Evelyn Sturgis will be hostesses. Guests of honor will be announced later. On March 12 Mrs. Henry G. Lord and Mrs. Henry B. Chapin will receive and Mrs. Robert Grant and Mrs. Stephen Weld will greet the visitors on the 9th of April. This charming custom of welcoming English-speaking strangers to Boston is one of the many delightful features of the English Speaking Union.

MRS AUGUST BELMONT OF New York will speak before the Women's Republican Club on Wednesday, February 11, at the Copley-Plaza, on "Intimate Glimpses of George Bernard Shaw."

Betty Alden

Advertisement

Beautiful Women Love New Powder

Beautiful women admired for youthful complexions, use MELLO-GLO, the new wonderful French process face powder. Purest and smoothest powder known. Stays on longer. No flaky or pasty look. No grime or grit. MELLO-GLO prevents large pores and never smarts or feels dry. Blends naturally with any complexion. Demand Mello-glo.

Advertisement

Easy Way to Make Hands Soft and White

A dandy way to make dry, rough, red or work-stained hands soft, smooth and white is to rub into the hands, after each washing, a few drops of a mixture of sea moss and glycerin. Sea moss is a noted skin-whitener and softener, and glycerin a splendid balm. In combination, the two make a remarkable lotion. You can buy this lotion already prepared at any good drug store. It is called Nepto Lotion and costs only 50c a bottle.

Nepto Lotion makes dry, rough or red hands soft, supple and white. It makes "housework" hands look aristocratic. Nepto Lotion may be used on the face or any other part of the body with as great benefit as on the hands. Wherever it is used, it whitens, smoothes and refreshes. It also relieves and prevents chapping, chafing, sunburn and windburn. Rub a few drops into your skin before going out and it will protect your skin from the withering effects of sun and wind. Nepto Lotion is a naturally good thing for the skin and can do no harm whatever. Contains no grease to clog the pores and catch dirt. Rubs in dry and smooth so you can powder over it. Economical, too, as a little of this unique lotion goes a long way.

3 times in 8 weeks!

HOOD'S and Whiting's MILK again reduced

A & P announces still another reduction in the price of Milk

on December 8 we reduced milk to 12c per quart
on December 22 we reduced milk to 11c per quart
NOW the price is 10c

No change in quality—it is the same milk—the only change is in the price.

Another example of the way A & P shares with its customers, every favorable change in food prices.

NOW 10c QUART

No change in Quality—only in Price

Prices for Boston and Vicinity

A&P ESTABLISHED 1859

"WHERE ECONOMY RULES"

A&P FOOD STORES of New England

Open Wednesday until 9 P. M.

February a month of opportunity At PAINE'S

Clearance mark downs continue

During February you will find this store filled with opportunities to save. Greater reductions and more of them due to the immense variety and range of our stocks. Quality remains as high, service as complete, as always. Come and avail yourself of values like these:

Single Pieces
DINING & BEDROOM FURNITURE
Many one-of-a-kind and discontinued items easily worth double present prices

OCCASIONAL CHAIRS
The most extensive assortment in Boston sharply reduced

MAPLE SUNROOM GROUPS
Sofa and two comfortable armchairs covered in rust, green or variegated stripe homespun fabrics
3 Pieces Specially priced $195

PAINE CUSTOM MATTRESS
All hair filled
Twin Size $25.20
Full size: $32.40 Handmade Springs Twin Size: $25.20
Full size: $28.80

WOOL AND FIBRE RUGS
Below Cost
9x12 were $23.50. 8.3x10.6 were $22.50, NOW $9.75

UPHOLSTERY GOODS SAVINGS
A profitable time to take care of re-covering shabby chairs and sofas. Damasks, brocades, linen friezes, tapestries, velours, all 50 inches wide, that were $8.50 to $10, NOW $5

STICK REED PIECES
Also willow, cane and metal items—Paine styled Marked for quick disposal

PAINE FURNITURE CO.
81 Arlington St.

INTERNATIONAL BOUTS TONIGHT

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN SPORTS

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1931

FANNING with GEORGE UNDERWOOD

UNCLE SAM STILL REARING REAL MID-DISTANCERS

WHEN RUSSELL CHAPMAN uncorked that lion-hearted, cannon-ball jump on the bell lap of the Bishop Chevrus 1000 at the Prout Memorial games, cutting down a 10-yard lead on Phil Edwards and opening up an eight-yard gap on the sensational British Guiana Negro before breasting the worsted, he served notice on Paul Keller and Sera Martin, the Flying Frenchmen, who arrive in New York tomorrow on an American track invasion, that Uncle Sam boasts just as good a middle-distancer as he did in the days of Peerless Mel Sheppard and Ted Meredith.

Give the Bates collegian and wearer of the Winged Unicorn another year of campaigning and he is likely to fling his feet in the face of a following field in the 800-meter event at next year's Olympics and regain for Uncle Sam his lost middle distance laurels.

Chapman is the "sweetest" middle distancer your Uncle George has seen come tearing down at the tape in a quarter century's looking 'em over from the inside and outside. Any fellow who can spot Phil Edwards a ten-yard lead with a lap to go, and outrun him 18 yards, is a cross between a winged Mercury and a Kansas jackrabbit in a hellova hurry.

But Russ, my lad, let an old Olympian and campaigner give you a little tip. Don't, we beg of you, let any good runner get quite so far away from you. Keep him more in striking distance. If you don't one of these days in some big race, maybe in the great Olympics when you would tear your heart out to bring the Old Glory shield home in front, you'll collide with someone who, no matter how wonderful a finishing burn you uncork, will NOT come back to you.

Besides, Russ, that way you have of making all your races in the stretch is bad for fans with weak hearts.

Have a little feelin' for the fans, Russ, will yuh?

POLTHOGUES TO FILL THE AIR

NOT SINCE CUCHULAIN, champion of Ireland, met Laitry of the Victories and Laigh of the Long Arm at the Ford of Athlone, long long before the year of the Big Wind was the air as full of healthy, manhized polthogues as it will be in the Garden, tonight, when the famous pure Yenzie of the Bay State tries gloves with the dazzling gymnasts of the Ould Country, Norway and Belgium in "Father Bill" Cuddy's big international amateur bockfest.

When Henry Surette, the Leominster wheelwright, squares off against Dr. Pat Flanagan, who tosses five-ounce mittens with all the abandon he tossed the 16 pound hammer at the last Olympics, women and children take to the cyclone cellar and strong men stand clear of the ropes!

Wouldn't it be awful, Agnes, if the Belgian, Frans van der Auwaerer, or the Norwegian, Knud Pedersen, threw a monkey wrench into the works and bent our Henry Surette and Dick Madden and Mister Flanagan of Ireland.

WHILE WE'RE harping on the gentle art of scrambling eggs, Mayor Curley better be prepared to call the cops and ring for the ambulances when King Levinsky and Jack Gagnon start tangling up in the Garden next Friday night. This ex-fish peddler from the South Mich has been knocking 'em all bowlegged. Still green and unseasoned he was good enough to beat Jimmy Slattery and hold Tommy Loughran to the closest of fights.

"He's the toughest bird I ever met," says Loughran. "He hit me one belt in the chest that knocked me the whole length of the ring and left a black and blue mark for a week. With a little more experience, this Chicago Jewish boy is likely to lick 'em all."

RABBIT BALL BEFORE BAR

IT REMAINS to be seen what the moguls of the American League, when they meet in their annual February pow-wow in New York, tomorrow, will do regarding the "rabbit ball." In December, the National League registered a vote of "no confidence" in the ball now in use. With Stoneham and McGraw heading the attack, the magnates registered 5 to 3 against the "rabbit ball."

Julian Curtis of the Spalding Company told the magnates then it was possible to give the ball a thicker cover so the pitchers could get a better grip and thus militate against an excessive home run crop. Curtis was told to go ahead and have some new balls ready for examination at the February confab.

Our personal opinion is that as long as Babe Ruth is in the American League and the American League retains the present ball, the National League, despite talk of coming to the rescue of the pitchers, will continue to use the same old home run ball.

HARVARD WILL MEET YALE ON TRACK

By BILL CONNELL

Harvard and Yale relay teams will battle over the one mile path in the B. A. A. track games at the Boston Arena, Feb. 14, it was announced this morning by William F. Garceau, chairman of the athletic committee of the B. A. A.

The matching of the traditional rivals gives the Unicorn gamers a Harvard-Yale mile relay race for the second successive year. Last year was the first time that Harvard and Yale battled at the mile route for many seasons.

The race for the first three legs was one of the best of the night, and only a spill that threw Capt. Charley Engle of Yale to the track spoiled one of the best team brushes of the meeting.

A new mile team has been formed at Yale, not a single one of the 1930 quartet being left for this season's work. George Connors of Yale has stated his four athletes are very fast and can give the great Harvard quartet a fight all the way.

Women Will Race for First Time

Women enter B. A. A. games events for the first time when they race in a special 40-yard dash. Stella Walsh of the New York Central A. A. of Cleveland has sent in her entry for the sprint.

Miss Walsh is one of the fastest women sprinters in the world. She last year captured National, Canadian and World's championships, taking top honors in the 80, 100 and 200-meter championship races at Prague, Czecho-Slovakia.

Miss Walsh will be a fully naturalized citizen in 1932, when she hopes to enter the Olympic games wearing the U. S. colors.

Mary Carew of Medford and Olive Hinsenfus of Needham have been invited to race Miss Walsh in the B. A. A. 40-yard event, and both fine young girls are expected to accept the invitations.

Leo Lermond to Be in Millrose Mile Saturday

New York, Feb. 2 (AP)—The international aspect of the 1931 indoor track season appears in all its glory Saturday in the annual Millrose games at Madison Square Garden.

In the Wanamaker mile, Paul Martin of Switzerland again meets Ray Conger of the Illinois A. C., with Leo Lermond, Boston A. A. ace, Joe Rivak of the Illinois A. C. and Gene Venzke of New York tossed in for good measure.

"BRING ON THE INVADERS, WE'RE SET"

JIM McCARRON — ANDRE CHAPDELAINE — BILL MIGNAULT

THE THREE BATTLERS pictured above will defend the ring prestige of America in the international bouts tonight at Boston Garden. McCarron fights in the 135-pound class, Chapdelaine in the 147-pound class and Mignault in the 160-pound class. All three have proved themselves worthy of the right to represent America against the foreign fighters.

LOCAL BOYS WILL REPRESENT U. S. IN HEAVYWEIGHT CLASS AT GARDEN

By JACK CONWAY

Amateur boxers from the United States, Ireland, Norway and Belgium are eagerly waiting to sweep into action in the great international show at the Boston Garden tonight.

The rival mitt wielders are in the best possible condition and the most exciting boxing session of the indoor season is assured.

Jack Conway

Bill Cuddy of the St. Joe's T. A. Society, under whose auspices the international tournament will be staged, says that a near capacity crowd will witness the bouts.

New England boxing fans have turned to amateur boxing and wrestling on account of the numerous sour pro boxing offerings. They know there will not be any stalling in the international show tonight. The youngsters will give action, thrills and laughs.

There is a great deal of interest in the bouts in the heavyweight division.

The United States will be represented by three sturdy punchers in Henry Surette of Leominster, Frank Carlo of Everett and Dick Madden of Dorchester. Surretta is considered the best of the United States boxers.

Matt Flanagan of Ireland has many backers, who believe he will crush all opposition in the heavyweight class. He is a member of the Irish Guards and has handled himself in a creditable way in bouts in Europe. If Flanagan and Surette should happen to clash in the final of the heavyweight class the fans should witness a bout well worth watching.

Olaf Lund Stars in Middleweight Class

Olaf Lund of Norway has many backers who figure he will win in the 160-pound division. He has shown to good advantage in his workouts at local gyms.

John Chase of Ireland is rated as a clever, experienced boxer who can also punch. Thomas Mahoney, trainer of the Irish team, told this writer he believes Chase is the most finished [illegible] who will show tonight [illegible] so, Lund will run up a [illegible] our opposition.

John Arnould of Belgium also packs a good punch in each hand and will make a strong bid for the first prize.

The United States will be represented by a rugged trio of Al Zappala of Lawrence, Mickey Bishop of Stoughton and William Mignault of Franklin.

Chapdelaine Entered in Welterweight Class

Three of the best of the American boxers will represent the United States in the 147-pound division. Andre Chapdelaine of Hooksett, Andre M. Fobby of Roxbury and Jerry Indrisano of East Boston, a brother of the famous Johnny, will be Uncle Sam's standard bearers.

They will receive tough opposition from Tom Bickey of Ireland, Richard de Lanoit of Belgium and Reidar Olafson of Norway.

Bob Herlihy of Ireland is rated as one of the best of the lightweights. He will make a stout hearted bid for first honors in this class.

Andre de Haan will represent Belgium in this division and will have the backing of the Norwegian contingent.

The United States will rely on Jim McCarron of Somerville, Johnny Mack, Golden Glove winner, and Joe Delmont of Roxbury.

It should be a fighting show and should go a long way to eliminate the boxing blues in this city.

Amateur Card at Garden

135 POUNDS
Jimmy McCarron, United States.
Johnny Mack, United States.
Joe Delano, United States.
Bob Herlihy, Ireland.
Andre de Haan, Belgium.
Ole Roisland, Norway.

147 POUNDS
Andre Chapdelaine, United States.
Joe Delmont, United States.
Jerry Indrisano, United States.
Tom Hickey, Ireland.
Richard de Lanoit, Belgium.
Reidar Olafsen, Norway.

160 POUNDS
Al Zappala, United States.
Mickey Bishop, United States.
Billy Mignault, United States.
Johnny Chase, Ireland.
John Arnould, Belgium.
Olaf Lund, Norway.

HEAVYWEIGHTS
Henry Surette, United States.
Dick Madden, United States.
Frank Carlo, United States.
Knut Pedersen, Norway.
Matt Flanagan, Ireland.
Franz van der Auwaerer, Belgium.

TERRIER SIX TO BATTLE N. U.

After a four-year break in athletic relations, Boston University and Northeastern have buried the hatchet and will meet in hockey at the Boston Arena Friday night.

IF You Don't Know—

Wesley Ferrell, Cleveland Indians' pitching ace, wants a contract calling for $1000 a victory.... He has turned in 45 wins in two seasons in the big leagues.... Young Singer, former Brooklyn schoolboy sprint marvel, has won all the dash events in every big track meet held in New York this season.... Yet, he is still competing unattached.... Penn will row against every college crew in the East this coming spring.... The University of Illinois is building a $300,000 skating rink and a $40,000 golf course.... Thanks to football receipts, no doubt.... Six-round boxing contests are permitted in Nevada.... Bathoys in the National League will have to be uniformed to go on the field this coming season.... The Braves could buy more than one good ball player for the money they have spent in changing the geography of the Wigwam during recent years.... And the team hasn't profited a bit, as yet, by any of the shifts that have been made.... With a Cuban, Spaniard, an Italian, a Frenchman and an Irishman among others on the the club, the Brooklyn Robins are a real League of Nations outfit.... Polo isn't such an exclusive sport as is generally imagined.... Several youngsters who have to work for a living are playing the game at the Commonwealth Armory and they are holding their own against the society mallet swingers.... Barney Battles, former Boston soccer favorite, is the leading scorer in the Scottish junior league.... Archie Kyle, British soccer player recently sentenced to three months in jail for trying to fix a game, wasn't the first to be punished for this crime. A whole team was barred from the game for life for the same thing in 1905.

$50,000 Offer for Tilden to Play in Australia

New York, Feb. 2 (US)—Professional tennis acquired a Wall Street air today with the revelation of a $50,000 offer to William T. Tilden, 2d, for six matches in Australia.

The proposition was presented in a cablegram to Jack Curley, promoter of the "Tilden Tennis Tour." Its acceptance awaits approval by Tilden, now in Ponta Gorda, Fla., preparing for matches with Karel Kozeluh three weeks hence.

An element of mystery is attached to the cablegram because of the inexplicable signature, "Tencourt," which is believed to be a cable address. The commercial department of the Cable Company was unable to say who or what "Tencourt" is. It was suggested at the office of the promoter that "Tencourt" may be the ruling tennis body in Australia.

Bearing out this surmise is mention in the cablegram of a possible open championship tournament as part of the itinerary, that may be arranged in the contract. The terms guarantee Tilden 10,000, approximately $50,000, and also entitle him to 40 per cent of the gate, minus the government entertainment tax.

Tilden is asked to meet "three approved players" in at least six matches and possibly appear in an open championship journey. The tour, it is said, will last two months.

Although the prospective opponents are left unnamed, Curley feels certain that Pat O'Hara Wood and James O. Anderson will be among them. Wood, a leading Asian player, announced his desertion of the amateur ranks last week. Anderson, professional for some time, gained fame with a victory over "Little Bill" Johnston in this country.

Loico President of International Hockey

Krynica, Poland, Feb. 2—Belgin Loico was elected president of the International Ice Hockey Association, Rufus J. Tribie, of New York, was chosen vice-president, John Rix, American Olympic delegate, invited members of the association to Lake Placid, N. Y., in 1932 for the winter sports of the Olympic games.

Celtics Are Taken Into Soccer League

All matters pertaining to the difficulties between the State Soccer Association and the Boston Celtics were ironed out to the satisfaction of both parties at a meeting held in the American House.

The indoor contest scheduled at the Garden this week, which is an irregular game, was sanctioned by the local body, as was their entrance into the American League.

SCHOOL TRACK STARTS FEB. 17

Trials of the high jump and broad jump and finals of the shotput will open the 18th district meeting of the City of Boston schools on Feb. 17. These events mark the first title track meet of the indoor season for the Boston boys.

Broad jumps will be held at Boston Trade school, high jumps at Commerce and shotput at Boston English.

On Feb. 18 the field events for the boys' school championships will take place, while on Feb. 19 trials for the district schools meeting are slated at the Armory, with the district meet finals billed for Feb. 21. The relay carnival for all schools will be staged at the Armory on March 4.

Manitoba Grads Beat France, 9-0

Krynica, Poland, Feb. 2—The University of Manitoba Grads, representing Canada, defeated France, 9 to 0, in the opening match of the international hockey tournament here.

The French team, which lacked its best player, Hasler, through illness, fought valiantly against the Canadians' overwhelming superiority.

GOOD GOLF

By CHESTER HORTON
"Golf's Greatest Teacher"

In the wrap-like action with the club you perhaps can gain a better understanding of the meaning of the term, slow back. Golfers always are told to be slow back, but they seldom see professional players who are. To go back fast because the professional appears to is wrong reasoning. Any professional is slow back—for him. He paces his back swing to a speed which, for him, is the natural pace that leaves him at all times in command of the club, as if it were a whip in his hands. Up your own case, be just slow enough and smooth enough to enable you to elevate the club-whip-like, without disturbing your poise and balance, just as Sande lifted his whip to urge his horse. You can find for yourself the pace that best fits your individual muscular temperament, but in any event you will be safe to conclude that your action should be slower than any professional's whose muscles are educated, practiced and well disciplined. This discipline is what you seek—it is the most valuable single asset in golf.

(Copyright, John F. Dille Co.)

Ouimet Succeeds Jones on Committee

Francis Ouimet of Woodland and Boston and Prescott S. Bush of New York have replaced Bobby Jones and Henry H. Wilder as members of the implements and ball committee, according to the list of United States Golf Association committees for 1931.

Talbot C. Chase, M. C. A. president, and Oakley Club member, along with Oscar M. Pather of Nashua, N. H., head of the New England Golf Association, are new members to the committee on sectional affairs.

Robert T. Litchfield, former president of the U. S. and member of The Country Club, retained his post as member of the public links section committee.

Phillips Finlay, well known Harvard golfer, will continue to serve on the committee on intercollegiate affairs.

OUTDOOR SPORTS

NONE O'THEM SKI JUMPERS KIN RUN, THE BEST HE'LL GET OUTA THEM GAMS IS A LOTTA SLOW MOTION
GET UP AHEAD, ERIC, MY NECK'S GETTIN' STIFF FROM LOOKIN' BACK
YOU'LL NEVER MAKE DE WEIGHT DOIN' DAT ESKIMO WALTZ ON YER HEELS
AY DON'T LIKE DEES MOTION
HE'LL NEVER GIT ANYWHAR, HE RUNS LIKE MUCILAGE LOOKS LIKE HE'S GOT A STRING HALT
I CAN RUN BACKWARDS FASTER'N THAT
C'MON NOW, KID, JEST ABOUT TWICE DAT FAST FER DE NEX' COUPLA MILES DYNAMITE DAN MCCLOSKEY'S TRAINING CAMP

BY KNOTT

ONE FOR THE BOOK
BOB FITZSIMMONS MADE HIS FIRST APPEARANCE IN A TOURNAMENT FOR AMATEURS STAGED BY JEM MACE AT TIMURA, NEW ZEALAND
HE HADDA START SOMEWHERE
2-2

Scene of Title Heavy Go Still Undecided

Chicago, Feb. 2 (AP)—The Illinois State Athletic Association wants the Schmeling-Stribling heavyweight championship fight for Chicago, the Chicago Stadium Corporation wants it for Chicago, and George Getz, associate of the late Tex Rickard in the promotion of the Tunney-Dempsey battle, apparently feels the same way, but the efforts of all three appear to be accomplishing nothing but chasing fight right away from Chicago.

It appeared that the Garden might present the attraction in Soldier Field, but Edward J. Kelly, president of the South Park Board, which controls Soldier Field, last night said that neither the Garden nor any other group could use the field unless Chicago charities benefited.

Loughran to Meet Baer on Friday

New York, Feb. 2—Max Baer, California heavyweight, makes his third appearance in Madison Square Friday night against Tommy Loughran, former [illegible] heavyweight champion.

Loughran has had little success since he abandoned the 175-pound crown to mingle with the heavyweights, but he figures to be entirely too fast and experienced for Baer,

Reports Current That Adams Will Buy Tiger Club

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN SPORTS

NEW LEAGUE MAY INVADE BOSTON

By BILL GRIMES

Reports that President C. F. Adams of the Bruins is negotiating for the purchase of the Boston Tigers are current. The Tigers have always been a losing proposition and their disposal would open the path for a deal whereby the American Hockey Association would install a club in Boston.

Although the Tigers have always been one of the outstanding clubs in the Can-Am League, always finishing in the play offs and two years ago winning the championship, their background has been too much of a barrier for them to win popularity.

Bill Grimes

If President Adams goes through with the Tiger deal, in the face of an American Hockey League invasion, the Canadian-American League will be practically owned and operated by the National Hockey League. The Canadiens own one-half of the Providence club, the Rangers operate Springfield and the Americans are carrying the bag for New Haven.

Two years ago, the Can-Am League was in a position to do a little dictating to the parent organization but now it is not only well bottled up, but also firmly sealed and ready for shipment.

Although the bell ends hockey games and the officials claim they did not hear the signal, the Detroit Falcons' protest was not upheld by the N. H. L. governors, who awarded the game to the Maroons.

Now that they have finished with their midyear examinations, the college teams will swing back into action.

Although the American Hockey Association is not broadcasting its action, it is by no reason marking time. Plans are under way for the dropping of Tulsa, Kansas City and either Duluth or Minneapolis, which will be replaced by Eastern cities.

Also, there are rumors that Owner Wrigley of the Chicago Cubs will soon be actively connected with the association.

Johnny Loucks will be back on left wing for the Tigers for the Philadelphia series. Loucks has been confined to a sick bed with the grippe for a week and his absence has noticeably weakened the Flowers team.

One of the most encouraging features of the six points made by Ohs Heximer of the Springfield Indians, against the Tigers was that three of them were for assists. Heximer has been accused of hogging the puck since he went into the lead for individual honors in the Can-Am League, but he evidently was in a passing mood last Saturday.

Pitted against Rumania, the Boston Hockey Club engaged in the first round of the world's amateur championship today at Prynica, Poland.

TAKES HILL ON HIGH

BASS SAMSING is shown making a ski jump at "St. Moritz," West Quincy. Thousands of spectators saw this remarkable jump which was the feature event of the winter carnival.

Irvin Cobb to Hold Reunion at Famed Sports Center

By DAMON DUNYON.

Miami, Fla., Feb. 2 (US)—Rumors reach me of an impending function of no little importanc

I am told that Mr. Irvin Shrewsbury Cobb, the eminent author, is arranging a reunion of the veterans of Dover Hall, to take place about February 10, in the full of the moon, and also the cool of the evening.

A reunion of the veterans of Dover Hall ought to make history. Dover Hall is an old slave plantation, which lies some 13 or 14 miles out of the pleasant town of Brunswick, Ga., on the Turtle river. It comprises some 3000 acres, with lease holds on other thousands of acres of surrounding lands.

Ere the advent of the jolly little boll weevil, Dover Hall raised some of the finest sea island cotton in the South. Since the boll weevil, it has mainly raised cain.

TUNNEY WAS GUEST

Mr. James J. Tunney, formerly Gene, favored Dover Hall with his presence when he was heavyweight champion of the world, as the guest of an inveterate Dover Hallite, Mr. William Oswald McGeehan, the sports writer.

Mr. Babe Ruth has for years been a regular visitor to Dover Hall. Mr. Tyrus Raymond Cobb, the Jewel of Georgia, hung his hat up many a time on the deer horns that serve as a rack in the dining room of the famous hall. The other Mr. Cobb, Irvin Shrewsbury, who plans the reunion aforesaid, is a charter member of the Hall.

Mr. Ban B. Johnson, when he was president of the American League, found rest and solace from the trials of office in the piney woods of Dover Hall. Mr. Charley Comiskey, the Old Roman of the Chicago Whits Sox, often went there.

The late Mr. George Stallings, who managed the Boston Braves to a world's championship in 1914, was one of the discoverers of the place.

GREAT HUNTING SPOT

You can catch deer in your hat at Dover Hall. Quail abound there. Ducks are plentiful. Also fish, and squirrel and coon and possum. It lies on the Dixie highway, but reaches back into a silent, mysterious land of thick pine timber and brooding marshes.

The spell of Dover Hall is a powerful thing. If you have ever spent any considerable time there, you never forget it. After the denizens of the piney woods had finally made up their minds that the visitors to Dover Hall were not entirely crazy, but just a little bit eccentric, they took them to their homespun bosoms.

Now a Dover Hallite can freely ramble the countryside, and even the moccasin snakes refrain from biting him.

Today's Scratches

AT NEW ORLEANS

1—Brass Doll, Lucky Stone, Fan Arena, Levender Lady, Bunting Lad, Magna Mater.
2—Zinn, Attire, Neels First, Charles Clarke, Fair Jean, Anchor Light.
3—Big Sandy, Pebbles Last, Blue Fish, Cottage Boy, Prince Til Til, Mekachee.
4—War Time, Agitator.
5—Rocket Glare.
6—High Storm.
7—Old Bill, Potfull, Meigers Choice, Black On White, My No, Meridianee Orford.
Weather clear; track fast.

HAVANA SCRATCHES

1—Miss Pat, Hand Maiden, Free Helen, Faddy Flaherty, Merit, Rock Thorn, Leller Bunny.
2—Peggy Barbara, Great Flyer, Collington, Achtel Lassa, Sugarland, Miss Elizabeth, Sam Dink, Iona Ruth.
4—Antenio, Black Bart, Trustee Crowe, I Wonder, Sweet Lacruse, Ocean Current.
5—Elnise, Our Sweetheart, My Betty.

AT MIAMI.

2—Craigio.
4—Saxilby.
6—Leros, Clean Play.
7—Observation, Bounder Francock.
Weather clear; track fast.

NEW ORLEANS SELECTIONS

1—Our Cherycrate, Newsburst, Adelaide N.
2—Light Mist, Ned's First, Anchor Light.
3—Jack Pine, Harold Ormont, Mekachee.
4—Agitator, Elizabeth Sullivan, Little Gyp.
5—Kadiak, Rocket Glare, Rueful.
6—Part o' Play, Earl of Warwick, Goliath.
7—Silver Scepter, Mother's Choice, Lady Blenville.
BEST BET—Agitator.

Hockey

National League

AMERICAN DIVISION

	Won	Lost	Tie	Pts	For	Goals Agst
BOSTON	18	7	4	40	98	61
Chicago	16	9	5	34	89	53
Detroit	13	11	4	30	70	67
Rangers	10	12	7	27	60	81
Philadelphia	2	20	3	6	49	120

CANADIAN DIVISION

Canadiens	18	7	3	39	88	58
Toronto	15	9	5	35	65	61
Montreal	14	11	4	32	65	65
Americans	11	9	7	29	46	44
Ottawa	5	21	3	13	51	87

LAST NIGHT'S RESULTS

Canadiens 4, Chicago 2.
Detroit 2, Toronto 6.
Americans 4, Ottawa 2.

Canam League

	Won	Lost	Tie	Pts	For	Goals Agst
Springfield	20	3	1	41	98	61
Providence	14	5	5	33	80	48
BOSTON	8	16	5	13	67	78
Philadelphia	7	14	3	17	45	83
New Haven	6	17	3	15	53	89

LAST NIGHT'S RESULTS

Providence 8, New Haven 3.

Collins Is Trying Hard to Rebuild Red Sox

By JOE CASHMAN

The release of Phil Todt and Johnny Heving, Red Sox veterans, to the Athletics, via the waiver route, presages an earnest attempt on the part of Manager John "Shono" Collins to rebuild the Fenway outfit from the ground up.

Having heard a succession of Sox pilots promise to supplant old blood with new for the past dozen years without ever seeing a single one make any real effort to do so, the fans find it rather hard, despite the passing of Todt and Heving, to believe that Collins is actually going to adopt the house-cleaning system which they have been urging so long in vain.

Yet, when the fires two veterans before he is certain that he will find better players to replace them, there can be little doubt that Collins is determined to succeed or fail with ambitious youngsters rather than lackadaisical old-timers.

"Shono" stepped into a tough spot when, without any previous big league managerial experience, he accepted the offer to lead the last place Red Sox, and many fans questioned his wisdom in taking the job as well as Bob Quinn's wisdom in entrusting the task which had proved too much for such men as Lee Fohl, Bill Carrigan and Heinie Wagner to such inexperienced hands.

It is evident now, though, that both Quinn and Collins knew what they were doing when they reached their agreement, for the Sox at last have a manager who has hit upon the only method of improving a weak ball club.

It will probably be some time before Collins' system starts to show any beneficial results. This coming season, he may not do any better with the youngsters than he could if he relied on the veterans.

But if he sticks to his plan and Quinn and the fans have patience with him, he will eventually succeed.

Eagles Beaten by Reds by 6-3 Score

New Haven, Feb. 2—The New Haven Eagles raced along neck and neck with the Providence Reds in one of the hardest hockey games seen here this year, until the final period, when the visitors netted three scores to win, 6 to 3.

BROCKTON GIRL ICE QUEEN

At the winter carnival at St. Moritz, West Quincy, yesterday, Miss Prudence Swift of Brockton, was selected Queen for 1931. The carnival closes tomorrow evening at the State Armory, Quincy Center, with the ball at which Miss Swift will be formally crowned by the carnival chairman, Arthur V. Dorhan, and prizes will be awarded the victors.

Yesterday's festivities opened with fancy skating at 2 o'clock. Those who thrilled the large crowd included Nathaniel Niles and Mrs. Theresa Blanchard, Miss Grace Madden and her father, James L. Madden, and Miss Nancy Follett, a native of Quincy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Follett.

The speed skating races attracted the largest crowd. The distance was a mile, with Walter Thorne of Brookline winner; George Stryer of Dorchester, second; and Cecil Dinges of Dorchester, third.

The women's race was won by Miss Mollie Thorne of Brookline; Miss Grace Wolfe, second, and Miss Dorothy Fitzpatrick of Boston, third.

Lutze Will Meet Sherry in Mat Bout at Arena

Nick Lutze, Californian heavyweight wrestler who recently won from Pat McGill, will have Jack Sherry, Ohio State champion, as an opponent in a finish bout, best two falls out of three, at the Arena on Thursday night under the direction of Paul Bowser.

Lutze stepped in as an eleventh hour substitute for Farmer George McLeod against McGill. The Farmer had suffered an injury while training and Lutze hopped into town from Chicago.

McGill was top-heavy favorits to win, but was swept off his feet by Lutze's aggressive style of grappling.

In Sherry, Lutze will be opposed by one of the best of the younger crop of wrestlers. Jack gave Gus Sonnenberg two rugged battles here last year. Sherry is eager to secure another shot at Gus and will try to open his campaign by winning from Lutze.

Flowers, Fuller in Bout Next Monday

Bruce Flowers, New Rochelle, N. Y., lightweight, clashes with Sammy Fuller of the North End in the Argonne A. A. feature at the Boston Arena next Monday night.

Fuller is hopeful that he can beat Flowers. If he does he will be in line for some big fight. This bout will mark the North End Italian's first fling at the headliners of the lightweight division. He always has confined his efforts in lightweight bouts to local men.

Soccer Results

Fall River 2, Providence 1.
Hakoah 2, New York S. C. 1.
Brooklyn 4, New York Giosis 3.

French Court Stars to Battle U. S. Team

New York, Feb. 2 (AP)—The French tennis triumvirate of Jean Borotra, Jacques Brugnon and Christian Boussus not only will compete in the national indoor championships here in march, but will battle a picked United States squad in an international team match as well.

The national championships will be held from March 14 to 21 and the team matches from March 23 to 25.

PROBABLE WIN NERS AT MIAMI

Papers	First Race	Second Race	Third Race	Fourth Race	Fifth Race	Sixth Race	Seventh Race
The New York American	Sunny Pal Mineralogist Skibo	Siberia Sun Pleasure Cruisco	Tony Joe Dodgeon Bounding Deep	Saxilby Dis Dame Durva	Okaybee Lieut. Russell Segorra	Crossbones Protractor Murky Cloud	Phantom Cloud Francock Outery Muff
Evening Horse Wahh	Sunny Pal Mineralogist Fairdale	Siberia Sun Pleasure Don Red	Tony Joe Bounding Deep Dodgeon	Durva Saxilby Fervid	Okaybee Segorra Joan Lafitte	Crossbones Murky Cloud Opponent	Francock Outery Muff
Running Horse Carnival	Sunny Pal Mineralogist Skibo	Sun Pleasure Don Red Prince Fox	Dodgeon Tony Joe Bounding Deep	Fervid Saxilby Dis Dame	Okaybee Lieut. Russell Airman	Protractor Crossbones Murky Cloud	Phantom Cloud Bounder Outery
Daily Mirror Keats	Sunny Pal Fairdale Mineralogist	Sun Pleasure Don Red Cruisco	Tony Joe Dodgeon Jack Berry	Saxilby Dis Dame Fervid	Airman Lieut. Russell Sun Shadow	Protractor Murky Cloud Fairogas	Francock Phantom Cloud Outery
Racing Form Trackman	Sunny Pal Mineralogist Guide Right	Sun Pleasure Don Red Siberia	Tony Joe Bounding Deep Dodgeon	Dis Dame Fervid Durva	Segorra Okaybee Lieut. Russell	Protractor Murky Cloud Fairdeal	Muff Phantom Cloud Outery
Racing Form Sweep	Sunny Pal Guide Right Fairdale	Sun Pleasure Siberia Mueller	Jack Berry Tony Joe Bounding Deep	Little America Durva Saxilby	Okaybee Lieut. Russell Ladrone	Protractor Opponent Rushfield	Francock The Marquise Observation

CONSENSUS OF SELECTIONS

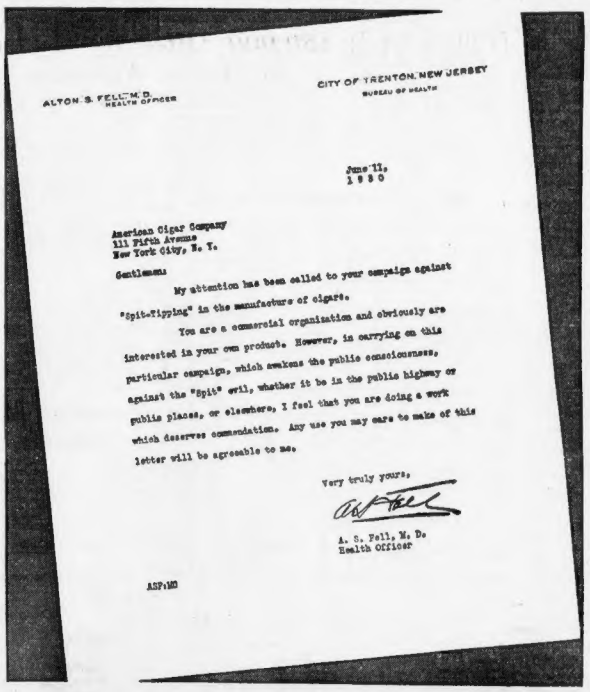
FIRST RACE	SECOND RACE	THIRD RACE	FOURTH RACE	FIFTH RACE	SIXTH RACE	7TH RACE
SUNNY PAL MINERALOGIST GUIDE RIGHT	SUN PLEASURE SIBERIA DON RED	TONY JOE DODGEON SOUND. DEEP	FERVID DIS DAME DURVA	OKAYBEE LT. RUSSELL SEGORRA	PROTRACTOR CROSSBONES MURKY CLOUD	FRANCOCK PHAN. CLOUD MUFF

"This Campaign Awakens Public Consciousness Against Spit"

Says

DR. A. S. FELL

Health Officer, City of Trenton, N. J.



ALTON S. FELL, M.D.
HEALTH OFFICER
CITY OF TRENTON, NEW JERSEY
BUREAU OF HEALTH
June 12, 1930
American Cigar Company
111 Fifth Avenue
New York City, N. Y.
Gentlemen:
My attention has been called to your campaign against "Spit-Tipping" in the manufacture of cigars.
You are a commercial organization and obviously are interested in your own product. However, in carrying on this particular campaign, which awakens the public consciousness against the "Spit" evil, whether it be in the public highway or public places, or elsewhere, I feel that you are doing a work which deserves commendation. Any use you may care to make of this letter will be agreeable to me.
Very truly yours,
A. S. Fell, M. D.
Health Officer
ASF:MB

...one of 56 health officials from 56 different points approving Cremo's crusade against spit or spit-tipping.

Every smoker, every wife whose husband smokes cigars, should read Dr. Fell's letter.

"Who are the friends of 'Spit'?"

YOU MAY WELL ASK THIS QUESTION WHEN 56 IMPORTANT HEALTH OFFICIALS HAVE WRITTEN SO STRONGLY AGAINST THE EVILS OF SPIT OR SPIT-TIPPING.

Dr. Fell writes: "You are doing a work which deserves commendation."

The war against spit is a crusade of decency. Join it...Smoke Certified Cremo—a really wonderful smoke—mild—mellow—nut-sweet! Every leaf entering the clean, sunny Cremo factories is scientifically treated by methods recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture.

In this period of cold weather and cracked lips, above all insist on a cigar—free of the spit germ.

Certified Cremo

... THE GOOD 5¢ CIGAR THAT AMERICA NEEDED

©1931 American Cigar Co.

MARSHAL FOCH'S WAR MEMOIRS

HEROISM OF ALLIED TROOPS IN YPRES AND YSER BATTLES

GERMANS BEWILDERED BY TENACITY OF FOES

In yesterday's instalment Marshal Foch told of the grave crisis that threatened the Allies late in October and early in November, 1914, when the Germans held the greater part of Belgium and were driving forward against the British, Belgian and French forces in an effort to capture the Channel ports.

Marshal Foch had been sent to that front by Marshal Joffre to help co-ordinate the Allied forces in their resistance. The British forces were nearly pressed. There had been a break in the British line that threatened to open the road to Ypres to the Germans. The First British Corps was in retreat toward Ypres and Marshal French, the British commander, had a dismal view of the situation, which seemed likely to develop into a great disaster.

Marshal Foch told how, at this juncture, he urged Marshal French to halt the retreat at all costs, make a determined stand, and took steps to solidify the defense and make counter-attacks by French troops that would relieve the pressure on the British First Corps. This was done and the German advance in Belgium was blocked.

In today's instalmen Marshal Foch continues his narrative of the desperate fighting in Flanders.

By MARSHAL FERDINAND FOCH

Commander-in-Chief of the Allied Armies During the Closing Phases of the World War.

Translated from the French by Col. T. Bentley Mott

THE ALLIED OPERATIONS IN FLANDERS lasted a long time, covered a wide extent of territory, were carried on by a heterogeneous collection of troops, insufficient in number, always slow in arriving and quickly intermingled. Under conditions as complicated as these, success would have been impossible without a unity of direction which enabled this confused and difficult battle to be embraced in its general outlines and the real situation cleared to the view.

To this factor should be added the services rendered by a most efficient liason between the Allied combatants as well as between the commanders of their units, which was only another manifestation of that spirit of co-operation and comradeship in arms which was long to constitute a bond of friendship between the Allied nations.

The Allied commanders frequently saw each other in the course of the day. Each evening about 8 o'clock I sent for Gen. d'Urbal, whose headquarters were at Rousbrugge, to come to Wormoudt to discuss our affairs and prepare the orders for the following day. Then about 10 o'clock Gen. Sir Henry Wilson usually arrived at my headquarters at Cassel, bringing me news from British general headquarters at Saint Omer and reports as to Marshal French's intentions for the following day. We also maintained a close co-ordination with Belgian headquarters, which remained at Furnes.

Armies Tired
Allied Problem With 375 Miles of Front

Probably never before had the motto of our British allies: "Union fait la force," found a more happy and complete application than in this whole-hearted co-operation. What a union of wills, each aiding and inspiring the other and all giving of themselves without stint, did this battle in common bring about!

Here, without any doubt, is to be found the explanation of that marvellous improvised defense which reacted to a victorious finish a formidable attack powerfully mounted and doggedly repeated for almost an entire month.

I had, of course, remained in close touch with my commander-in-chief, Joffre. Although I had not seen him since November 2, we had exchanged views daily. While he never failed to recognize the importance of the operations in Flanders, he was not able to immediately assign to them all the forces they demanded.

His armies were greatly fatigued by two months of heavy fighting, they lacked ammunition and, moreover, he was forced to provide for the security of a front which, as yet was only poorly organized and whose length had rapidly increased until now it reached from the Vosges to the Lys, a distance of 375 miles.

On such an extent of front, where both sides were in every case in close contact, a surprise was possible at nearly every point. These facts furnish the reason for the more or less piecemeal arrival of reinforcements for the battle of Ypres; they also explain why the troops which had started the battle had to be kept in action for so long a time.

The reason was simple—there were no others to take their place! But they proved themselves equal to every call made upon their gallantry during the whole of the bitter struggle. Two examples of many will serve as illustrations:

The British I Corps had suffered heavily since October 31, and on that day it had been started in retreat, but it halted, went back into battle with renewed ardor, sustained repeated heavy attacks and only left the battlefield finally on November 18, when the enemy had been definitely stopped.

The French IX Corps, the Forty-second Division and the Cavalry Corps were engaged, without intermission, from October 23 to November 15, and they were relieved only several days later.

What unshakable tenacity was required by efforts such as these and made at the price of what fatigue.

The battle of Ypres extended along a front of 28 miles from Nordschoote to the Lys at Armentieres. The Germans employed the equivalent of 13 corps; the Allies, 10. On Oct. 31 the French held about 15½ miles of the front, the British, 12½; on Nov. 5 the French held 18½ miles, and the British, 9½.

It can be seen that the French troops, both as to length of front occupied and numbers engaged, had to sustain the major part of the battle. It would, therefore, be contrary to the truth to speak of the battle and victory of Ypres as exclusively British.

On both sides the losses were very heavy. In order to overcome our resistance, the Germans had brought into action heavy artillery much more powerful than any possessed by the Allies comprising as it did many very big guns, some even of 15-inch calibre.

The German units composed of reserviste were especially ardent, but they were surprised and bewildered by the tenacity shown by their adversaries. These troops were pushed, amid noise and shouting, into violent assaults in close formations, resulting in veritable hecatombs. Their morale thereby suffered greatly.

By a continuous development of the outflanking manoeuver which we had undertaken a few days after the victory of the Marne, we had been led to extend our front from Switzerland to the North Sea. This was a distance of 428 miles—a line of battle hitherto unheard of in history.

Advertisement

Freed at Last from Stomach and Bowel Misery

"For years and years I suffered stomach and bowel trouble," says Mrs. Alice Tebbetts of Lexington, Mass. "Have taken ALUNOL regularly and from all the other medicines I had taken, I never found such relief. It seems wonderful to be free from stomach ache, gas."

Almost everyone who takes ALUNOL raves about it. More than one million packages have been sold. It's absolutely amazing the way this new prescription succeeds when other known remedies fail.

ALUNOL is the only known remedy which contains Aurum Iodid, (gold in laboratory tests, digests 400 times its weight of certain heavy starchy foods which cause trouble, it neutralizes burning acid, soothes irritated membranes, stops gases, headaches, dizziness and nervousness. No other known remedy contains this combination and few stomachs, ALUNOL has fortified you against colds by reducing acidity.

Get ALUNOL today at your druggist. Watch how many acid indigestion, burning stomach, belching, pain, heartburn, dizziness, fullness, short breath vanish. Eat, drink all you want. Maker refunds money if not delighted.

When a Hero Died

LORD ROBERTS, famous British military leader in both the World and Boer Wars, whose visit to Marshal Foch on the allied front in Flanders and his death there are described by the French marshal today.

Moreover, six weeks after the Marne we had been obliged to improvise a new battle—and a decisive one—on the northern extremity of this front.

The Results
Far-Reaching Effects of Fighting in North

The outcome of such an encounter was, naturally, subject at first to the gravest misgiving, when one took into account the enormous reserves in men and material which the enemy had prepared and organized in time of peace, and which gave him from the start a redoutable advantage. Faced by a shortage in men, a greater shortage in material and a still greater shortage in ammunition, obliged to improvise an organization for our own forces as well as one which would embrace those of our Allies—such were the conditions under which we approached this encounter.

By the united efforts of all every difficulty was surmounted; but the outcome was mostly due to the vigilance and resolution of the French commander-in-chief, who did not hesitate to man with his own troops the greater portion of the Allied front.

The result was considerable. The definite check which the Allied Armies inflicted upon the enemy on the banks of the Yser and at the Ypres, frustrated his plan of defeating us first and attacking Russia afterwards; it guarded from invasion and occupation the particularly rich provinces of northern France; it saved the Channel ports and the banks of the North Sea, that is to say, the communications between France and England; it protected England from German attacks; it preserved for Belgium a scrap of territory that maintained for her a place upon the map of Europe, and placed her government beyond the reach of the enemy.

The Allied Armies had shared in a battle which had lasted for more than a month, and their close co-operation had brought about a victory. It was not possible that blood shed in common under such circumstances could fail to cement the friendship of the three nations. That alone constituted a big asset in the balance sheet of the coalition.

The Germans had compensated themselves for their defeat by redoubling in violence the bombardment of Ypres. On November 22, they took St. Peter's Cathedral and the Cloth Hall as their targets for their incendiary shells. These magnificent monuments soon became a mere pile of lamentable ruins.

The fighting around Ypres once more proved the strength which the defense had acquired through the development of fire-power, and especially that of machine guns. The offensive had not gained in any similar proportion.

Out of the situation, there arose that long period of stagnation of the two opposing armies during which a new sort of warfare came into existence, the war of position, as opposed to the so-called war of movement. It was really nothing but a temporary crisis in the business of war, an acknowledgment of helplessness which grew out of the fact that the offensive, armed with fairly satisfactory weapons, was powerless to get the better of the defensive, having at its disposal superior means of action.

There seems no limit to what may be expected in future struggles from the progress of aviation and the development of chemical warfare. Consequently, in making preparations for the next war, we must not fail to first take into account the varied and formidable material which will be employed in battle, provide a part of it, at least, during peace time and create a military organisation which will assure its proper use in time of war.

Like Lord Kitchener, whose anxiety on November 1 I have described, the British people had followed with apprehension this long battle of Ypres, which threatened to carry the war into their island. Its result had been for them a real relief, and the King crossed the Channel to express his satisfaction to his army.

On December 2nd, accompanied by Generals d'Urbal, de Maud, Huy, Conneau, de Mitry, Crosatelli and Maistre, and by some of my staff, I went to meet him by appointment at Saint Omer. Sir John French had fully explained to him the events which had taken place, and he took me aside to thank me.

He expressed in the kindest way his appreciation of what I had done for his army and the powerful and continual support I had given his troops and which had assured for us the great results of the battle of Ypres.

In my turn, I congratulated him upon the gallantry of his army which, subjected to most violent assaults, had constantly held its ground for over three weeks.

The King terminated my visit by bestowing upon me the Grand Cross of the Order of the Bath, which he had desired to bring me, although, as he said, this dignity was of a higher grade than was appropriate to my present functions. He then received and decorated the French generals. He was good enough also to have the officers of my staff presented to him. These he decorated and honored with most gracious words, in pa.ticular Colonel Weygand and Major Desticker.

Our relations with the British Army, which were already very frank and cordial, had grown even closer during the battle which we had fought together and gained by our entire and perfect union.

This great friendship which marked the battlefield of Ypres had spread to the two nations, as the King had just made evident. As the war went on, it became stronger and stronger, until at last our common victory crowned it. Its maintenance will for a long time be a guarantee of the world peace.

Copyright, 1931, by Doubleday, Doran & Co., Inc. World Rights Reserved.

In Tomorrow's Instalment Marshal Foch Tells in the Boston Evening American of the Battles of Ypres and the Yser.

A Visit from Lord Roberts

Marshal Foch in his War Memoirs gives this interesting account of the visit paid to him by Field Marshal Earl Roberts, famous British military leader and Boer War hero, during the height of the fighting in Flanders:

On November 13, 1914, Field Marshal Earl Roberts came to see me at my headquarters at Cassel, accompanied by his daughter, Lady Edwina Roberts. He was a fine figure of a soldier and patriot, a great Englishman in the widest sense of the word. Notwithstanding his age, which was then more than 80, he was still wonderfully active and in full possession of all his faculties.

I had known him for several years and had always been filled with admiration for the clearness of his vision and the greatness and uprightness of his character. I had realized this in 1912 when, moved by a profound anxiety, he had made those speeches in which he urged upon his countryman, then asleep in comfortable dreams of peace, the necessity of obligatory military service.

For an hour we talked of the battle. I showed him our maps, on which were marked up daily the successive moves of our troops, the positions won and lost.

This was the last time I was destined to see him. At 2:00 o'clock he left us and went over to visit the Indian troops, for whom he always had retained an especial attachment. They had just come out of a severe battle and were being given a rest.

Confident in his seemingly inexhaustible youth, and bracing the rigors of the season, he took off his overcoat in order to pass them in review. In this way he caught a chill which obliged him to take to his bed on returning to St. Omer in the evening. On the following day he died. It was an end well worthy of his glorious past.

TUBE NAMERS HONOR CURLEY FAMILY

The tunnel-namers are hard at it—and the bewildered Tunnel Editor is up to his hips in names.

But out of the flood of designations for the new East Boston traffic tunnel, on which work will commence shortly, the name of Curley, thus far, leads all the rest.

In 30 variations, the name of his late wife and late son have been repeatedly submitted as those most fitting for the new tunnel.

AIRPORT RUNNER UP

The names Airport Tunnel and North Shore Tunnel are tied as runners-up, and then the votes are scattered among nearly 175 different choices.

And each mail brings in more and more votes.

Ernest A. Edwards of 213 Huntington ave. believes that the new name should be Airport Harbor Artery; Zelda M. Pinean of 949 Main st., North Woburn, submits Byrd Tunnel, while John J. Eckelmin of 170 Conant st., Manchester, N. H., sends in The Relief Tunnel.

A few voters and their suggestions are: E. W. Friend of 195 Lafayette st., Salem, with The Atlantic Tunnel; George Wyatt of 20 West Tremlett st., Dorchester, with Bay State Tube; Mrs. Madeline Carlsen of 82 Lonsdale st., Dorchester, Freshair Transit; John D. Drury of 103 Germaine ave., Bradford, with Commodore Barry Tunnel; Frank A. Rapose of 2 Berwick st., Somerville, with Metropolitan Tunnel, and W. F. Fellows of Union Station, Providence, with Bay State Tube.

PULASKI SUGGESTED

Others are Paul Carvin of 306 Washington ave., Chelsea, who submits Mystic Tube; Adolph S. Glimaks of 66 Shurtleff st., Chelsea, with K. Pulaski Tunnel; Ann Foley of 32 Wensley st., Boston, with The Cunard Tunnel; Edward Cox of Main st., Bedford, with Meriport Tunnel; Anthony Calello of 385 Frankfort st., East Boston, with City Tunnel, and Phillip J. Carson of 8 Whipple st., Somerville, with The Harbor Way Tube.

These are only a few, picked at random. They are not suggestions for you, because you probably have ideas of your own.

Send in your choice today. Merely fill out the coupon and mail it to The Tunnel Editor, Boston Evening American, 5 Winthrop sq., Boston.

Fr. McKone Court to Meet Tonight

Chief Ranger Daniel J. Sullivan will preside at the February business meeting of Father McKone Court, M. C. O. F., in St. Brendan's Hall, Dorchester, tonight. Brief instructions in parliamentary law will be given.

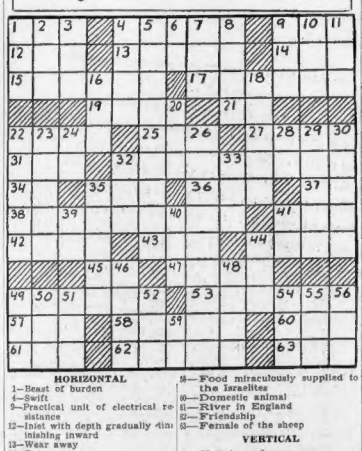
Advertisement

Bernice Claire Selects Scott Furriers

Miss Bernice Claire, very popular stage and screen star, who appears in person on the stage at the RKO Keith Boston theatre, was present at the opening of the Scott Unique Fur Coat Party, 69 Summer Street, Boston. She is shown with a Scott dependable Hudson Seal coat, flitch trimmed—further evidence of the popularity of Scott Furriers where celebrated stage and screen stars purchase their fur garments.

In spite of the storm Saturday many women from all over New England saved hundreds of dollars at Scott Furriers' Unique Fur Coat Party, in which model coats used in the various fashion shows in the leading theatres of New England have been included at a fraction of their original prices. As there are many more coats available don't forget to come in early and take advantage of this unusual opportunity to purchase a fur coat at a startling low price at Scott Furriers, New England's largest fur establishment, 69 Summer st., Boston; 309 Westminster St., Providence; 31 Pratt St., Hartford.

Daily Crossword Puzzle



HORIZONTAL

1—Beast of burden
4—Swift
9—Practical unit of electrical resistance
12—Inlet with depth gradually diminishing inward
13—Wear away
14—Born
15—Attempting
17—Not present
19—Defeat utterly
21—Toward
22—Migrate
25—Extinct flightless bird
27—Peat bog
31—Alcoholic liquor
32—Tender feeling
34—White
35—Japanese copper coin
36—Artificial mound
37—Conjunction
38—Spread dirt all over
41—Period of time
42—Elder son of Isaac
43—Male hild
44—Animal seized by another to be devoured
45—Note of the musical scale
47—Either of two works in Old Norse
48—Bodies of water
53—Herb of the aster family
57—Biblical name
58—Food miraculously supplied to the Israelites
60—Domestic animal
61—Once in England
62—Friendship
63—Female of the sheep

VERTICAL

1—Skill in performance
2—Title of respect
3—Declare
4—City in Nevada
5—Disputations
6—River in Italy
7—Girl's name
8—Lack ability
9—Unit
10—Domestic fowl
11—Came upon
16—Ailment
18—Work War battlefield
20—Unit of weight
23—Clan
24—Characters of the alphabet formerly used by Teutonic people
26—Printer's measure
28—Consequent
29—Old English (abbr.)
30—Breathe loudly
33—Wander away
35—Body of water
36—Suffix; one who
39—Foam
40—Symbol for samarium
40—Digit
41—Suffix denoting the comparative degree
44—Cooking utensil
46—Girl's name
48—Cart for carrying heavy loads
49—Color
50—Anger
51—Contend
52—Man's name
54—Congealed water
55—Cry of the crow
56—Partook
59—Symbol for nickel

Herewith is the solution to Saturday's puzzle.

BORAH DOVER
PARANA AVALON
AG MET RET LA
IDA WEBER EAR
NAME E ERNE
ED MASTERS DS
MIRE RATE
AH LEAKAGE M
MARY GRAM
ABE HAYES SAL
SI TAP WAD SO
STEELE EVADES
STEED SENOR

FIRE DESTROYS WOBURN HOME

Fire, of undetermined origin, destroyed the home of George Sousa, at 25 Arlington st., Woburn, early today and drove Sousa, his wife and their son into the street in a blinding snowstorm.

The blaze had gained considerable headway when discovered by a neighbor, who sounded the alarm, and rushed into the house to rouse the sleeping family. Firemen could do little with the blaze and the house was practically destroyed.

NAME NEW TUNNEL

The new East Boston traffic tunnel will start at Cross st., between Hanover and North sts., and will emerge at Meridian st., East Boston, with exit in Porter st. Make your suggestion for a name for the new East Boston tunnel today on this coupon and mail it to the TUNNEL EDITOR, BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN, 5 Winthrop sq., Boston, Mass.

My suggestion .....

My name .....

Street address .....

City ..... State .....

Mussolini Made Dictator by Glands, Says Doctor

Paris, Feb. 2 (INS)—Dictators, had-tempered bridge players and bearded ladies owe their distinctions primarily to irregular glandular development and activity, according to Dr. Leopold Levi who has been awarded the Prix Pecrot by the Academy of Medicine for his study of glands.

Mussolini, Stalin and Hitler, from a medical viewpoint, were destined to govern their fellow men because nature endowed them with superlatively active pituitary glands, Dr. Levi declared. The same tissue is also held responsible for dwarfs, giants and persons suffering from obesity and diabetes.

Suprarenal glands are physiological imps woh can put a luxuriant growth of whiskers on soft feminine cheeks, the physician finds, and they alsoe reats the complex that causes women to throw down their cards in disgust in the middle of a game.

If the enamel of your teeth is firm, your fingernails lustrous and your hair thick and sleek you know that your parathyroid glands are quite normal, says Dr. Levi

Take one TONIGHT Wake up RIGHT
Cascarets
"THEY WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP"
Quick Sure Relief for CONSTIPATION BILIOUSNESS SLUGGISHNESS
10c

Your COLD checked in 24 hours
A Laxative-Quinine combination does it

The quickest way to check embarrassing sniffles and sneezes and regain comfort and relief is to take Grove's Laxative BROMO QUININE Tablets. Their dual action has made them the world's most popular cold remedy. Insist on Grove's Laxative BROMO QUININE. Don't accept a substitute. Get a box at any drug store.

YOU GET BOTH IN—

GROVE'S... Laxative
Bromo Quinine
TABLETS
Refuse Remedies Which Give Only Temporary Relief

THE MYSTERY OF GERALDINE

By ANTHONY ABBOT

GREATER BOSTON NEWS — BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN — A HOME PAPER FOR THE PEOPLE WHO THINK — 2D SECTION

BOSTON, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1931

HULTMAN HITS NEW LAW FOR TAXI MUDDLE

Maskell Firm as the Third Degree Is Applied

CHAPTER 14

Maskell Accused

MASKELL'S VOICE grew stronger, his face crimson, as he turned on the commissioner. "Who was the monster that would commit a crime like that—and on my property, my little house?"

"Never mind all that," snapped Thatcher Colt. "You must realize now that you have a lot to explain."

"When was she killed?" gasped Dr. Maskell, looking strangely around the room.

"I am asking the questions, doctor."

"It does not matter. I shall prove my innocence."

"If you can do that, fine—in the face of what we can bring against you."

"Nevertheless," cried Dr. Maskell, "you will be unable to bring a single witness to place me on the scene of the murder. And surely some one will come forward to bear me out that I waited at the entrance to Bronx Park for a girl I believed to be alive! I am not afraid!"

As he was speaking, the door was opening and a patrolman stamped in with a sheaf of notes. Colt received them with unconcealed eagerness

"Just a moment," he murmured. "These are the reports from the eight autopsies."

"Eight!" exclaimed Dougherty. "What do you mean—eight?"

"One girl, and seven pigeons," explained Colt. "Ah, and here is Dr. Multonler himself."

The assistant medical examiner nodded wearily as he stood, just within the door, and wiped his glasses

"How long had those pigeons been dead, Multonler?"

"At least ten days, sir," replied the assistant medical examiner.

"The girl was supposed to be dead two days but the pigeons were dead ten days, eh?"

"Well, sir—as don't suppose that, any more."

"The autopsy changed your opinion?"

"Yes, it did," replied the examiner. "Somebody tried to fool us. The girl had also been killed about ten days ago."

Thatcher Colt's face was very serious then, and he did not look at Dr. Maskell.

Date of Death

"Was there any food in her stomach?"

"Yes, sir."

"What food?"

"Snails."

"About how far digested?"

"Not more than five hours."

Thatcher Colt glanced around in brief accusing triumph.

"Then Geraldine Foster unquestionably met her death about 5 o'clock on the afternoon of December 21," he declared feelingly.

"Yes, sir."

"Thanks, Multonler."

"Yes—Sir!"

"Now—that did the chemist find in that bottle of water we took from the grave?"

"Tannic acid, sir. The body had been soaked in it, and a quart of it forced down the throat after death—the stomach was full of it."

"Tannic acid! Of course! Made from the bark of pine trees! Used in tanning leather, Dougherty. Tannic acid—that's what preserved the body! A dummy trick! And an old one! It was used in the David S. Paul case, out in Tahoe—you remember, but the police solved it in 24 hours. Why should this killer try that trick again?"

The commissioner closed his eyes and remained silent. But Dougherty could seldom remain silent, and this was not one of the times.

"Colt," he exploded, in exasperation, "what in the name of Jesse James and the seven Sutherland Sisters are you talking about? Hell, doesn't the district attorney amount to anything around here?"

Colt Laughed

With a grateful smile, Thatcher Colt dismissed Multonler

"It is very simple," he explained to the district attorney. "Geraldine Foster was killed There she was put into a bathtub filled with water loaded with tannic acid and that preserved the body."

"But who preserve the body?"

"It seems obvious. She was killed ten days ago, but she was buried in the last 48 hours."

"I see!" cried Dougherty suddenly and loudly Pushing back his hair, he stood up, sounding his red flat into his palm and striding back and forth. "It was a slick trick!

"Dougherty, you're marvelous!" chuckled Thatcher Colt.

Not for a moment did the district attorney discern the sarcasm of his friend. No, his brain was rapidly sketching out to him the wonderful possibilities now fust made clear to him.

"Why it would be a perfect alibi," he repeated, glaring at Doctor Maskell. "We are supposed to believe the murder took place during the last 48 hours. And, of course, the murderer hoped to work out for his movements—I think he's been slipping up here anyway He thought he would never be asked to show where he was when the murder was really committed. Well, this is the crime of a genius, Doctor Mas-

Continued on Page 18, Column 3.

700 Army Planes to Fly Over Boston

Miss Europe

MISS ALIKI DIPLANAKOS of Greece, who came into fame when she was chosen "Miss Europe," and who is touring the United States, visited Mayor Curley at City Hall today. She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Mary Diplanakos. The presented Miss Diplanakos a key to the city and historical literature.

MANEUVERS ANNOUNCED BY DAVISON

Will Continue for Several Days in May, Says Assistant Secretary of War

The army air maneuvers over Boston and New England in May will be the greatest ever staged in this country for nearly 700 army planes will be engaged, F. Trubee Davison, Assistant Secretary of War, in charge of aeronautics, declared today at Boston Airport.

His forecast was made during an inspection of the airport, and he gave high praise to Mayor Curley and Park Commissioner William F. Long for their co-operation.

The eyes of the nation's airminded, Davison said, are on Boston and here projected huge airport that will take in Governor's island and what are now flats and low water between the island and the present airport.

FRANKS MAYOR AND LONG

"When this project is completed," he said, "Boston will have one of the finest and most magnificent airports in the world — a monument to your mayor and your park commissioner."

On completion of the huge new Boston Airport, it is possible that the Army may enlarge its hangars, he said, and make Boston its focal point as the most important air base on the northeast coast.

The maneuvers in may will be in charge of Brig.-Gen. Benjamin D. Soulis and will last several days, the assistant secretary announced.

ARRIVES BY PLANE

Davison and Mrs. Davison; Hanford MacNider, U. S. minister to Canada, and Mrs. MacNider, arrived at Boston Airport yesterday by amphibian plane from Washington the MacNiders being on their way back to Ottawa, Can Today Davison saw his wife off in the same plane for Washington, with Capt Ira Eaker, noted Army pilot, at the controls.

The assistant secretary called on Mayor Curley this afternoon, his first meeting with the mayor, and tonight will be the mayor's guest at a dinner at the Copley-Plaza.

Following the dinner, Davison will go by midnight train to New York, and will leave there tomorrow night for Washington.

B. C. JUNIOR WEEK OPENS

Members of the junior class at Boston College opened the annual celebration of "junior week" with a communion breakfast held in the administration building of the college today.

A tea dansant at the Hotel Kenmore and a theater party tonight complete the program for today.

A reception and smoker to the students will be held tomorrow evening at the Heights. On Wednesday evening the varsity basketball game between Holy Cross and Boston College at the Arena will be followed by an informal dance.

Temple Israel Rites for Mrs. Goulston

Funeral services for Mrs. Theresa S. Goulston, who died Wednesday evening, were held at Temple Israel, Commonwealth ave., yesterday.

Rabbi Harry Levi, spiritual leader of the organization of which Mrs. Goulston has been a member 63 years, was in charge of the services. The sisters of Notre Dame College participated.

Malden Druggist Weds

Webster P. Bigelow, Malden druggist, and Miss Florence Jane McEachern of Brewer, Me., were married in Brewer yesterday.

BETTY GOODBAND GEORGE GOODBAND

A LOVER OF PEACE was Lindy, pet horse of the Hyacre Farm at Newton, until a modern locomotive crossed him yesterday. Then he went on a wild race. Steam from the locomotive enveloped Lindy while he was pulling George Goodband and the latter's daughter, Betty, and Ralph N. Milliken. With a wild toss he tipped the sleigh, throwing the three occupants, and raced three miles before he was stopped. Here is Lindy at peace again with Mr. Goodband and Betty. (Staff photo.)

Lindy's Wild Run Wrecks Sleigh

TOWN LOSES TWO STANDS TO CHECKER COMPANY

Hotels Decide What Cabs Are to Have Locations; No Arrests Made

Police Commissioner Eugene C. Hultman today blamed the new taxi law and not the police for the taxicab "muddle" and convinced officials of the Town Taxi Co. that a fight threatened by the company would avail them nothing.

The fight was threatened over the allocation of two stands long held by the Town Co.—the Parker House and Hotel Touraine—to the Checker Taxi Co.

Alwin E. Hodgson, treasurer of the Town Taxi Co., called on the commissioner before the latter's office was officially opened and left an hour later, indicative he was satisfied with the explanation

"I think as soon as the companies realize that the law is bothering them and not the police, everything will be all right," the commissioner said.

Asst. Corp. Counsel Leo Schwartz, legal adviser to the commissioner, charged that counsel for the companies had failed to properly advise the officials with the result that protests were entered

DECIDED BY HOTELS

The commissioner pointed out that the hotel stands were in front of private enterprises and were subject to the wishes of the hotel managements. He said both hotels asked that the Checker Co. be designated to the stands. He said the Town officials had not applied for any permits up to Saturday noon, but the situation was gradually being ironed out

Peter Knockett of the Town Co. said that the change in location of the applications also required the approval of the corporation owning the cab company. He pointed out that it was practically impossible to call a corporation meeting on such short notice Thus, he said, it was impossible for many drivers to operate their cabs legally yesterday and as a result many were operated without proper credentials.

NO ARRESTS MADE

The fact that many cabs operated illegally coupled with the last-minute granting of temporary permits by order of Mr Schwartz averted the threatening taxi famine yesterday. Drivers are permitted to operate on these temporary cards until Thursday

Squads of police detailed to check violations were on duty until late last night, but no arrests were made

Only three complaints were received at headquarters as follows and those against cabs that police said were not licensed under the new code Their drivers were properly licensed but complaints were issued against the cabs.

Two details of police Sergt John Crossen and Sergt William Donahue with two patrolmen each, were sent through the streets today to check up on both cabs and drivers.

Police said that more than 1900 drivers were at work on temporary licenses following the midnight ruling Saturday night of Attorney Schwartz that days of grace might be given

$25,000 FIRE IN SALEM

Firemen worked nearly knee-deep in slush in fighting a $25,000 fire in the Goldwaithe property on Front st., Salem, last night.

Although the street was made dangerous by the snowy slush, that caused firemen and apparatus to slip in all directions, nobody was injured.

The fire was in a two story brick building at 5 to 11 Front st occupied by the Yates Machine Co. on the upper floor A colored lodge of Elks, and on the ground floor the Shure Stationery Co., James H. Trow, plumber and L. D. Winer, wholesale paper stock company.

The fire was burning briskly when it was discovered by Norman Welch, on his way home from a moving picture show. The first alarm was sent in by Dr. Robert H. Eagan and a second alarm was sounded soon after.

Trio Escape Injury in First Sleigh Runaway of Season

"Lindy," pet horse of the Hyacre farm at 411 Dedham st., Newton, can cope with the best of his equine breed at sled pulling.

But Lindy doesn't like the modern locomotive to interfere with him when he's performing this old-fashioned means of transportation—not at all.

Yesterday he was jogging over the railroad bridge at Hartford and Revision sts., Newton, with George Goodband, manager of the farm, his daughter Betty, 11, and Ralph N. Milliken of Plymouth rd. Newton settled comfortably in the rear seat of the sleigh he was pulling

A train whizzed underneath the bridge, enveloping Lindy in clouds of steam.

He bolted overturning the sleigh and throwing the occupants to the street and did not stop until he was three miles away from the scene of his scare.

All three occupants were only slightly shaken up and underwent first aid treatment at home. The sled was demolished.

Lindy returned home chastened, but still wary of locomotives. This is the first sleigh runaway of the year.

Boston Firemen's Annual Ball Tonight

Persons from all parts of Greater Boston will attend the annual ball of the Boston Fire Department in Mechanics Hall tonight

It is expected that 10,000 will attend the affair, the proceeds of which will be used in aid of sick and needy members of the department and their families.

Three Officers Hold Posts for 25 Years

The 25th anniversary of Congregation Adath Jeshurun, which will be celebrated Tuesday evening at a banquet in Brunswick Hall, marks the silver jubilee of service of the congregation's three leading officers.

For the past 25 years ever since the doors of the synagogue were opened, Nathan Pinanski has been its president, Louis Pokrotsky vice-president and Morris L. Morrison secretary.

Arlington Man Is Pickpocket Victim

Frank C. Hockinson of 10 River st., Arlington, was robbed of $90 by a pickpocket in Cambridge subway early yesterday, according to a report made to police of Harvard sq. station. Hockinson told police he remembered being "jostled" while waiting for a car.

Smith's Funeral Held in Watertown

Masonic services for Delbert S. Smith 46, Waltham business man were held yesterday at St. John's Methodist Episcopal Church, Mt. Auburn st., Watertown, with Rev. Frank D. Taylor officiating

Special Judge to Try Auto Fraud Case

Appointment by Chief Justice Walter Perley Hall of a special judge in Middlesex Superior Court at the trial of 26 defendants charged with conspiracy to steal from insurance companies, caused postponement of the trial today.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Crafts said the chief justice would make his appointment this week.

Wedding Dress Lost in Everett Fire

A wedding dress purchased two years ago which was to be worn next Sunday by a bride-elect today by fire in the home of Clement Marchese at 44 Kelsin st., Everett.

The wedding dress was the property of Miss Lucy Marchese, who was to be wedded to Anthony Passerio of 13 Park ter., Everett.

The blaze started from a defective chimney.

Sons of Italy Honor Mayor of Quincy

Mayor Thomas J. McGrath of Quincy was initiated yesterday as an honorary member of the Order of the Sons of Italy. His nomination was sponsored by Stefano de Nonde Chapter, which is the auxiliary to Loggia Roma of the Sons of Italy

SOLONS STUDY BRIDGE PLAN

The legislative committee on metropolitan affairs will hold an executive session this week to consider legislation providing for a bridge across the Charles river at Gerry's landing, in Cambridge, to connect Mt. Auburn st. with Soldiers Field rd. in Brighton, it was announced last night by Senator Charles C. Warren of Arlington, chairman of the committee.

He stated that the new bridge, which is estimated to cost $350,000, will form an important link in the circumferential highway and carry traffic around Harvard sq. and across Cambridge to the Alewife Brook parkway in North Cambridge, Somerville and Arlington.

As part of the development of this route Senator Warren has filed a bill providing for the widening of Alewife Brook parkway from 28 to 40 feet along a stretch that extends from Massachusetts ave. to Dilboy Field.

Gordon College to Dedicate New Home

Gordon College of Theology and Missions will be dedicated with exercises in Gordon Hall, 30 Evans way, Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The sermon will be delivered by Rev. Dr. A. Z. Conrad of Park Street Church An address will be given by Dr. Pan on South Congo missioner of Education for Massachusetts.

Man Near Death by Fall Into 'L' Pit

James F. Prince, 37 of Eam Cottage st., Roxbury, had a narrow escape from death today when he fell into the pit of the Dorchester tunnel at South Station Under Attendants rushed to his aid and succeeded in pulling him to safety just as a train roared into the station He was taken to City Hospital where he was found to be suffering from internal injuries and concussions His condition is critical

Cambridge Man Held on Narcotic Charge

Lloyd Jarvis, 40 of Magee st., Cambridge arrested in Cambridge by federal narcotic agents on charges of illegal sale and possession of narcotics was held in $5000 by U. S. Commissioner Jenney today for hearing February 13. In default of bail he was committed to the East Cambridge jail.

$50 Weekly for News and Picture Tips

Do you want to get money for being alert? If so, the Boston Evening American offers the opportunity. Each week $50 in prizes will be given for news and picture tips telephoned in to the News-Tip Editor, at Liberty 4000.

What is a news tip? It's the information that something of interest to Greater Bostonians has taken place or will take place. Do you know, for instance, that an interesting picture is to be obtained, that an accident or an unusual event has happened, that there is going to be a business merger? That's a news tip.

If you have a camera, take a picture of some news event, while it is happening. Bring your action pictures to the American quick. Delay often spoils them for use.

There will be $15 given weekly for the best or the most unusual event news tip received; $10 for the next best; $5 for the next best, and $2 prizes for each of the 16 next most valuable tips. Of course, the first one who turns in the tip in an interesting event receives the award on that particular item Anyone who is alive and alert can win.

SKIPPY

Conclusive Proof

By Percy Crosby

MR. ZOOKMAN AN' UNCLE LOUIE AIN'T SPEAKIN'! UNCLE LOUIE GOES TO THE GLASS-BLOWERS BALL AN' HE HAS ON A DRESS SUIT
UP COMES MR. ZOOKMAN RIGHT BEFORE EVERYBODY AN' SAYS: "HOW DOES IT FEEL TO HAVE A HIRED DRESS SUIT ON?"
AN' UNCLE LOUIE SAYS: "NOT SO GOOD WHEN I FIND OUT YOU WAS THE LAST ONE WHAT HIRED IT, AN' HE HANDS MR. ZOOKMAN HIS VERY OWN CIGAR CASE OUT OF THE POCKET.
© 1931 | Percy L. Crosby—Great Britain rights reserved. | Bring Features Syndicate, Inc.

News in Want Ads

—New player, grand and upright pianos may be purchased at less than half the usual price at a Tremont st. establishment. Used instruments are priced from $20 up —Furniture sufficient for a small rooming house or large home is offered for sale by a Boston woman All pieces are in excellent condition Any reasonable offer will be accepted

— A number of used cars reclaimed from original purchasers before leases expired and consequently showing comparatively little usage, are for sale.

TODAY'S WANT ADS

'ABOLITION OF HISTORIC HIGH SCHOOLS UNTHINKABLE'---GOODWIN

East Boston Tunnel Route

THOUSANDS OF NAMES have been suggested to the Tunnel Editor of the Boston Evening American by readers in the search for a name for the East Boston Traffic Tunnel. We here give you an idea of the route of the tunnel from the Boston side of the Boston harbor and where it strikes in East Boston. So down deep under the Lincoln wharf sector will run the great tube. It will pass from the water territory on East Boston side at a point under North Ferry. It's Boston opening will be at Cross st., between Hanover and North sts. Now think of a name. (Staff photo.)

HEAD OF FIN. COM. DENIES THAT AIM.

Explains That Both, However, Represent Unfairness to Less Fortunate Pupils

Abolition of English high school and Girls' high school is "unthinkable," Chairman Frank A. Goodwin of the Finance Commission said today.

He asserted that the latest installment of the special school survey committee's report should not be interpreted as advocating doing away with these historic schools but merely as recommending scrutiny of their part in the educational system of the city.

English high school is said to have been the first free high school in the world, while Girls' high was the first free high school for girls in America.

UNFAIRNESS CHARGED.

In spite of a tradition of high excellence that attaches to both, the present unfairness to pupils attending the various local high schools the survey committee stated.

Chairman Goodwin's statement was as follows:

"To suggest that the English high or the Girls' high be abolished is unthinkable. Both these original high schools hold a high place in our educational system.

"However, when the curriculum in the English high and the Girls' high is the same as in the East Boston, Dorchester, Brighton and other local high schools, there is no reason for expending large sums of money to make it possible for some pupils, to the exclusion of others, to attend these central high schools.

"All the investigating committee said was this.

"Besides the unfairness of offering a double opportunity to a few who may feel themselves superior to their mates, and the unnecessary cost to the taxpayers, it is unfair to the local high schools.

MAN SEES OPPORTUNITY"

"It has a tendency to withdraw from the local schools the students who would help to make up the classes to justify instructors in some desired, and perhaps much-needed subjects, and so to narrow the opportunity of the students remaining in the local schools.

"This process, once started, gains momentum. One of the important high schools is now at least wholly restricted to the subjects of the two vocational courses, trade and commercial, while the central schools are drawing its students away.

"The girls' high is attended by fully 600 pupils from sections that have local high schools for girls, and the English high by as many boys similarly situated.

"The school committee has in its program a new girls' high for Dorchester and one for West Roxbury. When these schools are built, at least 700 of the girls who are now in the central girls' high will be enabled to go to their local high schools. Why waste the people's money?"

Beverage Tax Seen as Blow to Industry

The committee on taxation of the Boston Chamber of Commerce declared yesterday in a report to the executive committee that the proposed excise tax on bottled beverages for the purpose of raising revenue for the old age pension act would handicap the bottling industries to such an extent that the revenue would rapidly diminish.

The committee asserts that the proposed bill is designed to raise from a relatively small industry a revenue of $3,000,000 annually, and that the amount is one-ninth of the total amount of corporation taxes paid by all the corporations in the State.

Bishop Officiates at Pastor's Wedding

In Morgan Memorial Church of All Nations, 81 Shawmut ave., yesterday afternoon, Bishop William F. Anderson of the Methodist Episcopal Church officiated at the marriage of Miss Cirelta Maria La Valle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio La Valle, of 23 Rose st., to the Rev. Nicola Notarpasquale of the staff of clergy at the memorial.

Mar. 1 Earliest Date for Jobless Figures

Figures on the number of unemployed persons in Boston are not expected before March 1, according to Louis B. Sensale, supervisor of the special census for the unemployed of Boston. Census enumerators worked yesterday. On account of bad weather three days recently the work has been delayed to a certain extent, Sensale said.

Frank F. Forsythe, Restaurateur, Dead

Frank F. Forsythe, vice-president and treasurer of the Walton Lunch Co., Inc., is dead. The end came Saturday at Brooks Hospital, Brookline, where he had been confined for a week. His health had been poor for three years, but he was active in business until a month ago.

Battle Opens on Rate Differential

CORP. COUNSEL SILVERMAN JOHNSTON B. CAMPBELL FRANK S. DAVIS

AS THE FIRST WITNESS in the Interstate Commission hearing here today in Boston's fight for rate justice, Frank S. Davis, head of the Maritime Association, scored the treatment accorded this port. Mr. Campbell came from Washington for the hearing, in which Corp. Counsel Silverman is taking an active part in behalf of the city. (Staff photo.)

FIGHT FOR PORT LED BY DAVIS

The federal government collects in Boston more in tonnage and taxes from vessels arriving from foreign ports than it expends on improvements in Boston Harbor, yet at New York only 13 per cent is collected, and at Philadelphia less than five per cent.

This was brought out today by Frank S. Davis, head of the Maritime Association of the Boston Chamber of Commerce at the rate differential hearing before Interstate Commerce Commissioners in the Chamber of Commerce.

GIVES FIGURES

From 1919 to 1929, Davis said, the Government collected $1,836,946.42 in Boston or $20,182.12 more than the amount expended in the same period on Boston Harbor improvements.

In the same 10 years the government collected $6,122,411.10, or only about 13 per cent of the amount expended on New York Harbor while at Philadelphia the collection was $1,070,757.47, or less than five per cent.

At the reopening of the hearing today the Transportation Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce withdrew its intervention to let the Maritime Bureau handle the case in support of the Port Authority.

BOSTON ADVANTAGES

At the same time the Foreign Commerce Club filed a successful petition with the commissioners to be allowed to enter the controversy on behalf of Boston interests.

In his talk to the commissioners, Davis declared that the Port of Boston has many advantages, natural and otherwise, as compared with New York and other ports, but has long been seriously affected by rate handicaps. These handicaps would be practically nullified if the artificial barriers were raised, he said.

Firemen in 2-Hour Battle With Flames

Revere firemen had a stiff battle of nearly two hours, last night, with a blaze resulting, according to the authorities, from defective wiring, in the second-floor apartment of David Lavina at 1583 North Shore rd., that city.

Damage was estimated at $500. The Lavina apartment and the attic above were destroyed.

Stearns Sees Drop in Bay State Crime

Crime is on the decrease in Massachusetts, with the exception of violations of the prohibition laws and automobile offenses, Dr. A. Warren Stearns, State Commissioner of Correction, told an audience at the Watertown Community Forum yesterday.

Dr. Stearns said that broken homes were the most outstanding causes of criminals.

Advertisement

Don't Let a Cold Even Get Started!

You don't have to, with McKesson's Daroi! It's an amazing new-type treatment in tablet form, doubly fast and effective. Breaks up a cold in 6 hours—rids your system of it in 12! Leaves you with no dangerous half-cured cold as do ordinary remedies. Changes the system from an acid condition to alkaline condition, in which cold and grippe germs do not thrive. Stops headaches, too, in quick time. Also the pains and aches of neuralgia and neuritis. Safe for all—no bad effects on heart or stomach. At the first sign of any cold, headache or pain, get Daroi on the job and forestall suffering. All McKesson Service Druggists and other independent drug stores sell Daroi on a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. Get a package today. A. McKesson and Robbins' product.

Burglars Dig Away Wall, Break Safe All for $2

Some burglars, who worked for about two hours to remove part of a stone wall, and then a couple hours more to open the safe of the grocery store of Morris Finkelstein at 334 Sumner st., in East Boston, got only $2 for their labor.

Police found that burglars had removed about three feet of brickwork in the wall and gained entrance to the store through the cellar.

The $2 was in the cash register.

Crosscup-Pishon to Aid Red Cross

As a tribute to the Red Cross for the service during the World War, and in deep sympathy with the movement to aid the thousands of persons in need in the drought-stricken areas, the Crosscup-Pishon Post (Boston advertising men's unit) of the American Legion will stage a benefit performance of "A Wonderful Night," at the Shubert Theater, Thursday night.

Advertisement

Truss Experts Coming

Demonstrate the Famous Rice Method Free to Callers at Hotel

If you are ruptured, your big opportunity has now arrived. If you want to be free from the slavery of gouging, chafing trusses that make life a burden and misery, then HERE and NOW is the time to act.

Truss experts, trained under the personal direction of W. S. Rice, of Adams, N. Y., originator of the famous Rice (Non-Surgical) Rupture Method, with physician registered in Mass., will be at Brunswick Hotel, Boylston St., Cor. Clarendon, Boston, Mass., from Mon. morning, Feb. 2 until Sat. evening, Feb. 7 to give free demonstration and trial of his safe and painless Method to every man, woman and child who is ruptured.

You have, no doubt, heard and read much about this famous Rice Rupture Method and the wonderful results which thousands have reported from it. Now, you have the chance to find out all about it—to have it personally applied to your own rupture and learn just what it can and will do in YOUR OWN case. Just call at the hotel and these experts will give you their personal attention, best advice and complete demonstration entirely free.

Are you tired of that binding, hampering, uncomfortable old truss? Would you like to be done with truss-wearing forever? Then investigate this Rice plethod and learn the wonderful opportunity for help it offers. Remember it is different from everything else and is accomplishing wonderful results where all other treatments have failed. It is modern, up-to-the-minute, abreast of the latest scientific developments. It is the one Rupture Method you are not asked to take on faith alone—the one Method that is positively demonstrated to you right in your own rupture, without any charge whatever.

Don't let this great opportunity get away from you. Your call on the Truss Experts is sure to prove one of the best things you ever did. They will be there only six days, then your opportunity will be gone. Remember, you do not spend a penny unless, after having a complete demonstration, you decide this is the Method for you and you—you alone—are the sole judge.

Call any time from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m., or 7 to 9 evenings. Simply ask the hotel desk for the Rice Representatives and they will do the rest. Expert Lady Fitter attends all lady callers.

W. S. RICE, Inc., Adams, N. Y.

$840 STOLEN IN 2 BREAKS

Safe blowers escaped with a total of $840 in two week-end breaks in Brookline and Roxbury, according to reports to police today.

The largest haul was made at the office of the Colonial Coal Co., Whittier st., Roxbury, where $800 was taken. Water-soaked clothing was used to deaden the sound of the explosion that ripped the safe open.

The $40 was taken from the antique store of H. Sacks & Son, 67 Harvard st., Brookline, where thieves entered by a fire escape and gained access to a small safe.

Rev. Earle Preaches

The Rev. A. Gertrude Earle, D.D., the leading woman preacher in the Universalist denomination, spoke at the Church of Our Saviour, Waltham, yesterday.

1,100,000 GOAL IN CHILD DRIVE

A campaign for $1,100,000 for child guidance work in Boston was announced today by Judge Frederick P. Cabot of the juvenile court president of the trustees of the Judge Baker Foundation.

George W. Wickersham chairman of President Hoover's prohibition commission, will be the principal speaker at the opening banquet, March 12, in the Copley-Plaza.

Robert F. Herrick, named general chairman for the drive, today appointed a number of sub-committees with Mrs. Herrick leading a large women's committee.

The women started work today with a luncheon in the home of Mrs. Harvey H. Bundy, 133 Beacon st. Back Bay.

Sub-committee heads include Roland W. Boyden, Mrs. Jesse D. Hodder, Dr. Roger Irving Lee, Phillips Ketchum, Mrs. Bundy, Mrs. Herrick, Mrs. Robert Homans, Christian A. Herter and Roger Pierce with Richard C. Paine as campaign treasurer.

Graduate Nurses to Hold Formal Dance

Graduate nurses of Hart hospital, Moreland st., Roxbury, will hold their annual formal dance at the Crystal Ballroom of the Hotel Kenmore tonight for their benefit fund.

Miss Lillian Oremberg is in charge of the affair.

4 Youths Held in $40,000 for Theft

Four youths were held in $10,000 each today for the grand jury in connection with theft of a truck and tobacco last week in the North End. The truck was found in an East Boston garage.

Donato Floria of Charter st., and Anthony De Georgio of Flint st., both North End, were also charged with theft of tobacco from the trucks of Benjamin Weiner of Medway and John Randozza of Quincy. Henry Mastino of North ct., North End, and John Amoroso of Leyden st., East Boston, were the others.

Advertisement

Sore, Tight Chest Means "Look Out!"

A cold in the chest is always something to be concerned about. Any soreness or tightness should be your warning signal. At the first sign of a chest cold, rub in Absorbine thoroughly on chest and on the back. This is the new-type external treatment for colds and congestions that work two ways at once. It applies local treatment to the affected parts and at the same time releases penetrating vapors. Every breath you take carries relief. Absorbine is clean to use—does not stick or stain clothing or bedding. Relieves head colds, sore throat, lame back, etc., as well as chest colds.

The most useful remedy you can have in your medicine chest. All McKesson Service Drug sts and other independent drug stores sell Absorbine. Note the name A. McKesson & Robbins, product.

DENTISTRY WITHOUT PAIN

At Prices the Workingman Can Pay

We cater to the people who work, to those who cannot afford to pay high prices for their dental work. We give you first-class dentistry that is strong, durable and artistic, at the lowest possible price.

A Splendid Set of Teeth $15 Lower or Upper

Tooth Extracted $1

YES, WE GIVE GAS!

Broken Plates Repaired IN 3 HOURS

Ask About Our Convenient MONTHLY PAYMENT PLAN

DR. McKNIGHT, Inc., 5 BROMFIELD ST.

SURGEON-DENTISTS Cor. Washington St.

PHONE LIBERTY 6052 Hours 9 A. M. to 6 P. M. OPP. RAYMOND'S

CHILDREN'S COLDS

are doubly dangerous with FLU around

While there is no cause for serious alarm over the mild epidemic of flu in this locality, health authorities advise extra precautions against colds just now.

Check Every Cold at the Start

Unless treated promptly, colds tend to pull down the body resistance and often pave the way for an attack of flu with all its serious complications.

Don't "Dose" Except on Doctor's Advice

Too much internal medicine often disturbs the digestion and further lowers the vitality just when the body-strength is most needed. Modern mothers prefer Vicks VapoRub as it is applied externally and thus can be used freely and as often as needed without upsetting the stomach.

Attacks Colds 2 Ways at Once

Just rubbed on throat and chest and covered with warm flannel, Vicks acts thru the skin like a poultice or plaster, drawing out the tightness and soreness; at the same time, its medicated vapors, released by the warmth of the body, are inhaled direct to the air-passages, loosening the phlegm and soothing the irritation.

Of course, Vicks two-way action is just as effective for adults' cold-troubles, too.

DON'T TAKE CHANCES WITH COLDS, NOW!

26 VICKS VAPORUB 21

OVER 17 MILLION JARS USED YEARLY

$2500 CASH PRIZES

Your Knowledge of American History Can Help You to Win a Large Cash Prize!

$250 cash awards each week in the "OLD GLORY" HISTORICAL PICTURE CONTEST

A New Contest With New Prizes Every Week in the

BOSTON SUNDAY ADVERTISER

Largest Sunday Circulation in New England

THREE MORE INFLUENZA DEATHS; 25 NEW CASES REPORTED

PNEUMONIA ALSO TAKES 3 LIVES

Health Head Reiterates His Statement That No Epidemic Exists

There were 25 new cases of influenza and three deaths reported at City Hall today for the 48-hour period ended at noon.

This is above normal, based on an average of cases and deaths in the week corresponding to this over a period of five years.

This average shows only 22 new cases in each of the corresponding weeks over the five years, and only two death.

On the same basis lobar pneumonia cases for the 48-hour period ended at noon today log a no, with three deaths as against 51 cases and 17 deaths in each corresponding week over a period of the past five years.

Deputy Health Commissioner Joseph Monahan reiterated today that there is no influenza epidemic.

Groundhog Ducks Back

SIX MORE WEEKS of cold and snow was the prediction of Old Man Groundhog when he stepped out of his den to live up to the old Candlemas Day legend. He saw his shadow and scurried back to his hiding place. If his shadow was missing, the legend says, the back bone of winter would have been broken.

'BAD GRAMMAR' WIFE GIVEN DIVORCE

Husband Didn't Like It and Pinched and Bit Her, She Tells Court

She said "ain't" all the time and her husband didn't like it. He made fun of her publicly and at home pinched her and bit her, all because she used poor English.

Such was the testimony of Mrs Grace D Stansfield of Quincy when she sued for a divorce from Robert S Stansfield before Judge Joseph H McCowe in the Norfolk Probate Court today.

Mrs Stansfield told the judge her husband, though a Tech graduate and a polished speaker, wasn't so well polished when it came to being tolerant and gentle. He used to pinch her violently, she claimed, because she said "her" when she ought to have said "she."

The case was uncontested and Judge McCowe granted the divorce on the grounds of mental and physical cruelty.

The Stansfields were married in February, 1923.

In Old Boston—No. 473

SHIPPING RUNNING into Boston has been for years warned away from dangerous Minot's Ledge by a lighthouse or a lightship. About 100 years ago the old lighthouse was destroyed in a great storm and then a lightship was substituted. The ship pictured here was placed in 1854 and has since been replaced by a lighthouse.

TOMORROW Ft. Independence.

... ... Clip Here and Save ... ...

MRS. GILMAN'S TRIAL PUT OFF

Trial of Mrs. Florence Bennett Gilman of Newton, and two co-defendants, Miss Julia Riley of Brighton and Mrs. Lillian Donovan of Brookline ave., was put off today until Thursday because of pressure of business in the second session of Superior Court.

The three are charged with conspiracy to steal from six downtown horse agents and receiving stolen goods.

Asst Dist Atty Frederick M J. Sussman in having the trial put over until Thursday, said that other cases would come up for action in the second session until that time.

$4.00 BOSTON TO NEW YORK via COLONIAL LINE
ORCHESTRA and DANCING
REMOVAL NOTICE
Boston Office: 148 STATE ST.
Tel. Hancock 1700-181 FEDERAL ST.

Teacher Held in Raid Peads Nolo

Kate Sanborn, 24, Swampscott school teacher, and Ralph W Perkins of Portland, Me., appeared in municipal court today before Judge Adlow on serious charges following a raid by police on a South End hotel a week ago. The Sanborn girl was allowed to peid no o and the case filed. Perkins was found guilty and placed on probation for six months. The couple were freed following information from Perkins' wife.

S.S. Effingham Due in Halifax Tonight

Announcement that the coast guard cutter Tampa, towing the disabled shipping board steamer Effingham, would reach Halifax late tonight was received at Base 5 of the coast guard, East Boston, today. The Effingham became disabled January 15, when her main propeller shaft broke in a storm, 275 miles southeast of St John's, N B.

Sick Man Rescued From Blazing Home

With all ways cut off by heavy smoke, Myers Zaius, 48, of 6 Bessel st, Chelsea, was rescued from his second floor room on the third floor of his home when Lieut Edward Riley of the Chelsea fire department carried him over a ladder to the street. The fire started in the walls of the first floor and caused damage of $500.

The was alone on the top floor.

3 Cambridge Youths Guilty of Auto Theft

Charles F. Phelps 22, of Green st., Francis P. Maguire 17 of Putnam ave. and Norman E. Way 18, of Main st., all of Cambridge, were found guilty today in East Cambridge district court for the use of an automobile without authority and received suspended sentences to the Concord reformatory. All had previously pleaded not guilty.

Newton Man Fined $100 in Lottery Case

Thomas J. Day, 39, of Sherce Cliff rd, Newton, was fined $100 in Newton court today on a charge of setting up and promoting a lottery.

Sun Saves Groundhog After Lantern Act Fools Prophet

Canoe Ridge, Punxsutawney, Pa., Feb. 2 (AP)—The original and official ground-hog today emerged from his den and the weather scouts predicted there's need for more winter coat.

Brer Groundhog saw his shadow twice this morning but the first time didn't count because the first shadow was cast by light of a lantern held by overzealous weather scouts.

The second appearance of the ground-hog, however, resulted in a bonafide production. He saw his shadow shortly after 8 a. m. The old fellow went back to bed.

Albany, N Y, Feb 2 (AP)—A flock of 14 robins has been seen in Monroe county, it was announced here today. They were expected to arrive there

SIX WEEKS OF WINTER AHEAD

Old Brer Groundhog, crawling from his hole today finally saw his shadow etched on a white snowy bank when the sun came out at 10:25 a m. He immediately retired for six more weeks of hibernation.

A bright sun was shining overhead when the groundhog made his appearance, and therefore, according to the legend, winter will head away for six more weeks.

If he had been unable to see his shadow the back of winter would have been broken and he would have remained above ground to greet an early spring.

City Thanks Kirstein

MAYOR CURLEY LOUIS E. KIRSTEIN COUNCILLOR BUSH

LOUIS KIRSTEIN, vice-president of Filene's, received from Mayor Curley today an engrossed copy of a resolution passed by the City Council in appreciation of his gift to the city of the Kirstein Memorial Library. Councillor Bush sponsored the resolution.

ONYX
336 NEWBURY STREET
FORMERLY THE BARN
Boston's Newest Nite Club
Wed. Nite Surprise Nite
Special Dinner From 5-8 P. M.
$1.00 & $1.50. No Cover at Any Time
Three Floor Shows Nightly
DANCING UNTIL 2 A. M.
Reservations Phone Ken. 0446

"No danger of a cough spoiling OUR act," say Playboys

THE PERTUSSIN PLAYBOYS
Brad and Al with Harry Grey

"PERTUSSIN relieves coughs right on the dot," the Playboys declare. That's why broadcasting studios keep it on hand.

Pertussin is safe—no gentle and harmless that doctors have prescribed it for 30 years, for both old and young.

You too, can benefit by Pertussin—the remedy used by radio people who can't afford to cough. It will give you prompt relief. This is coughing weather. Don't let a cough hang on. Take care of it. Stop in at any druggist for a bottle of Pertussin today.

PERTUSSIN

Hear the Pertussin Playboys—Mon., Tues., Wed., 9:15 A. M., Columbia Network

KIRSTEIN GETS TESTIMONIAL

Louis E. Kirstein, vice-president of Filene's and philanthropist, who presented the Kirstein Memorial Library to the City of Boston last year, was today presented with an engrossed and framed copy of a resolution passed by the City Council in appreciation of his gift, by Mayor Curley.

The presentation took place in the mayor's office in City Hall.

In attendance at the ceremony was City Councillor Herman L. Bush of Dorchester, who sponsored the resolution in the City Council.

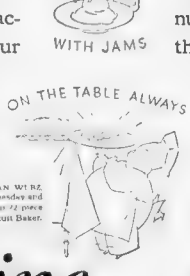
The library was opened to the public on May 7, 1930. It is housed in a new building in City Hall ave. and the first two floors are devoted to a business library. In the third floor is located a general library for the use of adults.

Since its opening the library has been visited by 134,779 persons, an average of 658 each day.

No other cracker is so creamy and flavorful

At the first tempting bite you will discover just why Sunshine Cream Lunch are family favorites throughout New England. They are so creamy, they actually "cream away" in your mouth. And they are so flavorful, they add appetizing sparkle to all sorts of dishes right through meals.

After school, let the children tumble Cream Lunch Crackers into a bowl of milk or spread them with jams, jellies or peanut butter. Here is healthful food they will never refuse. You will recognize Sunshine Cream Lunch Crackers at your grocer's in big, yellow, wax-wrapped pantry packages.



TUNE IN WNAC, or WEAN WTAG WNBH WORC WICC WLBC, every Tuesday and Saturday at 9:45 a.m. You'll enjoy our 42 piece orchestra and Sunshine Bill, the Biscuit Baker.

Sunshine CREAM LUNCH CRACKERS

FROM THE THOUSAND WINDOW BAKERIES OF LOOSE-WILES BISCUIT CO.

THE THIMBLE THEATER

By Segar

(Registered U. S. Patent Office)

Now Showing—"Get the Gat!"
Tomorrow—"The Finishing Touch"

TELLING GUNT GORE THAT POPEYE'S AN INVALID WAS A GOOD IDEA, CASTOR
SURE IT WAS— POPEYE'LL CRACK 'IM IN A MINUTE
SO YOU'VE BEEN AN INVALID FOR TWENTY YEARS—? THAT'S LONG ENOUGH—I'M GOING TO BUST YA ON THE CHIN AND END YOUR MISERY
COUGH COUGH
I WOULDN'T WASTE A BULLET ON A WEAKLING— NOW LAY DOWN—
YA SEE, MISTER BAD MAN, I'M SO USED TO HAVIN' PAINS I DON'T EVEN NOTICE LITTLE TAPS LIKE WHAT YOU GIMME TAKE HIS GUNS AWAY FROM HIM, POPEYE! TAKE HIS GUNS!
TAKE HIS GUNS!!
SEGAR

I DID IT AND I'M GLAD

By Milt Gross

(Registered U. S. Patent Office)

Kabibble Kabaret—By Hershfield

Registered U. S. Patent office—Copyright, 1931, International Feature Service, Inc.

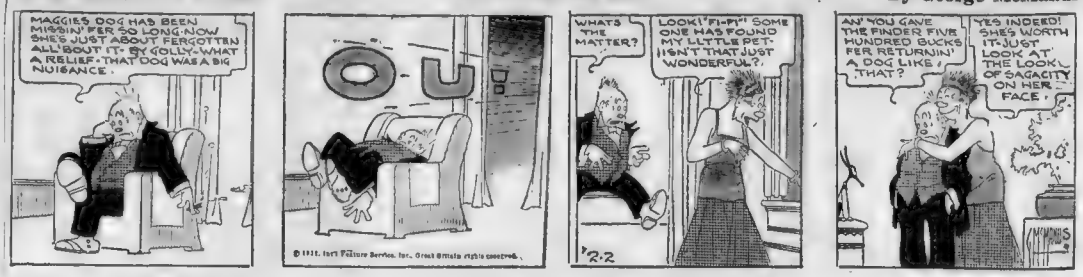
DEAR MR. KABIBBLE,
WHAT IS LOVE? — L. D. R.

SOMETHING THE MINISTER CHUCKS IN WITH "HONOR" AND "OBEY"

BRINGING UP FATHER

Fi-fi Is Found—$500 Reward

By George McManus



MAGGIES DOG HAS BEEN MISSIN' FER SO LONG NOW SHE'S JUST ABOUT FERGOTTEN ALL 'BOUT IT- BY GOLLY- WHAT A RELIEF- THAT DOG WAS A BIG NUISANCE.
O-U.
WHAT'S THE MATTER?
LOOK! "FI-FI" SOME ONE HAS FOUND MY LITTLE PET. IISN'T THAT JUST WONDERFUL?.
AN' YOU GAVE THE FINDER FIVE HUNDRED BUCKS FER RETURNIN' A DOG LIKE / THAT?
YES INDEED! SHE'S WORTH IT- JUST LOOK AT THE LOOK'L OF SAGACITY ON HER FACE.

POLLY AND HER PALS

What's in a Name?

By Cliff Sterrett

HEY MAW, WOT'S THIS I HEAR ABOUT CARRIE HIRING A GOVERNESS FER GERTRUDE?
SHE ENGAGED A MISS SAVAGE, SATURDAY.
A MISS SAVAGE, EH?
OH, BOY! IF THEY'S ANYTHING IN A NAME, SHE'S JESS WOT THE DOCTOR ORDERED.
I WOULDN'T BE TOO OPTIMISTIC, PAW.
DON'T FERGIT THAT GERTRUDE'S NAME IS MEEK!
CLIFF STERRETT 2-2

TIM TYLER'S FLYING LUCK

A Blocked Exit

By Lym Young

HAD SPUD ALLOWED BELSO RAGA TO CONTINUE THROUGH THE EXIT OF THE CAVE, AND FOLLOWED UNSEEN, HE WOULD HAVE DISCOVERED TIM — INSTEAD, THE OVERLY ANXIOUS YOUTH ENGAGED IN A TERRIFIC STRUGGLE WITH THE TRAPPER, DURING WHICH THE PAIR TOPPLED DOWN INTO A PIT!
HE'S UNCONSCIOUS! HE'S HURT! I-I CAN'T LEAVE HIM LYIN' HERE! I'LL HAUL HIM BACK THROUGH TH' CAVE TO HIS SHACK — —WHEN HE COMES TO, I'LL TALK HIM INTO TELLIN' ME WHERE HE'S GOT TIM HIDDEN—THERE'S SMOKE COMING OUT OF THE CHIMNEY, BUT NOBODY SEEMS TO BE HOME —
WELL, CRAWL INSIDE, AND GET WARM WHILE WE'RE WAITING FOR MR. ESKIMO TO RETURN—

LITTLE ANNIE ROONEY

No Salt Water Taffy

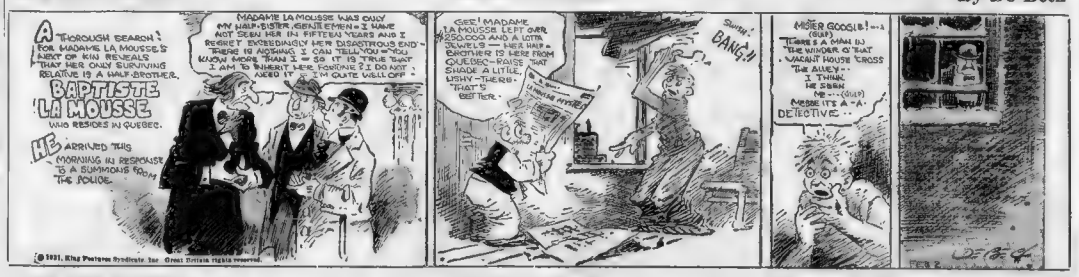
By Darrell McClure

IT'S A DRESS I WORE WHEN I WAS A GIRL— DO YOU LIKE IT?
OH, GEE— I THINK IT'S JUST GRAND!
I HOPE I'LL BE ABLE TO FIT YOU— IT'S MANY A LONG YEAR SINCE I MADE A DRESS FOR A LITTLE GIRL
YOU MEAN IT'S FOR ME— NO FOOLIN'?
IT'S A PRETTY PATTERN— I HOPE I DON'T MAKE A BOTCH OF IT.
I THINK IT'S LOVELY— AN' I GOTTA MUCH YOU'RE GONNA MAKE IT AWFUL SWELL— I GUESS YOU COULDN'T DO NOTHING THAT WASN'T NICE!
WHEN FOLKS IS NICE TO ME, I JUST GOTTA BAWL— IT'S KINDA SILLY— BUT I CAN'T HELP IT— BESIDES, I'LL WASH MY FACE AN' NO ONE WILL KNOW WHAT A SAP I AM!

BARNEY GOOGLE

The Face in the Window

By De Beck



A THOROUGH SEARCH FOR MADAME LA MOUSSE'S NEXT OF KIN REVEALS THAT HER ONLY SURVIVING RELATIVE IS A HALF-BROTHER, BAPTISTE LA MOUSSE, WHO RESIDES IN QUEBEC.
MADAME LA MOUSSE WAS ONLY MY HALF-SISTER, GENTLEMEN— I HAVE NOT SEEN HER IN FIFTEEN YEARS AND I REGRET EXCEEDINGLY HER DISASTROUS END— THERE IS NOTHING I CAN TELL YOU— YOU KNOW MORE THAN I— SO IT IS TRUE THAT I AM TO INHERIT HER FORTUNE? I DO NOT— AGREED IT— I'M QUITE WELL OFF—
HE ARRIVED THIS MORNING IN RESPONSE TO A SUMMONS FROM THE POLICE.
SEE! MADAME LA MOUSSE LEFT OVER $250,000 AND A LOTTA JEWELS— SHE'S MY HALF— BROTHER IS HERE FROM QUEBEC— RAISE SHADE A LITTLE, USHY— THERE— THAT'S BETTER.
SMITH! BANG!!
MISTER GOOGLE!— (GULP) THERE'S A MAN IN THE WINDER O' THAT VACANT HOUSE ACROSS THE ALLEY— I THINK HE SEEN ME— (GULP) MAYBE IT'S A— A DETECTIVE—

ABIE THE AGENT

The Traffic Situation

By Hershfield

THE PHYSICIAN CAN THE PHYSICIAN CAN'T TAXI!
WHERE TO?
JUST RIDE ME AROUND HERE TILL I FIND MY LIMOUSINE = IT'S PARKED AROUND HERE SOMEPLACE

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN —Largest Evening Circulation in New England

Magazine and Fiction Page

Pontoffi 's

Posts are said to have been originated in the regular couriers established by Cyrus, who erected "post houses" throughout Persia about 550 B. C. The first in Europe were started in France by Louis XI in year 1470.

This Day in Our History

On February 2, 1848, the treaty of Guadaloupe Hidalgo was signed by the United States and Mexico. By the terms of this treaty, Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California were ceded to the United States.

He Acted 'Fresh,' But She Wants Him Back

—By BEATRICE FAIRFAX—

BEATRICE FAIRFAX will gladly answer questions regarding heart and home problems. Address her in care of the Boston American. Write on one side of the paper only. If you wish a personal answer enclose self-addressed, stamped envelope. Otherwise, questions of interest will be answered through her daily columns.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am a girl of 16. I like a boy of 18. I went out with him steady for a while. He was nice to me and never got fresh, but after I went with him a while he changed, but I didn't let him go far. He got sore as if I told him to take me home. He didn't speak all the way. I haven't been out with him since. He fell for another girl. She dresses nice and has money. She is nice looking, too. But he speaks to me just the same. But for all his faults, I like him just the same. When I went out with him he acted as if he liked me a little. Do you think he likes me, and how can I get him back? I've also met his folks and I like them very much.

Beatrice Fairfax

BRIGHT EYES.

Dear Bright Eyes: Love at 13 is pretty apt to be an all embracing love of life and the state of, "being in love" rather than any particular object. That is why young love changes its affections so often and finds a new ideal every week. The boy is obviously not in love with anybody. Be friendly if you like, but don't give him a chance to repeat his "fresh" actions.

On Sensible Basis

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am a girl of 16 and keep company with a man of 22. He is very good to me and I love him. He tells me he loves me also. My parents do not care to have me go with him on account of his family. He is very dear to me and I can not give him up. Do you think it wise of me to leave him or go with him in spite of his family?

CURLEY

Dear Curley: Usually the family of a girl of sixteen are better able to judge the friends she should have than she is herself. At any rate, you are both rather young to consider a serious engagement just now. If your people have nothing against the young man himself, but only against his family, that is not so serious, although, of course, one would not judge a person is by the background they have. This is not always a true guide, however, and you should do no harm to keep your friendship on a sensible basis until some definite decision is indicated.

In Love With Boy of 14

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am a girl of 19 and am in love with a fellow who is 14. The girls who live near me tell me I am foolish to continue going with him. I love him and cannot give him up. Please give me your advice as quickly as possible.

ANXIOUS.

Dear Anxious: Of course you are foolish to continue to think as you do about this boy. You are a young woman, and this lad is not even out of childhood. For goodness sake be a little sensible and pick out a boy nearer your own age, or even much older. How can you possibly be interested in a boy of 14, unless your mentality is that of a 12 or 14 year old girl? Biologically it's all wrong, too, because while you are now a young woman, ready for love and marriage, he is hardly out of the short-pants stage, and should wait at least another ten years of development, mental and physical.

Don't Run After Him

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I read your column daily, and see that you have helped many with their difficulties. Would you please help me? I am in love with a boy a year and a half older than myself. He likes me, I know, and shows it at times. We go to the show often together, but sit away from each other. He does not seem to like me much. Would you please tell me how I could show my love for him? We attend the same high school, but in different buildings.

MARY ANN.

Dear Mary Ann: It is not necessary for you to go to any great lengths to show this boy how much you love him. If he really wanted to believe that you did, nothing would keep him from believing it. You are probably pretending to doubt you, just to see how far you will go in your demonstrations. Continue to be friendly and pleasant, and don't run after him and go to extremities to prove your affection.

What's in Fashion?

New Woolens for Spring

—Directed by AMOS PARRISH—

NEW YORK, Feb? ?—Don't go looking at spring woolens unless you want to do some home dressmaking. Because you're going to want them, just as sure as preaching!

Some of them you're going to get just because you can't keep your hands off them. Others because you can't keep your eyes off them.

And that combination of lovely feeling fabrics and lovely-looking fabrics is just going to make this spring a costumers unbeatable!

Are you tired of broadcloths and suede-finished fabrics in coats? Then don't have to have them this spring. Crepey woolens, with soft nubs and a mesh like, loose weave are the most fashionable coat woolens of all.

Mesh-Like Crepes

By "mesh-like" we don't mean that they are woven with wire

Nubby, crepey wool

open spaces. Some of the dress woolens are woven just this way. But in the coat woolens the meshes are smaller than pin points. You really can't see them till you hold them up to the light.

But it makes a lovely light fabric, just warm enough for spring weather, and a fabric that can be worked into those soft "dress-like" coats and jacket suits that everybody's going to wear this spring. You can see this nubby, crepey effect in the illustration.

If you like the crepey effect, but don't care for the mesh-like weave, then you'll want to look at the plain crepey woolens. They're neither nubbed nor meshed, but are more like the wool crepes you've been wearing in dresses. (And are going to wear again this spring). Only heavier, of course, for coats and suits.

Even this spring are different. They have a spongy feeling when you touch them. Soft tweeds had the feeling to some extent, but spring ones have it even more.

Spongy tweed

Some make you think almost of lace—they're woven so loosely. The mesh-like texture we first spoke about is even more pronounced in these. They make lovely soft dresses—and in heavier weights, coats and jacket suits.

Fashionable spring tweeds give the effect of being one color, as illustrated. But when you look closely at them, you'll see that they're really made up of two colors — and sometimes even three. But those colors are so harmonious—so carefully blended that you think of them as one color.

Openwork mesh

Beige and brown, for instance, will be mixed so carefully that the effect is of a dark beige. And when you pick up a dark gray tweed and examine it, you'll find it's really made up of gray, black and white

Other New Wools

Besides these crepey and nubby woolens, there are some that are very smooth and soft to touch. Cheviots and kashmirs, for instance. Others are smooth but harder, like serges and repp. And these make smart pocket suits and new tailored dresses.

And that, of course, doesn't sound new. But wait till you see the new colors in them. Pick up a piece of repp in a bittersweet shade, for example, and you'll never think of it as repp at all—

Superior tweed

it looks so new and different in this bright color

New Jerseys

Even our old standby, jersey, has a mesh look this spring. That is, the new jerseys do. And there are those wools we spoke of before, woven with a decided square, open mesh. While the most open-work of all is the wool lace that looks for all the world like a piece of hand-knitted work, as shown in the sketch.

These last three fabrics are going to be used this spring more for blouses than for complete costumes. But when summer comes along, watch them appear in whole dresses and jacket costumes at every fashionable sports gathering.

Copyright, 1931, by Amos Parrish.

Table Chat Brightens Up Meal

By MRS. BEECKMAN.

DEAR MRS. BLECKMAN

Can you please tell me if it is correct to carry on a general conversation while eating? I have different opinions on this subject, and I have come to the point where I want to know what is right. P. V

Quite right it is to "chat of this and that" during the meal. To eat in silence is boorish.

We should talk to our neighbors at a table, and, when the conversation at a dinner party becomes general, as often does once in a while, we enter into the general discussion.

Questions on Grammar

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN

I suppose questions on grammar are not strictly in your line, but I thought perhaps you would be the one to help settle an argument for me.

Which of these sentences is correct?

It has all been fixed up between she and I.

It has all been fixed up between her and me?

L. H

The latter sentence is correct. —"It has all been fixed up between her and me." The word between is a preposition, and is followed, therefore, by the objective case—her and me

A Return of Hospitality

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

Two weeks ago my husband and I were invited to a 6 o'clock dinner along with several other guests. How shall we repay our hostess and how soon? The hostess is not an intimate friend, but our children are very dear friends. K. H

You should, as soon as convenient, return the compliment of such gracious hospitality. A dinner invitation is an especially gracious courtesy and, if we are careful about our social obligations we want to give a "return of hospitality" party fairly soon after we have been invited.

(Mrs. Beeckman will be glad to answer questions on etiquette submitted to her.)

Copyright, 1931, by Premier Syndicate, Inc.

Requests for Special Recipes Answered

By MARTHA LEE

From Martha Lee's Monday Morning Broadcast Over Station WLEX

EVERY SO often we get a "request program" over the radio, so today I've gathered up a few of the special requests for a request program.

So waiting no further, here, then, for the opening number is a request for Brownies, requested by Mrs. R. E. A. of Pine line

Martha Lee

BROWNIES

½ c. butter
1 c. sugar
2 squares chocolate
½ tsp. salt
2 eggs
½ c. nut meats
½ c. flour

Cream butter, add remaining ingredients, spread on buttered sheets and bake 10 to 15 minutes. Cut in squares as soon as taken from oven.

Mrs. A. R. D., of Newtonville, asks for

BRAN MUFFINS

1¾ c. bran
¼ c. white flour
1 c. milk
2 tbsps. molasses
1 egg
3 tsps. baking powder
1 tbsp. butter
¼ tsp. salt.

Mix dry ingredients; add egg, well beaten, molasses, milk and melted butter; beat well and bake in buttered gem pan 20 to 30 minutes in moderate oven.

For Mrs. J. M., of Brookline, the following

PARSNIP FRITTERS

Cut cold, cooked vegetables in small pieces, sprinkle with salt and pepper; dip in olive oil, then in fritter batter; fry in deep fat.

Next, a request from Saugus for a

SPANISH OMELET

2 eggs
2 tbsps. hot water
1 tbsp. butter
Few grains cayenne
¼ tsp. salt
Melt butter in frying pan, add well beaten eggs, to which seasoning and hot water have been added. Cook in cool portion of range, lifting mixture as for Scrambled Eggs. When creamy, pour into a hot buttered frying pan, brown delicately, fold and serve. Garnish with Spanish Sauce.

REAL SOUTHERN SWEET POTATOES

Cut cold boiled sweet potatoes in lengthwise slices. Arrange in layers in buttered baking dish. Cover each layer with brown sugar, dot with butter, sprinkle with salt and pepper, add one cup boiling water and bake in hot oven.

Faithfully yours,

Martha Lee

Tomorrow's Table

BREAKFAST
Fruit
Liver and Bacon
Graham Gems
Coffee

LUNCHEON
Corn and Lima Beans in Milk
Lettuce
Corn Bread
Tea

DINNER
Roast Veal with Stuffing
Mashed Potatoes
Sweet Pickled Beets
Cauliflower au gratin
Steamed Chocolate Pudding with Foamy Sauce
Coffee.

Our Round Table Recipes

SIX AWARDS of $1 each will be published each Saturday for the best contributions to this department during the week. The household suggestions may be made not only recipes, but any sort of helpful hints for housewives economical cookery or housekeeping in any of its forms.

Address all contributions to Martha Lee School of Practical Cookery, 5 Winthrop sq., Boston, Mass

At Lee School

A SPECIAL attraction at the Martha Lee School of Practical Cookery tomorrow and Wednesday this week will be a demonstration by Mr. Houtman, director of the Houtman Pastry School of New York, who will show his methods of making fancy pastries.

Mr. Houtman has had a wealth of experience, extending over a period of 25 years in France, Holland, Germany and other countries in the Continent, where his singular career was recognized internationally. He has had as pupils some of the country's most famous chefs, such as A. Arragon, pastry chef of "The Croyden" Hotel, New York; Frank Miller, pastry chef of the Alcott Hotel, New York, and A. Adler, pastry chef of the French Meadow Golf Club, Flushing, Long Island. His pupils, however, are not confined to professional men.

Mr. Houtman's school is in New York, at 19 West Twenty-seventh st., corner of Broadway, and he has an office and school in Boston, at 9-A Park sq. He would like to have you come to his Boston school just to see some of the wonderful pieces made by his men

Macaroni Contest

RECIPES FOR the $100 Cash Contest conducted by the C. F. Mueller Co. are beginning to pour in. Don't fail to send in your contribution to this New England wide popular contest.

And whether or not you win a cash prize with your recipe, you are sure to get one of the handy Mueller Macaroni and Spaghetti Timers that will save much clock watching in the kitchen. Address all recipes and contributions to the Macaroni Contest Editor, care of Martha Lee, Boston Evening American.

SMART SAYINGS OF CLEVER CHILDREN

The Boston Evening American will pay $1 for the best one of the published smart sayings each day. Address "Smart Sayings," Boston Evening American.

TODAY'S WINNER

Mother—For goodness sake, I wonder what is holding up that train?

Kid—Gee, ma, I hope it ain't that chewing gum I threw on the track.

JOSEPHINE E. BALSAMO.
36 London st., East Boston.

HONORABLE MENTION

Little Girl—Mother, may I go over to Leanard's house and see his pigeons in the big glass bowl?

Mother—You mean goldfish, not pigeons.

RUTH MOULTON,
330 Webster st., Rockland

John—When is money damp?

Little Joe—Gee John, I don't know, tell me.

John—When it is dew (due) in the morning and mist at night.

DOROTHY GOODWIN,
180 Harvard st., Cambridge.

Beware of Eyestrain Which Is a Headache Cause

—By R. S. COPELAND, M. D.—

WE ARE daily reminded over the radio and advertisements how important is the care of the teeth. Yet little mention is made by anyone of the great need for care of the eyes.

Dr. Copeland

We have 32 teeth and only one pair of eyes. If we lose a tooth we can depend upon the remainder to do the work. If need be, the dentist can supply us with artificial teeth that do the work almost as well as real ones.

It is true that artificial eyes can be bought. But such purchases are made for cosmetic reasons and of course not for sight.

In the care of the eyes we should follow the same hygienic rules that apply to the general care of our health. Never abuse your eyes. Remember and appreciate their value, and treat them accordingly.

Everybody should have the eyes examined at least once. Quite often eye defect exists, of which the victim is utterly unaware. Early care is much, in addition is likely to eliminate after discomfort. Eye examination and proper prescribing of glasses will do away with the so-called "eye strain" and its familiar companion, headache.

Unfortunately, we are a vain and proud people. Most of us dislike wearing glasses. You would be amazed to learn the number of glasses that are sold yearly and the number of glasses that were actually worn.

It is not at all uncommon for one to get glasses, and then never use them. If you are "near-sighted" or "farsighted," or have some ocular defect, you should wear glasses. Glasses kept in your bag or pocketbook will never help your precious eyes.

Those are, indeed, fortunate individuals who have no defects whatsoever. They should treat their eyes with respect, however, or they, too, will have trouble.

There are a few general rules which I will say to observe. Never read on moving vehicles. It is best not to read while lying down. All trifling attempt to have the light come over from your shoulder. Do not read in glaring or in dim light. A soft, mellow light is easily obtained, and is the ideal light to use.

Many people who have chronically inflamed eyes are constantly trying patent eye washes. This is not advisable. It is far better not to use any eye wash without first consulting your physician.

There are, of course, many standard and safe remedies. Even acid solution may be used without danger of irritating the eyes. Yellow oxide of mercury ointment is a familiar household remedy for inflamed lids. But in every case it is unwise to use any drug without the supervision of a physician.

Answers to Health Queries

Mr. Underweight. Q.—How can I gain weight?

A.—Proper dieting and deep breathing are the secret. You should eat nourishing foods and have plenty of sleep and rest. For full particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

C. A. F. Q.—Is yeast helpful in the cure of pellagra?

A.—If you have pellagra you should be under the care of a competent physician who will prescribe the proper diet and medication.

Copyright, 1931, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

BEST JOKE I EVER HEARD

The Boston Evening American will pay $1 for the best one of the jokes published here each day. Address "Best Joke," Boston Evening American.

TODAY'S WINNER

Bill: Sam, the organ-grinder's monkey was electrocuted Christmas Day.

Jim: What happened?

Bill: He was sitting on a fruit cake and a currant ran up his tail.

MYRNA L. STRATTON.
2 Bromfield st., Watertown.

HONORABLE MENTION

A commercial traveler, staying at a small hotel, wished to catch an early train and asked the proprietress for the loan of an alarm clock.

She produced the clock and remarked: "We don't use it often, sir; it sticks sometimes, but if it doesn't go off just touch the little hammer and it will ring."

MARGARET MELLO
63 Webcomet rd., Arlington

Fair one (to tourist who is shaving outside of his tent): Do you always shave outside?

Tourist: Certainly! Do you think I'm fur-lined?

A. GOFF.
6 John st., Chelsea.

TIGER HEART

—By Robert Terry Shannon

Continued from Saturday

"Because you are ever so much more interesting to me than Kitty. You see, I know her to be quite well—or the type she used to be. I haven't had much opportunity to meet girls like you. For instance, I know quite a lot of girls like Kitty, but you are a mystery. I don't know what you are really like behind all of this outward self that I can see. Of course, I suppose it would all come to the same thing—you and Kitty are probably alike under the skin, but you have an illusion of superiority that might absorb me, under other conditions."

No one had talked quite like that to Connie before; tiny tremors of interest ran through her, and she was conscious that she was pleasantly flattered.

"You say that because you don't know me and anything that is mysterious is interesting," she told him, lightly. "That's all. You probably wouldn't like me if you really knew me."

"I think so, but I'm not sure. You seem so remote and cold, Miss Calvert. Your surface emotions are rather unusual, but I can't help wondering what you are like inside."

A daring, unpremeditated and impulsive feeling surged up in her without warning.

"Would you like to know?" Very much."

"Then stay here a few days and help me out with Kitty and Jim. Maybe you'll have a chance to find out!"

Caught Breath

Connie caught her breath, caught herself up sharply.

The invitation to Duke Garson, flirtatious in implication, had spurt, spontaneously from her lips. Now, a second later, she was confused, embarrassed at her own boldness.

"I'm scarcely interested at all in Kitty and Mr. Tracy," Duke Garson told her, unsmilingly. "If I stay over it will be only because it's a chance to visit you. Let's not make any mistake about that."

A deep uneasiness possessed Connie—a foreboding that she had let herself in for an experience that might not prove pleasant. Even yet there was time, discreetly, to turn back; a few words well chosen would send Garson away. In keeping him she had an odd feeling of playing with danger; a sharp sense of awakened, alert vitality.

"We keep open house here and of course, you must stay, now that you are here, whatever your reasons may be," she smiled at him. But don't make any mistake about me—I'm afraid you'll find me an uninteresting as a drink of water. Kitty is the only firebrand on the place."

Garson's bag was taken up to his room and he followed the servant to settle himself. The advent of a strange guest in the house was no novelty to Connie's mother; often, she had said, she felt as though she lived in a hotel with so many comings and goings of young people.

"I suppose I should come down for dinner, dear," she told Connie, "for hospitality's sake. But don't expect me to entertain your guests—they would be bored, and so would I. When you are as old as I am, Connie, you'll be glad enough to give up the pack and count yourself lucky if you have but two or three friends worth keeping."

Mrs. Calvert smiled, her expression had been secure with refined experience. This made Connie comfortable. Other mothers tried to rule the home with an iron hand, but her own had a deeper wisdom: patting her hand, Connie left to go down stairs.

Kitty and Jim would be home presently, but now her interest in them had been dimmed by several degrees. What occupied her was the consciousness of Duke Garson's presence under her roof; a lingering awareness of him existed hauntingly, an inescapable impression, not to be denied. He was strangely exciting, a threat, somehow, to all that was solidly established in her being. She knew safe men by the score, but not one of them except Duke Garson could inspire the faintest thrill of provocative fear. He was, she was convinced, what would be called a bad man—and this thought had a thin edge of pleasure for her.

Minutes sped, lengthened, and an intuition came to Connie that Kitty and Jim again would be absent from the table. This time, however, she was not amazed. She wondered, with a little amusement, what their story would be; they would have to think of something better than a punctured tire. It didn't matter; with her mother coming down to dinner she would get along very nicely with Duke Garson until, eventually, Kitty and Jim should return. Her interest about their coming was right; at 6 o'clock the telephone rang. The development was that they intended staying in Stamford for dinner and seeing a movie, the first show.

"They are courting in haste and probably will marry in leisure," she told Garson, who had come down stairs freshly shaven and immaculate. "Jim is countless fun."

"Why not?" Garson replied, succinctly.

Connie shrugged. After all, why not? Without admitting, secretly, she had been in the wrong for them, their affairs felt a tension loosen. Her interest wavered sharply and centered on Garson.

"Dinner is at 7—we have almost an hour yet," she told him. "Shall we walk outside?"

Cloudy Sky

They followed the path along a low stone wall that carried them down a terraced lawn, velvety and green under a cloudy sky. A turn brought them, at further distance, to an enclosed garden, its surface as smooth as a billiard table. In the center they stopped and sat on the rim of a sunken lily pool, where elaborate Japanese fish moved lazy, ornamental fins. The earth, the shrubs, the flowers, even, gave a fragrance that held, almost, an aching sweetness. All of this quiet beauty, carefully shut away from the world's hubbub, made no visible impression upon Garson; he scarcely noticed his surroundings.

"I can't understand," Garson said, without preliminaries, "why you've brought me here—trying a man you think so little of as Tracy. Was it all sentimental nonsense?"

This, strangely, did not seem presumptuous, at the moment, to Connie, in view of Garson's announced purpose of trying to fathom her. It was on that basis, precisely, that he was here now.

"I don't know why I should talk about these things to you," she said, quietly, "except that I want to be agreeable. I can't tell you about Jim and me—it's no thing I've ever existed. No, it wasn't under a spell—I just got so used to Jim that it seemed natural that we should marry."

"And then you woke up?"

"And then I woke up—just in time. Does that help you to understand me better?"

Continued Tomorrow.

Copyright, 1930, King Features Synd., Inc.

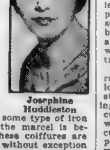
Soft Stylish Dressing of Hair Enhances Beauty

By JOSEPHINE HUDDLESTON

THERE IS a new method of dressing which I'm particularly anxious to have you know about. It is gaining favor rapidly among the women of distinction in fashionable centers.

This new method of dressing hair is entirely wet handcreasing and although it is similar to finger waving there are novel features undreamed of before in coiffures, when actually arranged on the human head.

Undoubtedly many of you have noted and envied the lovely hair arrangements seen on the dummy heads usually displayed in most hairdressing establishments.



Josephine Huddleston

Except when some type of iron wave such as the marcel is being featured, these coiffures are created almost without exception by the wet hairdressing method. And that is why the hair appears so soft and lovely in texture and style. It is only recently, however, that this method has been proven practical upon the human head. Of course, finger waving short bobs is a form of wet hairdressing and it was the overwhelming success of finger waving that interested hairdressers sufficiently to perfect wet dressing for longer bobs and even for long hair.

One of the most popular styles which lends itself to wet dressing is a particularly lovely mode for the younger woman. And if you happen to be of the type that can wear the rounded-off-the-shoulder neckline being featured in so many evening frocks, it is the perfect coiffure for your next dance.

The parting of the hair is a matter of choice, although the diagonal part is even more popular at present than it was when hair was shorter. This diagonal part begins just off center at the forehead and streaks back to the point on the head where a side part would end. It's tricky and new and becoming to the women.

Of course, the off-the-face treatment for the front and sides is used regardless of where your part falls. In this particular style the hair is waved straight back and up so that the ears are visible. The usual finger waving method is used for setting the waves.

When we get to the back arrangement however precedent is lost for we find those wet strands of hair wound into curlers of papers just like in old, old curler days. Instead of just winding these strands of hair to curl them, however each curl is placed just where it should be when the work is completed. Invisible hairpins hold the exact position of the curl until the coiffure is ready for the evening.

The usual hair net insures further protection until the hair is dry at which time the curl papers are removed and, instead of combing the hair out each curl is encouraged to fall just where it was set. This eliminates the usual fuzziness which results from curling the back hair by any other method.

Even when the curls begin to come out a little they still fall softly and keep the general lines of the coiffure.

Daily Pattern

By Marion Martin

9104

Scalloped Outlines for Spring

PATTERN 9104

WE NOTE with considerable interest the frequency with which scalloped details appear on Spring and Summer frocks. The model sketched shows this delightful treatment on cape collar, bodice, skirt and bottom of sleeves.

Pattern 9104 may be ordered only in sizes 16, 18, 20, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 requires 4⅞ yards of 39 inch material.

To get a pattern of this model, send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred). Please write very plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, STYLE NUMBER and SIZE of each pattern ordered.

The new Spring and Summer fashion book contains an excellent assortment of afternoon, sports, and house dresses, exquisite lingerie and pajamas and adorable kiddies' models. Price of book FIFTEEN CENTS.

Book and pattern together, TWENTY-FIVE CENTS

Address all orders to Boston Evening American Pattern Department, 232 West 18th St., New York City.

Financial Market News, Stocks, Bonds, Commodities and Comment

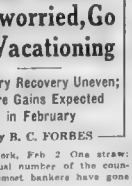
Bank Giants, Unworried, Go Vacationing

January Recovery Uneven; More Gains Expected in February

By B. C. FORBES

New York, Feb 2 One straw: An unusual number of the country's foremost bankers have gone on vacations.

This is the first time many of them have felt safe in leaving their posts since the 1929 panic. What such men have lately told me is:



B. C. Forbes

"No new danger spots have been breaking out lately. All situations requiring attention have become known before the end of the year. It now appears, since then quiet but very definite progress has been made in strengthening the general financial structure. Therefore, now is a good time to have some rest and recreation."

• • •

This betterment in sentiment in the highest financial circles has been the most notable development during the first month of the year. It has been far more pronounced than industrial or business betterment. It has been more pronounced, too, than the betterment in the security markets.

The significance of this change in attitude should not be minimized. So long as the controllers of the most powerful purse strings were panicky or even apprehensive there was scant likelihood of substantial uplift in the financial world. Now that nervousness has virtually disappeared, the way is clear for a new forward movement.

Let me hasten to add, however, that no fireworks are expected or desired. Our leading financiers and bankers are still a sober, chastened, conservative lot. They want to see rather than speculate progress. They want to build substrata either in the security markets or in the business world would create fresh distrust. Conditions, they argue, warrant no such demonstrations. Like military generals, they are anxious to consolidate each gain before another adventure is attempted.

• • •

So far there have been no runaway performances in investments or in business.

The fact is that January has not brought any notable advance all along the line. Gains in some industries, such as steel, motors, textiles, coal, building, have been partly offset by mark-downs in many other directions, as evidenced by this sagging tendency of the general commodity price level. The powers that be are less impressed by actual speeding-up of the business gains than by the accumulating evidence that the severe downswing has run its course and that this should quickly be followed by some measure of recovery.

In other words, the depression patient is now regarded as having passed the crisis and as being headed for convalescence

• • •

The security markets were doing well until fears aroused that lawmakers would soon for the raising of more than $3,000,000,000 by the Government to pay cash compensation to ex-soldiers. Until last week it had not been considered even remotely possible that any such action would be seriously contemplated. The moment this complacency was exploded, the entire bond market was thrown into alarms. Whereas bonds had been steadily gaining in strength with new high peaks repeatedly touched, they reversed their course and suffered a sharp recession above par.

This spoiled many projected bond offerings. Underwriters, encouraged by the absorption of the earlier flotations, had planned to go ahead in order to take advantage of the extremely low money rates and the reviving confidence of investors.

There is reported to be no doubt almost as quickly as it broke out, because the financial world cannot conceive that Congress will ignore the warning of the level-headed Secretary Mellon and other recognized authorities.

• • •

Stock market commentators point out that bear raiders have lost much of their boldness and are now quick to run to cover. They had figured that the publication of bad annual statements would frighten stockholders to date nothing of the kind has occurred. Even occasional reductions in dividends have not precipitated extensive liquidation. This is perfectly natural, in view of the abnormally low quotations now ruling.

• • •

The most disappointing feature is the failure of leadin, farm products to recover in value. Wheat and cloved have declined with a net loss and cotton barely held its own. Hides, a not unimportant commodity, broke to a new low level. Copper and rubber also declined.

• • •

February is counted upon to bring somewhat more convincing evidence that the corner has been definitely turned

(Copyright, 1931, by B. C. Forbes)

Bank Statement

Boston balance.....$38,000,000
Boston clearance..... 65,000,000

MOTOR ROADS ARE BUILT ON TOLL PLAN

By FRANK H. MELOON

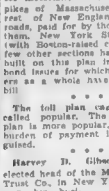
Recent mention in this column of road building contracts in Argentina, awarded to Warren Bros., Boston pavers, headed by former Postmaster Charles R. Gow, can be supplemented by the news that the progressive nation is planning to build 800 miles of hard-surfaced roads. They are to be toll roads for motorists. The famous turnpikes of Massachusetts and the rest of New England were toll roads, paid for by those who used them. New York State, Florida with Boom-raised capital and a few other sections have highways built on this plan instead of by bond issues for which the taxpayers as a whole have to foot the bill

• • •

The toll plan can hardly be called popular. The bond issue plan is more popular because the burden of payment is better disguised.

• • •

Harvey D. Gibson, recently elected head of the Manufacturers Trust Co., in New York, who began his business career as a clerk in the Boston office of the American Express Co., comes into the limelight as having made one of the largest individual stock transactions of the year. Announcement has been made that the Goldman Sachs Trading Corp. sold 277,000 shares of stock of Manufacturers Trust Co. to Mr. Gibson for $1,300,000, an average price of $26.35 a share, when the controlling unit of the bank on Jan. 2,



Harvey D. Gibson

• • •

Friday's stock market presented a typical example of divergence in two schools of "thought" in Wall and State Streets.

Numerous writers who declared the market lost ground, basing the assumption on the movement of so-called "average" tables. Those tables, including stocks ordinarily known as leaders, were ignored. The market as a whole, however, showed 349 advances, 199 declines and 123 issues unchanged in the entire turnover of 673 issues.

• • •

The market appeared lower to those following old-time leaders, which were largely disregarded in the day's trading. Every bull market has its new leaders. No doubt the compilers of "average" tables will revise their lists to include them at some time.

• • •

Alexander Hamilton Institute cites "powerful industrial interest as having stigmatized the cal of Gov. Eugene R. Black of the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta for a "reprogression from the present high grade of living" as favoring a "five-cent standard of living" This column was the first to use the expression "five-cent standard of living" in opposition to efforts of those who would lower American life in and out of the home, but we did not apply it to Gov Black's statement, which had not then appeared.

• • •

New England reports of rural production contain nothing to encourage them, to confirm the U. S. census reports of "vanishing farms" in this section. Commissioner of Agriculture Andrew L. Felker of New Hampshire tells me his plans a check-up on the federal crop of abandoned farms, and that, at the meeting of commissioners of agriculture in Boston Feb. 10, he hopes to have plans completed to make the check-up extensive

• • •

First change in the newly-issued Boston Stock Exchange Directory for 1931 is that Mr. Sturgis Bigelow George A. Rich announces the position for transfer of the membership of James J. Minot, Jr. Robert W. Puffer, Jr. Mr. Minot has held the seat since Nov. 28, 1924.

Indiana Standard Dividend Lowered

New York, Feb. 2 (AP)—Standard Oil Co. of Indiana today placed its stock on a $2 annual basis against $2.30 previously paid, by declaring a quarterly dividend of 50 cents

Foreign Exchanges

	Demand	Cable
Sterling	$4.86 7-16	$4.86 15-16
Franc	3.91 13-16	3.91 15-16
Lira	5.23⅛	5.23 9-16
Belga	13.94¾	13.94¾
Marks	23.75	23.77
Swiss	19.31¼	19.31¼
Spain, pesets	10.14⅝	10.19
Swed. krone	26.76¼	26.77¼

Boston Curb

Sales.	High	Low	Last
200 Black H Cons	⅛	1-16	⅛
200 Res & E C M n 3-16	3 16	3 16	3 16
600 Chief Cons	5-16	5-16	5-16
150 Cons Cop M	2¾	2¾	2¾
100 Gadsden Cop Col-16	1-16	1-16	1-16
100 Iron Cap Cop	1	1	1
200 Ohio Cop Co	⅛	⅛	⅛
32 Shattuck Denn	6⅝	6⅝	6⅝
200 Silver D Min Co	8¾	8¾	8¾
170 Un Verde Ex M	9¼	9	9¼
300 Verde Central, a	⅞	⅛	⅞

Today's News of Live Stocks in Wall Street

Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey today declared usual extra dividend of 25 cents, in addition to regular quarterly dividend of 25 cents, both payable March 18 to stock of record Feb. 16.

The Street seems to be very slightly more bullish on the oil and gasoline outlook. That may be due to the contemplated advance in gasoline prices in the East and the feeling that the crude oil situation is well in hand. In fact, words used for a further shrinkage in output, although production already is running 20 per cent below a year ago. The oil industry within two or three months will enter the season of enlarged gasoline consumption, and if production can be held down a material shrinkage in surplus stocks is likely before the end of the year

Kansas Standard Is Off on Poor News

Standard Oil of Kansas sold off around a point today following announcement directors at Neodesha had declared a quarterly dividend of 50 cents, placing the stock on a $1 annual basis, against $2 previously.

Merger Rumors Aid National Bellas

Merger rumors today brought a rally in National Bellas Hess with gains of 2 or more points in both common and preferred. Other issues in this group were in rather active demand, including Montgomery Ward and Sears Roebuck.

Atchison Steady, Earnings Lower

Atchison was among the most of today's session, despite some disappointment over December results which were less than expected. As net for December, 1929, was only $3,312,880 on gross of $19,815,766, and 1928 net operating income was $3,927,838 on gross of $20,687,717, it was thought that with expenses under control the management would show a load equal or better last year's figure Net of $2,622,901 for the closing month of 1930 was the lowest since 1921, when only $194,244 was shown on gross of $15,000 $250,000 more than $16,033,150 of last December

On basis of net of $44,878,466 for the year, equal to $39.60 a share of $23,775,044, or $4.6 per cent from 1929, and allowing for some reduction in other income, it is indicated Atchison earned around $12.50 a share on the $241,629,300 common, against $20.24 a share in 1929. Higher results for 1929 included $2,493,193 non-recurring back mail pay

Gross for 1930 of $224,045,044 was off $40,788,133, or 15.2 per cent from 1929 and was the lowest since 1921, when only $194,244 was shown on gross of $15,000 $250,000 more than $16,033,150 of last December

On basis of net of $44,878,466 for the year, equal to $39.60 a share of $23,775,044, or $4.6 per cent from 1929, and allowing for some reduction in other income, it is indicated Atchison earned around $12.50 a share on the $241,629,300 common, against $20.24 a share in 1929. Higher results for 1929 included $2,493,193 non-recurring back mail pay

Gross for 1930 of $224,045,044 was off $40,788,133, or 15.2 per cent from 1929, and allowing for some reduction in other income, it is indicated Atchison earned around $12.50 a share on the $241,629,300 common, against $20.24 a share in 1929. Higher results for 1929 included $2,493,193 non-recurring back mail pay

Earnings Reports for 1930 Given

General Outdoor Advertising Co and subsidiaries for 1930 had net profit of $345,240, equal to $1.40 a share on 247,000 shares. This compares with $1,843,399, or $1.82 a share on the common stock in 1929

Munsingwear, Inc., for 1930 had net income of $715,006 before dividends of subsidiaries, against $1,744,785 in 1929

Pennsylvania Water & Power Co. 1930 net, excluding $370,000 profit on sale of properties, $2,000,000 was equal to $3.69 a share, against $1,877,381, or $4.56 a share, in 1929

Noblitt-Sparks' Profit $509,666

Net earnings of Noblitt-Sparks Industries, Inc., for the year ended Dec. 31, 1930, amounted to $509,666, equivalent to $7.15 a share on 71,291 shares outstanding. In the preceding year the company earned $675,700, or $9.01 a share on 75,000 shares then outstanding. The detailed annual report of the company, which manufactures various automobile accessories, will be made public in a few days

The earnings for 1930, when considered in the light of the general curtailment of automobile production are regarded as reflecting the widespread acceptance of the company's products, which include automobile heaters, tire pumps, jacks and steel tube products. The stock is listed on the Chicago Stock Exchange

California Oil Output Lowered

Oils were inactive today California crude oil output in the week ended January 31 averaged 522,300 barrels daily, a decrease of 3500 barrels from previous week, says California Oil World.

Bonus Bugaboo Scares Market

The market took last week's bad news in fairly good manner, and if it were not for the bonus bugaboo more aggressive group work probably would be witnessed in behalf of the industrial stocks. While this sort of activity, of itself, does not make for a bull market, when the technical position is as at present it affords attractive trading opportunities.

The bonus will be the dominant market factor while it hangs fire. Sentiment, shifting pro and con, will influence trading fluctuations, and as the time draws near for definite committee action all other developments probably will be ignored. Current Washington opinion indicates that if the measure can be kept in committee long enough to prevent action this session it will be killed, but if it comes out of committee in the near future there is too much political dynamite in the veterans' agitation for Congress to turn it down

Boston Stocks

	High	Low	Last	Chg
A
Am Can	110¼	109¼	110	— ¼
Am For Pwr, 2nd	29¾	29¾	29¾	— ⅛
Am Pneu Ser	3¾	3¾	3¾	— ⅛
Atchison R R 1st	192¼	192	193	+ ¼
Am Tel	137¼	135⅞	136¾	-1¼
Amoskeag	30¾	30¾	30¾	— ¼
Aviat Sec Crp	3¼	3¼	3¼	— ⅛
Balt & Ohio	79⅞	78⅝	79¼	+1¼
B
Beth Steel	50	50	50	— ¼
Bos & Albany	180	180	180
Bos Elev	39	39	39	— ¼
Bos El 2 pf	88¾	88¾	88¾	+ ¼
B&M pr pf	104¾	104¼	104¾	— ⅛
Boston F P	18¼	18¼	18⅝
C
Cities Serv	17¾	17¼	17¼
Col Gas	36⅞	36	36⅞
Commw'th So	7	6¾	7	+ ⅛
Con Gas	89¾	88¾	89¾	— ¼
Crokn Ck Int	7¾	7¾	7¾	+ ⅛
Curtis W	4¼	4¼	4¼
D
Det Aircraft	2¼	2¼	2¼
E
E G & F Ac	19½	19½	19½	— ¼
E G & F Ac pf	94¾	94¾	94	- ¼
Eastern S S	23	23½	23½
Edison	29	29	29	— ¼
Edison ..	258	253	255	2
Employers Gr	17½	17½	17½
F
First Na Strs	41¾	41	41¾	- ¼
G
Gen Capital	34½	34¼	34½	- ⅛
Gen Elec	34¾	34¾	34¾	- ⅛
Gen Foods	51¾	51¼	51¾	— ¼
Gen Motors	38¾	37	38¾	+ ¼
Gillette	16	15¾	16	+ ⅛
Goodyear	40	40	40
H
Hathaway pf	95	95	95
Hathaway A	34	33	33	- 2
Hathaway B	12½	12½	12
I
Int Tel	26¼	25½	24½
Island Creek	28¾	28	28¾	- ⅛
J
Jenkins Telev	3	3	3
K
Kreug & Tol	22	21¾	21¾
Mass Util	4	4	4
M
Mont Ward	20¼	19¼	19¼
N
National S C	3	3	3½
N E Tel	137½	136	137½	+ 2 ½
No Am Avia	7¾	7¼	7¼
No Amer	70¾	69¾	70¾	— ¼
North Butte	2¾	2¾	2¾
P
Pac Mills	18	18	18
Pan Am	8½	8½	8½
*Penn RR	61	60⅞	60¾	+ ⅛
Pub Util Hld	7¾	7¾	7¾	+ ⅛
R
Radio Corp	15¾	14¾	15	- ¼
S
Std Brands	18¾	17¾	17¾	— ¼
Stone & Web	39¾	37¾	38¾	— ¼
Swift & Co	29	29	29
T
Torrington	46	45	45
U
Un Aircraft	26¾	25¾	25¾	— ¾
Un Carbide	59¾	58¾	59¼	+ ⅛
Un Corp	20¾	20	20¼	+ ⅛
Un Founders	8¾	8¼	8¼	— ⅛
United Fruit	59¾	58¾	58¾	— ¼
Un Gas & Imp	24¾	24¼	24¼	— ⅛
United Shoe	55¾	53¾	55¼	— ¼
U S Elec Pow	5¼	5¼	5¼	— ⅛
U S Steel	139¼	139	139¾	+ ¼
Un Gas Co	10¼	9¾	9¾	— ⅛
Utah Apex	1	1	1
W
Waldorf	23¼	24¼	24¾	— ¼
Warner Pict	16¾	16¾	16¾	— ¼
Warren Bros	36¾	35¾	36	— ¼
Westfield Mfg	21	21	21
Westinghouse	84¼	84	84	— ¼

*Ex-dividend

BONDS

Chic Jn Rys 5s	102	102	102
E Mass St	23½	23½	23½	—2

HALF A BILLION IN FEBRUARY PAYMENTS

Distribution of approximately $500,000,000 before the end of the current month to investors and shareholders in American corporations in connection with dividend payments, interest due and bond redemptions will get under way today

At least a dozen important companies are mailing checks to owners of their stocks and bonds to meet payments becoming due this day. These include Allied Chemical, American Smelting & Refining, General Foods, Goodyear Tire & Rubber, Gold Dust, Great Northern Railroad, Loose-Wiles Biscuit, Southern Railway, New York Central, Northern Pacific, Sears Roebuck and others equally well known.

TOTAL SURPRISING

Although February is an off month for dividend and interest payments, such disbursements will be made on approximately 750 different issues, the total amount to be paid out during the month is unexpectedly high, considering the number of issues included and omitted during January.

Nearly all the distributions due today and later this month consist of regular payments. Only about a dozen extras are included. In many cases regular dividends represent reductions made three months ago.

ANACONDA PAYS LESS

Among the smaller disbursements is that of the Anaconda Copper Company, which will make its quarterly dividend of 62½ cents a share February 9, contrasted with $1.75 a year ago.

Similarly, Andes Copper, a subsidiary, is paying only 25 cents against $1.50 a twelve months ago, while the payment on Cerro de Pasco amounts to only $400,000 compared with $1,850,000 twelve months before

Of the total to be distributed during the month $200,000,000 constitute dividends; $50,483,000 bond maturities; $250,000,000 sinking fund payments, and $220,000,000 interest on bonds.

The latter affects corporations exclusively, as no substantial United States Government or municipal payments are scheduled at this time

Morrow at Head of Ward Baking

New York, Feb. 2 (AP)—As the result of the sweeping fight to oust the present management of the Ward Baking Co., new officers were elected today. Heading the list is Morrow, as chairman of the Board, and Frederick W. Morrow his brother, as president. George W. Morrow is chairman of the Board of the Gold Dust Corp., and Fred erick A. Morrow is president of United Cigar Stores Co.

Chicago's Building Has a Sharp Gain

Chicago, Feb. 2—During week ended January 29 the building commissioner issued 27 permits involving construction with estimated cost of $1,513,000 and 19 permits involving $180,000 in previous week and 17 for $258,100 a year before

New York Bonds

GOVERNMENT BONDS

	High	Low	Last
Liberty 3½s 32-47	101	100.30	100.30
Lib 1st 4¼s 32-47	103.30	103.30	103.30
Lib 2d 4¼s 27-42	103.2	102.21	102.28
Lib 4th 4¼s 33-38	103.2	102.21	102.28
Treasury 4¼s 47-52	110.10	109.14	109.28
Treasury 4s 44-54	110.20	109.2	109.6
Treas 3½s 46-56	104.16	104.10	104.10
Treas 3½s 43	101.8	101.1	101.1
Treas 3¼s-43	101.8	101.8	101.8

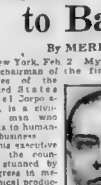
DOMESTIC CORPORATION BONDS

Alleg Corp 5s 44	82¾	82	82¾
Alleg Corp 5s 49	80¾	80¼	80¾
Am Ag Ch cf 7½s 41	104¼	104	104
Am & F P pf 6s 39	83¼	82¼	83¼
Am Ig Chem 5½s 49	99¾	99	99
Am Nat Gas 6s 48	99¾	99¼	99¾
Am Smelt & R 5s 47	102¼	102	102
Am Sug Ref 6s 49	104¾	104¼	104¾
Am T&T 4½s 33	101¼	101⅛	101⅛
Am T&T 5s 43	104¼	104	104¼
Am T&T 5s 46	104¾	104	104¾
Am T&T 5½s 43	109¾	109¼	109¾
Armour & Co 4½s 39	93¾	89	89
Armour Del 5s 43	93¾	93	93¾
Balt & Ohio 4½s 60	95	94	95
B & O 5s 48	101¼	101	101¼
B & O 6s 55	101¼	101	101¼
B & O cv 4½s 33	104¼	104	104¼
B & O ref 6s C 95	104¼	104	104¼
Batavian Pet 6½s 42	99	98	98
Bethl Ctly El 6½s51	73	71	71
Can Nat Rys 4½s 46	98¼	98	98¼
Can Nat Rys 4½s 57	98¼	98	98¼
Cent North 6½s 48	114¾	114¼	114¼
Cent Pac 1st 4s 49	94¾	94¼	94¾
Chic & W Ind conv A 49	88	87	88
Chic Gt W 4s 59	68	67¾	68
Chic Gt W 4½s 2038	74¾	74¼	74¾
Chic Ind & L 6s 47	83½	83	83½
Chic Mil & St P 5s 75	85¾	85¼	85¾
Cons Ind Tel 7½s 42	101	101	101
Cons Pwr 5s 56	104¾	104¼	104¾
Consumers Pow 4½s 58	101¼	101	101¼
Cont Can 5s 43	104¼	104	104¼
Cont Oil 5s 37	101¼	101	101¼
Cuban Am Sug 7s 50	100¾	100	100¾
Cuban Dom Sug 7½s 42	101	101	101
Cuban Tel 7½s 41	104¾	104¼	104¾
Del & Hud 4s 43	101¼	101	101¼
Del & Hud 4½s 42	104¾	104¼	104¾
Del & Hud 5s 37	104¾	104¼	104¾
Del & Hud 6s 43	110¾	110¼	110¾
Del Lack & W 5s 23	101¼	101	101¼
Del Lack & W 6s 63	104¾	104¼	104¾
Den & R G cf 4s 36	42¾	42¼	42¾
Den & R G 5½s 55	72¾	72¼	72¾
Den & R G ref 5s 78	72¾	72¼	72¾
Dodge Bros 6s 40	99¾	99¼	99¾
Dom Rand 6½s 41	99¾	99¼	99¾
Duquesne Lt 4½s 67	101¾	101¼	101¾
Elec Pow & Lt 5s 30	101¼	101	101¼
Elec Pow & Lt 5s 2030	101¼	101	101¼
Erie 1st 4s 95	101¼	101	101¼
Erie 1st 5s 96	101¼	101	101¼
Erie 1st 7s 20	101¼	101	101¼
Erie gen 4s 53	101¼	101	101¼
Erie gen 5s 53	101¼	101	101¼
Erie gen 6s 53	101¼	101	101¼
Fed Lt & Tr 6s 42	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 4½s 59	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 5s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 6s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 7s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 8s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 9s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 10s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 11s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 12s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 13s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 14s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 15s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 16s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 17s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 18s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 19s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 20s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 21s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 22s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 23s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 24s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 25s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 26s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 27s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 28s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 29s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 30s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 31s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 32s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 33s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 34s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 35s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 36s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 37s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 38s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 39s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 40s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 41s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 42s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 43s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 44s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 45s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 46s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 47s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 48s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 49s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 50s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 51s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 52s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 53s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 54s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 55s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 56s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 57s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 58s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 59s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 60s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 61s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 62s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 63s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 64s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 65s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 66s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 67s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 68s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 69s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 70s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 71s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 72s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 73s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 74s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 75s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 76s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 77s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 78s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 79s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 80s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 81s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 82s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 83s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 84s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 85s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 86s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 87s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 88s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 89s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 90s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 91s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 92s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 93s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 94s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 95s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 96s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 97s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 98s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 99s 74	101¼	101	101¼
Fla E Coast 100s 74	101¼	101	101¼

Taylor Asks Business to Back Reforms

By MERRYLE STANLEY RUKEYSER

New York, Feb 2 Myron C. Taylor, chairman of the finance committee of the United States Steel Corporation, a civilized man who seeks to humanize business



This executive sees the country studded by progress in mechanical production, which has not yet been adequately distributed. He suggests that machines be used for the profit of men, and believes that beyond the present lull there is a new period of quickened prosperity for the average man

M. R. Rukeyser

As a practical business man of the first order, he urges his fellow executives to make business plans for overall progress in the latest expression. Mr. Taylor said

"We who are interested in these problems, by co-operation and exchange of thought and idea and plan, can bring about such an ordered system that individual will find the burdens growing lighter, opportunities becoming greater, and the enjoyment of life by him and his family and those about him extending and constantly improving in every direction.

"If there be any objective that the absence of care worthy of the time and effort by us who are passing through it, it must be to make mankind in general —not the particular few, but the entire race—to higher levels of understanding and co-operation of enjoyment and well-being. Opportunities are in this country, those who seek through thoughtful and orderly channels to contribute to the well-being of the whole, will have attained life's greatest reward, because it can be accomplished through no other way than service, and this sort of service is worthy of the finest and noblest of the greatest minds of the age."

As a temporary experiment during depression the Steel Corporation has been staggering employment among its workers—giving part time employment to the many instead of full time employment to a much smaller number This make-shift policy at least reflected a sense of responsibility on the part of the employer toward the man who were able and willing to work

Jugo-Slavia has picked this untimely occasion for inaugurating a bachelor levy. Apparently, the thought over there is that, if there is more labor available than employment can be provided for at present, the wise procedure is to punish those who fail to add potentially to the labor supply. At any rate, unmarried men, divorced males and widowers without children must pay a special tax between the ages of 20 and 60 Clergymen, who are forbidden to marry, soldiers, prisoners, foreigners and workers earning less than $45 a month, are specifically exempted.

Thus the bashful and the diffident are punished by the tax collector.

CURB MARKET VERY DULL

New York, Feb. 2—The turn into a new month found the Curb Market closed today. Trading was on such a small scale that price movement meant little.

The market in the utilities was narrow, with the leaders averaging somewhat lower. American Superpower was supported around the bottom of its recent range and Electric Bond & Share was only mildly disturbed by selling.

Specialties were spotty. Singer manufacturing rallied several points in one of its infrequent appearances and Pines Winterfront moved up a couple of points.

Mead Johnson appears by had discounted an estimate placing 1930 earnings at more than $7.40 a share against $7.03 for 1929 Dresser Manufacturing issues were fairly active at small advances. Aluminum of America was heavy and so were Ford of England and Deere

BONDS' DECLINE IS CHECKED

New York, Feb. 2—The decline in domestic bonds was held in check as the market entered the second month of the year today

While some price recessions showed narrow fluctuations in either direction from Saturday's close, the behavior of the United States Government group showed little improvement

Liberty bonds displayed better resistance to selling pressure, but Treasury issues were again weak and the Treasury 4¼s and both 4¼s issues dipped into new low ground for the past year

Despite the unsettled condition in the bond market last week, new financing amounting to $17,000,000 appeared today, the largest of which was a $12,000,000 bond issue for the McLaren-Quebec Power Co.

While here and there some difficulty has been encountered in disposing of new issues, investment brokers as a whole report little difficulty in marketing new bonds.

About half of the issues offered in January were for refunding outstanding bonds, which naturally had no effect on the market. Nevertheless, the competition from new issues in January was the heaviest since the first part of 1930

N. E. TELEPHONE BIG FEATURE IN BOSTON

New England Telephone was a strong feature, in an otherwise sagging market, in trading on the Boston Stock Exchange today. The Telephone shares advanced 1¾. Losses for the most part of the list were confined to fractions with a few of the more volatile issues down 2 to 3 points or more Edison Electric dipped 2 points and Hathaway A was down on a light turnover. Kreuger & Toll was nearly a point lower.

Economy Stores, Crown Cork International and Boston Elevated second preferred each gained ¼. American & Continental Corporation was 4 higher Minor losses were recorded for American Telephone, Eastern Gas & Fuel, Eastern Steamship, First National Stores, United Founders, U. S. Electric Power and Warren Brothers.

Eastern Steamship Lines, Inc., net income before taxes and preferred dividends of $1,653,729 in 1930 was equal, after estimated taxes and preferred dividend requirements, to $2.63 a share on the 378,

DULL TRADING PREVAILS IN WALL ST.

New York, Feb. 2—The financial markets ventured into the short month cautiously today.

The share market displayed a lower tendency in the main, but showed no indication of throwing off its lassitude.

The abbreviated month of February is traditionally a dull month, but the precedent is frequently violated.

DECLINE IS CHECKED

In view of the meagre net gain for the first month's trading, traders were without conviction that the short month would produce profits for the shorts. Bonds were sluggish but the decline of [illegible] appeared to have been checked.

Steels had a temporary upturn in the morning, in which the leading stocks were prominent. The Ward shares rose a point or two, with the election of the new management.

Such issues as U. S. Steel, American Can and Radio sold up a little, but eased off in the afternoon.

Oils were only a little unsettled by reduction of the Standard of Indiana dividend from $2.50 to $2. Pan American B. continued to decline, immediately caused off in a point, and Standard of Kansas, which also cut its dividend, lost as much. Other declines were mostly fractional.

REPORTS SATISFACTORY

The sales reports of the two leading mail order houses for the first month of the year were regarded as fairly satisfactory. Montgomery Ward showed a drop of 14 1-10 per cent from the like period, while Montgomery Ward's December sales volume was off only 9 3-10 per cent.

The disorganization with which the petroleum industry is still struggling was clearly shown by the Indiana dividend action. The management explained that the regular dividend was earned, but a lower disbursement seemed prudent in a period of unsettlement.

The money market remained glutted, with rates stationary, although the month end settlements may take us a little of slack during the next few days.

Airplane manufacturing in the United States for civil use during the full year of 1930 totaled 2314, according to a preliminary report of the Aeronautics Branch of the Department of Commerce.

In addition to the 2314 aircraft manufactured for civil use, 710 military aircraft were delivered to the army and navy during the year. Of these products, the total production at 3224. Of the aircraft manufactured for civil use during the year, 250 were reported.

HARVARD VIEW IS CHEERFUL

Repeating its opinion that business recovery is likely in the current half-year, probably in the present quarter, Harvard Economic Society says:

"An extraordinarily easy money situation has developed with the usual January relaxation in the demand for funds. With money rates at levels rarely reached, security flotations—which were at very low levels in the second half of 1930—have been stimulated without giving rise to signs of congestion in the bond market.

"Stock prices have likewise been firmer, our speculation curve recording the first check to the decline since the middle of April. Moreover, liquidation in the banking situation is clearly far advanced.

"These developments are evidence that the readjustment accompanying depression are nearing completion, and are favorable to recovery in business. The experience of past depressions points to the termination of business decline in the present half year, probably in the present quarter, and indicates that the ensuing recovery will not be long delayed."

Swift Wins Court Decision on Claim

Boston-listed Swift & Co. won in the U. S. Supreme Court when a decision by Justice Roberts overruled contention of commissioner of internal revenue that certain tax refunds to shares of Swift & Co. on account of overpayment of income and war profits taxes in 1917 were filed to late. Decision sustained Court of Claims ruling in favor of Swift & Co. on ground the claim was filed within the statutory period. The refund claim was for $488,961.

Mail Orders for Month Increased

New York, Feb. 2—In January there was substantial improvement in the ensuing week's results of National Bellas Hess Co. There then occurred the first increase in 18 months in the number of mail orders received, the gain over January, 1930 having amounted to 20 per cent. Mail order gross cash receipts were off only 3 per cent, compared with average price reductions of 25 per cent.

'Asks Bond Tenders of 3 Foreign Issues

Tenders of $271,711 principal amount of bonds of three foreign issued are requested in notice issued by Chase National.

Holders of the State of New South Wales, Australia, external thirty-year 5 per cent sinking fund gold bonds due Feb. 1, 1957, are being asked to submit tenders of these bonds at prices not exceeding par and accrued interest to exhaust the $111,307 now held in the sinking fund.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

Saturday's Sales: 800,000
Week ago, 1,325,780
Year ago, 3,739,420

1931 to date, 41,746,703
1930 to date, 62,308,290
1929 to date, 118,774,640

1930-31 High	Low	Stocks	Sales Hundreds	Open	High	Low	2:30	Net Change
A
12½ 9		Abitibi Power	100	10½	11	10½	11	+ ½
21½ 16¼	1 60	Adams Ex	1600	19½	19¾	19¼	19¼	– ⅜
25½ 22¼	3	Adams Mills	200	24¼	24¼	24¼	24¼	– ¼
87 83½	3	Adams Ex pf	20	85¼	85½	85¼	85½
23¾ 21½	1.50	Addressograph	200	23¾	23¾	23¾	23¾	– ¼
¾ ¼		Ahumada Ld	100	⅝	⅝	⅝	⅝	– ⅛
103¾ 92½	4.50b	Air Reductn	100	94½	94½	94½	94½	– ¾
29 20		Airway El	400	20¾	21	20¾	20¾	– ¼
9¾ 7	.40	Alaska Juneau	3700	8⅛	8⅜	8⅛	8⅜
8 6½		A P W Pap Co	500	6¾	6¾	6¾	6¾	– ⅛
17¾ 15¾		Allegh Corp	4200	16¾	16¾	16¾	16¾
170¾ 153½	6d	Allied Chem	2500	158½	158½	154	155	– 3½
38¾ 32½	3	Allis Chalm	2400	35	35	34	34	– 1
21 18		Alpha Port C	175	17½	17½	17½	17½
18¼ 15	2	Amal Leath pf	100	18	18	18	18
21 17½	2	Amal Leath A	100	1 ½	18½	18½	18½
5¼ 4¾	3b	Am Bk Note	100	5	5	5	5
111¼ 89		Am Br Stove	100	98	98	98	98	– 1
115¾ 106¼	5b	Am Can	8500	109¾	109¾	108¾	109	– ¾
34 27		Am Car & F	300	31¼	31¼	31¼	31¼
43¾ 38¼	2.25b	Am Chicle	800	42¾	42¾	42¼	42¼	– ½
35¾ 25¾		Am & Fm Pw	5200	29¾	29¾	28⅞	29	– ¾
10¾ 8¾		Am Hawaiian	200	8¾	8¾	8¾	8¾	– ¼
54¾ 47¾	4.20	Am Home P	200	54	54	54	54
29¾ 25¾		Am Ice	200	25½	25½	25½	25½	– ¼
21¾ 18½	2	Am Inter	3100	19	19	18¾	18¾	– ¼
81 72¾		Am Loco pf	300	79½	79½	79	79	– 1
37 31	1.65	Am M & F pfv	100	34½	34½	34½	34½	+ ½
15¾ 14¾		Am Metal	800	1½	1½	1½	1½	– ⅛
39¾ 24¾	7	Am N Gas pf	300	39¾	39¾	39¾	39¾	+ ¾
119 111		Am Pw & Lt	320	48	48	47¾	47¾	– ¼
107 69	6	Am P&L 6pf	100	16½	16½	16½	16½
37¾ 1		Am R & SS	700	17¾	17¾	17¾	17¾	– ¼
30¾ 28		Am Roll M	200	29¼	29¼	29	29
57¾ 52¾	2	Am Safety R	200	12¾	12¾	12¾	12¾	+ ¼
27 23		Am Shipbldg	300	24	24	24	24	– ¼
36¾ 27½		Am Ship & C	300	⅞	⅞	⅞	⅞
46¾ 37¾		Am Smelting	1000	44¾	44¾	44½	44½	– ¼
43¾ 35¼		Am Snuff	100	39¾	39¾	39¾	39¾
39¾ 24¾	7	Am Sol & C pf	300	39¾	39¾	39¾	39¾
23¾ 23¾	3	Am Steel Fd	200	21¼	21¾	21¼	21¾	+ ¼
55¾ 36½	2	Am Stores	100	39	39	39	39
94¾		Am Sugar pf	100	93	93	93	93	– 1
27½ 15	5	Am Tel & C	12	16½	16½	16½	16½
174¼ 170¾	9	Am T & T	2600	166¼	166¾	165¼	166¼	– ¾
127 120	9	Am Tob B	1100	125¾	125¾	125¾	125¾	– ¾
130¾ 99¾	5	Am Tob B	310	110¾	110¾	110	110	– 1
100¾ 90¾	5	Am Water W	1900	97¾	97¾	97½	97½	– ¼
17¾ 3¾		Am Zinc	100	4¾	4¾	4¾	4¾	– ⅛
29¾ 28		Am Zinc pf	100	29	29	29	29	+ ¼
3 2	2.50	Amerada	200	2½	2½	2½	2½
37¾ 10¾	1	Andes Copper	100	15¾	15¾	15¾	15¾	+ 1¼
23¾ 22		Archer Dan	100	22	22	22	22
7¾ 6d		Armr D f pf	200	61	61	61	61	– ½
8¼ 2¾		Armour Ill A	200	3	3	3	3
3¾ 2¾		Armour Ill B	100	2¾	2¾	2¾	2¾	+ ⅛
6¾ 2¾	7	Armour Ill pf	100	24¼	24¼	24¼	24¼	– ⅛
13¾ 3¾		Arnold Constb	400	3¾	3¾	3¾	3¾
46¼ 20	4	Asso Apparel	400	25¼	25¾	25¼	25¾
20½ 19	2.50	Asso D G	200	24¾	24¾	24¼	24¼	+ ¼
30¾ 26½	2	Asso Oil	400	27¾	28	27¾	28	+ ¼
142½ 108	10	Atchison	800	102	105¾	102	102¾
109¾ 100	5	Atch pf	100	105¾	105¾	105¾	105¾	– ¼
65¼ 48	5	Atl Gulf pf	100	49¼	49¾	49¼	49¾	+ ¼
51¼ 40¾	1.25b	Atl Refin	1900	40½	40½	40¼	40¼	– ¼
106 64		Atlas Pow	100	65	65	65	65	– 1
10½ 7	6	Atlas Pow pf	50	68½	68	68½	68½	+ ½
2633¼	60¼ 4d	Auburn Auto	10700	137¾	139¾	135¾	139¾	+ 3¾
10¾		Autoasbes	300	7½	7½	7½	7½
9¾ 2¾		Avia Corp	100	4	4	3¾	3¾	– ¼
B
38 19¾	1.75	Baldwin Loc	500	22	22	21¾	21¾
116 84	7	Baldwin Lo pf	50	112½	112½	92	92
164¾ 109¾	7	Balt & Ohio	100	78¾	78¾	78¾	78¾	– ¾
74¾ 70¼	4	Balt & Ohio pf	100	71¾	71¾	71¾	71¾	– ¾
34 8¾	1	Barnsdall A	200	12¼	12¼	12¼	12¼	– ¼
92 82	6	Beatrice Cr	200	85¾	85¾	85¾	85¾	– ¾
6¾ 2¾		Belding Hc	200	4	4	4	4
57¾ 14½	2	Bendix Aviat	1400	19½	19½	19	19	– ¼
86¾ 65¾	2	Best & Co	100	72¾	72¾	72¾	72¾	– ¾
110¼ 45¾	6	Bethlehem Stl	5900	50¾	50¾	49¾	50	– ¾
109¾ 100	5	Beth Stl pf	1700	102¾	102¾	102¾	102¾	– ¼
41½ 23	1.50	Blaw Knox	100	26	26	26	26	– ¼
69 15¾	1.50	Bohn Alum	600	24¾	24¾	24½	24½	– ¼
90¾ 60¾	3	Borden Co	1100	69¾	69¾	69¾	69¾	– ¼
50¾ 15	1	Borg Warner	400	23¼	23¼	23	23
111¾ 1		Bos & Me RR	100	62	62	62	62
25¾ 12¼	1.60	Briggs Mfg	500	17	17	16¾	16¾	– ¼
22¼ 1¾		Brockway Mo	100	3	3	3	3
78¾ 55¼	4	Bkln Man Tr	1900	59¾	59¾	59¼	59¼	– ¼
15¾ 6¾		Bklyn Qns Tr	1000	8¾	9	8¾	9
30¾ 1¾		Brunswick Bk	100	10¾	10¾	10¾	10¾	– ¼
33¾ 9¼		Brunswick Tu	700	7¾	7¾	7¾	7¾	– ¼
21 2.50		Buck E & pf	100	29	29	29	29
41¾ 3		Bullard Co	100	15¾	15¾	15¾	15¾
74 8½	3	Bulova Watch	500	14¾	14¾	14¼	14¼
6¾ 4		Budd Mfg	200	4¼	4¼	4¼	4¼	+ ⅛
14¾ 6¾		Budd Wheel	100	10	10	10	10
84¾ 21½	2.50	Bush Term	100	27	27	27	27
110 33½		Bush T db	23	103½	103½	103½	103½
111¾ 33½		Byers A M	5400	46	46¾	44¾	45½	– ½
C
73¼ 41¼	4	California Pr	1100	45¾	45¾	45¾	45½	+ ⅛
21¾		Callahan Zinc	300	⅞	⅞	⅞	⅞
13¾ 7¾		Cal & Hecla	200	9	9	9	9
75¾ 29¼		Canada Dry	1000	32	32	32	32
24¾ 15¼	2.50	Can Pac	600	41¾	41¾	41¼	41¼	– ¾
24¾ 16¾	1.60	Cannon Mills	200	19¾	19¾	19¾	19¾	+ ¼
162¾ 81¾	9	Case J I	1000	86¼	87¾	86¼	87¾	+ 1¾
79¾ 22	3.25	Caterpil Tr	700	38	38	38	38
55¾ 21	1.50	Cen Aguirre	400	23¼	23¼	22¼	22¼	– ¼
55¾ 21	2	Cerro De Pas	400	23¾	23¾	23¾	23¾	+ ¼
67¾ 14½	1.80	Checker Cab	100	20	20	20	20	+ ¼
83½ 32¾	2	Ches Corp	100	46¼	46¼	46¼	46¼	+ ¼
51¾ 32¾	2.50	Ches & Ohio	1000	43¾	43¾	42¾	42¾	– ½
10 4¾		Chi Gt West	200	7½	7½	7½	7½
17¾ 4¾		Ch Gt West pf	100	7	7	7	7
6¾ 2¾		CM & St P&P	100	8	8	8	8
46¾ 7¼		CM & St P&P pf	800	13	13	13	13	– ⅛
37 7¾		Chi Pneumatic	200	9¾	9¾	9¾	9¾	– ¼
55¾ 22½	3.50	Chi Pneu pf	100	26¾	26¾	26¾	26¾	+ ¼
12¾ 5¾	11	C R I & P	100	60	60	60	60	– 2¼
67½ 22¾	2.40	Childs Co	200	27¾	27¾	27¾	27¾	+ ¾
43 17½	2	Chile Copper	1000	16¾	16¾	16¾	16¾	– ¼
49 32¾	3.60d	City I & F	100	36¼	36¼	36¼	36¼	+ ¼
97¾ 77¾	6.50	Cl L & Fpf	100	79	79	79	79
13¾ 3¾		Clev Stores	1000	3¾	3¾	3¾	3¾
42 20	3.50	Clv St A	100	24	24	24	24	+2¾
191¾ 113¼		Coca Cola	1000	154½	154½	154½	154½	– ¼
35¾ 12		Collins & Aik	100	10	10	10	10	+ ¼
20¾ 8¾		Col Beacon Oil	1000	11	11	11	11
99 65¼	5.25b	Col Carbon	2000	88½	91½	88½	90¾	+1
87 30¾	2	Columbia Gas	2000	36¾	36½	36¼	36¾	+ ¼
44¾ 30¾	2	Com Credit	2000	34¾	34¾	34¼	34¼	– ¼
44¾ 30½	3	Com Cred A	200	34½	34½	34½	34½	– ¼
28 20¾	2	Com Cred B pf	200	21¾	22¼	21¾	22¼
21¾ 11	1.60d	Com I Corp	1000	28	28¼	27	27	– ¾
38 14	1d	Com Oil	500	17¾	17¾	17¼	17¼	– ¼
19¾ 6¾		Com & So	1200	8½	8½	8¼	8¼	– ¼
19¾ 6¼		Congol Nairn	100	6½	6½	6½	6½
59¾ 24	5	Consol Cigar	300	28	28	28	28
59¾ 25¾	2.50	Cons Cigar pf	100	27	27	27	27
28¼ 12¼	2	Cons Film pf	100	17¾	17¾	17¾	17¾	– ¼
78¼ 28¼	8	Consol Gas	800	53¾	53¾	53¾	53¾	– ¼
75¾ 25¾	5	Cons Gas pf	100	104	104	104	104
92 30	6	Con RR of Cp	100	37	37	37	37
5¾ ¼		Cons Textile	100	¾	¾	¾	¾
12½ 5½	1.20	Container A	500	7	7	6¾	7	+ ¼
22¾ 18¾		Cont Baking	2400	22	22	22	22
7 2		Cont Baking B	1200	3	3	3	3	+ ⅛
94½ 62	8	Cont Baking pf	200	75	75	75	75
74¾ 43½	2.50	Cont Can	1200	50¼	50¾	50¼	50¾	+ ¼
37¾ 9¾	1	Cont Dia Fibre	100	11¾	11¾	11¾	11¾	+ ¼
77¾ 26¾	2.40	Cont Ins	100	46¼	46¼	46¼	46¼
9¼ 2½		Cont Motors	200	3	3	3	3
30½ 8		Cont Oil	1400	10	10	9¾	10	+ ⅛
10¾ 8½	1	Cont Shares	100	9¾	9¾	9¾	9¾
81¾ 25¾	2.50	Corn Prod	400	80½	80½	80¼	80¾	+ ¼
12¾ 5¾		Cory Corp	100	6¾	6¾	6¾	6¾	– ¼
118 101½	7	Crucible Stl pf	200	103½	103½	103½	103½
19½ 2¼		Cuba Co	300	4¾	4¾	4¾	4¾	– ⅛
29¾ 13¾		Cuban Dom	400	13	13	13	13
129¾ 85	6.50b	Curtiss P	100	93	93	93	93	+1
5¾ 2¾		Curtiss Wright	600	4¾	4¾	4¾	4¾
90¼ 35	3.50	Cutler Ham	400	35¼	35¼	35	35	– ¼
D
181 130½	9	Del & Hud	100	150	150	150	150
64¾ 41¾	3	Del Lack W	100	44¾	44¾	44¼	44¼
42¾ 11¼	1.20	Devoe & R A	100	14¼	14¼	14¼	14¼
17¾ 14¾		Diamond Mat	100	15¾	15¾	15¾	15¾	– ¼
17¾ 14¾		Dict Mach	1200	14	14	14	14
158¾ 80¼	4	Dupont DeN	1400	16	16½	15¾	16	– ¼
E
35¾ 6¼		Eastern R M	100	8¼	8¼	8¼	8¼
255¾ 142¼	5.75b	Eastman K	1100	154½	155	154	155	+ ¾
37¾ 11¾	1.60	Eaton Axle	100	15½	15½	15½	15½	+ ¼
35¾ 15¼	1	Elec Auto Li	2000	18¼	18¼	18¼	18¼	– ¼
103¾ 34¾	1	Elec P & Li	4500	46¾	47¼	46¾	46¾	– ¼
30¾ 4		Evans A L	300	5	5	5	5
F
106 103		Fairbks M pf	10	109¼	109¼	109¼	107¼	+ 5¾
9¾ 6½		Fashion Park	400	4¾	4¾	4¾	4¾
23 13¾		Fed Dept Stre	100	19¼	19¼	19¼	19¼	– ¼
43 17½	2.40	Fed Water S	4900	29¾	29¾	29½	29¾	+ ¼
89¾ 42¾	2.80	Fidelity Phnx	100	51	51	51	51
35¾ 15¼	1	Firestone	1000	17¾	17¾	17¾	17¾	– ¼
97¾ 53¾	5	Firestone pf	100	59	59	59	59	+ ¼
61¾ 36¾	3.50	First Nt Stores	900	44	44	43¾	44	– ¾
49¾ 23¾		Fleischmann	1600	45¾	46¾	45¾	46¾	+ 1¼
11¾ 1¼		Fisk Rubber	1600	⅝	⅝	⅝	⅝
2¾ 1¼		Fisk Rubr 1 pf	50	2⅜	2⅜	2⅜	2⅜	+ ⅛
21¾ 14¾		Fisk Rub pf A	100	21¾	21¾	21¾	21¾
101 94		Florsheim pf	60	100	100	100	100
33¾ 23¼		Follansbee	300	25¾	25¾	25¾	25¾
104¾ 37½	2	Foster-Wal Co	1400	52½	53¾	52½	52¾	+ ¼
28¾ 3¼		Foundation C	200	10¼	10¼	10¼	10½	+ ⅛
42¾ 6¾		Fourth Nat Ex	200	15¾	15¾	15¾	15¾
57¾ 16¼	4	Fox Film A	4000	31¼	32¼	31	31½	– ⅛
55½ 20½	4	Freeport Tex	500	32	32¾	32	32¼	– ¼
G
7¾ 1		Gardner Motor	4100	1½	1½	⅞	⅞	– ⅛
111¾ 53¾	4d	Gen Am Tank	1400	63¾	63¾	63¾	63¾	+ ¼
71¼ 24¾	3	Gen Asphalt	1400	33¾	33¾	33¾	33¾	– ¼
38¾ 19¼		Gen Bronze	100	19¾	19¾	19¾	19¾
24¾ 17¾		Gen Cable A	100	19¾	19¾	19¼	19¼	+ ¼
100¾ 30	7	Gen Cable pf	10	47	47	47	47	+ 1
95¾ 41¾	1.60	Gen Elec	5600	43¾	44¼	43¾	43¾	– ¾
18¾ 4	.30a	Gen Gt Ak S A	100	5¼	5¼	5¼	5½	– ⅛
43¾ 3		Gen Foods	1500	51½	51½	51¼	51½	– ⅛
65¾ 37¾		Gen Motors	6500	37¾	38¼	37¾	38¼	+ ¼
100¾ 91¾	5	Gen M 5 pf	100	98½	98½	98½	98¾	+ ⅛
200 76		Gen Ry Sig	200	76	76	76	76
54¾ 41¾	2	Gen Refract	400	43¾	43¾	43¾	43¾
93 91¼	4	Gen Refrac	400	49¾	50	49¾	49¾	– ¼
14¾ 12¾		Gen Theaters	1400	12¾	12¾	12	12¾	– ¼
106¾ 18	4	Gillette	500	24¾	24¾	24¼	24¼	– ¼
20¾ 4¼		Gimbel Bros	200	4¼	4¼	4¼	4¼
39¾ 19¾		Gimbel Bros pf	100	39¾	39¾	39¾	39¾
38 7		Glidden	200	9¾	9¾	9¾	9¾
105¾ 63½	7	Glidden pf	50	74	74	70	74	– 4
7 2¼		Gobel Adolf	100	5¼	5¾	5¼	5¾	– ⅛
47¾ 29	2.50	Gold Dust	2000	35¾	35¾	35¼	35½	– ⅛
14¾ 7¾		Goodrich	1000	10¾	10¾	10¾	10¾	– ¼
104½ 52	7	Goodrich pf	400	60	60	60	60	– 2
36¾ 23½	2	Goodyear	2000	25¾	25¾	25¾	25¾	– ⅛
102¾ 78¼	7	Goodyear pf	200	81½	81½	81	81
15¾ 4		Gould Coup A	100	4¼	4¼	4¼	4¼	+ ⅛
15¾ 4		Graham-Paige	1100	4¼	4¼	4¼	4¼
59¾ 12	2	Granby	400	16¾	16¾	16	16¾
34½ 7		Grd Nt Strs	200	21¾	21¾	21¾	21¾	+ ⅛
53¾ 34¾	3.50	Grant W T	100	31	31	31	31	+ ¼
102 51	5	Gt Nor pf	100	68¼	68¼	68¼	68¾	+ ¾
34½ 7		Gt Nor Ir Sh	500	9	9	9	9
28 2½		Grigsby Grnow	500	3¾	3¾	3¾	3¾	+ ⅛
98¼ 55¾	6	Gulf M & N pf	100	66	66	66	66
H
31¾ 16	2	Hall Print	100	16¼	16¼	16¼	16½	+ ¼
87¾ 85	7	Hanna E pf	50	91	91	91	91
42¼ 38	2	Harb Walker	100	40	40	40	40
92¾ 77½	5	Helme G W	100	85	85	85	85	–1
70¾ 3		Hershey Choc	100	68¾	68¾	68¾	68¾	+ ¼
108¾ 83¼	4	Hershey pf	100	88	88	88	88
5¾ 3		Hew Mot pf	100	5	5	5	5
31¾ 6¾		Houston Oil	200	8¾	8¾	8¾	8¾	+ ⅛
111¾ 6¾		Houston Oil pf	100	23¾	23¾	23¾	23¾	+ ¼
53¾ 34½	3.50	Hud & Man	200	41¼	42	41¼	41¼	– ¾
62¾ 18	3	Hudson Mot	900	21¾	21¾	21¼	21¼	– ¼
28¾ 7½		Hupp Motors	500	8	8	8	8
I
1000	41¼		Indian Refin	1000	4¼	4¼	4¼	4¼	– ⅛
300	14¾	4	Insuransh	300	14¾	14¾	14¾	14¾	– ⅛
1000	14¼		Int Cement	1000	14¼	14¼	14¼	14¼	– ¼
131	6d		Int Hus Ma	400	156¾	156¾	155¾	156¼	– 1½
1000	10¾		Int Harvester	1000	10¾	10¾	10¾	10¾	– ⅛
1600	51½	2.50	Int Harv pf	1600	51½	51½	50½	51¼	– ¼
1000	24¼		Int Hydr El	1000	24¼	24¼	24¼	24¼	– ¼
100	59		Int Match pf	100	59	59	58¼	59
1000	15¾		Int Mer Ma	1000	15¾	15¾	15¾	15¾	– ¼
27000	14¾		Int Nickel	27000	14¾	14¾	13¾	14¼	– ¾
100	38		Int Pa & P pf	100	38	38	38	38
3000	25¾		Inter Salt	3000	25¾	26	25¼	25¾	– ¼
2000	25¾		Int Tel & Tel	3000	25¾	26	25¼	25¾	– ¼
500	17¼		Int D Strs	500	17¼	17¾	17¼	17½	+ ⅛
100	29		Island Creek	100	29	29	29	29	+ ¼
100	28½		Island Creek pf	100	28½	28½	28½	28½	+ ⅛
J
300	43¾	4b	Jewel T	1100	43¾	43¾	43½	43¾	+ ⅜
118	4		Jones & L	100	120½	120½	120½	120½
3200	61		Johns Manville	3200	61	61	59¾	61	+ ¼
			Jordan Motor
K
100	62¼		Kan C S pf	100	62¼	62¼	62¼	63½	+1½
100	17		Kayser	100	17	17	17	17	– ¼
700	1¾		Kelly Sp Tire	700	1¾	1¾	1¾	1¾	+ ⅛
100	1¾		Kellow T	100	1¾	1¾	1¾	1¾
110	24¼		Kelsey Haves	110	24¼	24¼	24¼	24¼
100	10¾		Kelvinator	100	10¾	10¾	10¾	10¾
4200	23¾		Kennecott Cop	4200	23¾	23¾	23¼	23¾
300	4		Koister Radio	100	4	4	4	4
87	107	7	Kresge Dept	20	109½	110	109½	110	+ ¼
3400	26½	1.80	Kresge S S	3400	26½	26¾	26¼	26¼
200	24		Kroger Groc

New York Curb Market

	High	Low	Last
A
Agfa Ansco	3	3	3
Ahuia Co Cl A....	151	145½	145½
Am Austin Car....	1¼	1¼	1¼
Am Capital B....	1	1	1
Am Capital pf....	29¼	29½	29¾
Am Cities Pow B....	1¼	1¼	1¼
Am Commw A....	15¾	15¼	15¾
Am Commw A....	15¾	15½	14⅝
Am Cyanam A....	9¾	9¼	9¾
Am Equities....	4¼	4¼	4¼
Am F P ww....	15⅝	15⅝	15⅝
Am Founders....	4⅝	4⅜	4⅝
Am G&E....	7⅝	72¾	73⅝
Am Light & T....	66	66	66
Am Maracaibo....	1	1	1
Am Superpower....	12¾	12¼	12¾
Am U & C C B vtc	4	4	4
Am Yvette....	1	1	1
Appalach Co 7% pf	3¼	3	3
Appalach Gas pfd	7¼	7¼	7¼
Ark Nat Gas....	5⅛	5⅛	5⅛
Ark Nat Gas A....	5⅛	5⅛	5⅛
Ark P&L pf....	104	104	104
Asso Elec Ind....	3¼	3¼	3¼
Asso G & E....	20	20	20
Asso Gas A....	21¼	20½	20½
Asso Gas deb rt....	2⅛	2⅛	2⅛
Asso Rayon pf....	48¾	47	47
Ati Coast Fish....	4⅞	4⅞	4⅞
Auto Vot....	5¼	3¼	3¼
B
Bell Tel of Can....	148	148	148
Blue Ridge....	4	4	4
Blue Ridge cv pf....	34	34	34
Brazil Trac....	22½	22½	22½
Brill Corp A....	4¼	4¼	4¼
Brit Amer Tob B....	20½	20¼	20½
C
Cam Co....	3-16	3-16	3-16
Cans Marconi....	3	2⅞	3
Carib Synd....	⅞	⅞	⅞
Cent Ill Pub Sv pf....	92½	92½	92½
Cent Pub S Mid A....	8⅜	8⅛	8⅜
Cent Sts El....	10	9¾	10
Centrifugal Pipe....	7½	6¾	7¼
Cities Ser....	17⅞	17⅝	17⅝
do pf....	83	83	83
Cleveland Tract....	8½	8½	8½
Colum Oil & Gas....	6	6	6
Columbia Pict vtc....	18½	18½	18½
Cmnwl & S war....	2	2	2
Community Water....	10¼	10¼	10¼
Comstock Tunnel....	7-16	7-16	7-16
Cons Copper M....	2⅜	2⅜	2⅜
Con Laundr....	14¾	14¾	14¾
Cord Corp....	8¼	7⅞	8
Corroon & Rey....	4	4	4
Cosden Oil....	3½	3½	3½
Creole Petrol....	3⅜	3¼	3¼
Cresson Gold....	⅛	⅛	⅛
Cuist Mot....	7-16	7-16	7-16
Cuneo Press pf ww	53½	53½	53½
Curtiss Wright war	¾	¾	¾
Dayton Air Eq....	13	13	13
Deere & Co....	35	35	35
DeForest Rad....	2	2	2
Del Aircraft....	2	2	2
Dresser Mfg A....	38½	37½	37½
do B....	25¼	24¾	24¾
D
Dubilier Cond....	4¼	4¼	4¼
Durant....	1¼	1¼	1¼
E
East Gas & F....	20	20	20
East'n St Pw B....	13¾	13⅜	13⅜
Elec B & S....	43¼	42¾	42¾
Elec Pow Assn....	15¾	15¼	15¼
Elec P Asso A....	14¼	14¼	14¼
El Pw&Lt Op war.	27¼	27¼	27¼
Elec Shareholdg....	10¼	10¼	10¼
Employers Reins....	24½	24¼	24¼
European El A....	8	8	8
Evans Wallo'r....	1
F
Fairchild Av A....	2	2	2
Fajardo Sugar....	36¼	36¼	36¼
Fedl Mogul Corp....	8	8	8
Fiat Am rcts....	12¾	12¾	12¾
Ford Motor Ltd....	17¼	17¼	17¼
Foremost Dai....	1¼	1¼	1¼
Fox Theater A....	5¾	5¾	5¾
G
Gamewell Co pfd....	98¾	98½	98½
Garlock Pack....	16½	16½	16½
Gen Aviation....	7¾	7¾	7¾
Gen Building....	2	2	2
Gen Fireproof....	24½	24¼	24¼
Gen Th'tre Equip	26¼	26	26
Gleaner C Harv....	3¼	3	3
Gold Coin Min....	⅞	⅞	⅞
Gold Seal ww....	1	1	1
Goldman Sachs Tr	6¼	6¼	6¼
Graymur Corp....	25½	25	25
Gt A&P Tea pf....	200	200	200
Gulf Oil....	68⅞	67	67
H
Hazeltine Corp....	22	22	22
Hudson Bay....	4⅝	4⅝	4⅝
Humble Oil....	63½	62½	62½
I
Indian Terr Oil A....	15¾	15¼	15¼
Indian Terr Oil B....	15¼	15¼	15¼
Ind Finance vt....	11	10¾	10¾
Insurance Sec....	1¼	1¼	1¼
Internat Pet....	14¾	14¼	14¼
Int Superpower....	24	24	24
Irving Air Ch ww	1¼	1¼	1¼
L
Lehigh C & Nav....	23¼	23¼	23¼
Loew's Inc war....	1¾	1¾	1¾
Lone Star G....	26⅞	26⅜	26⅜
M
Magdalena S....	3-16	3-16	3-16
Mead Johnson....	81	81	81
Memphis NG....	10¼	10¼	10¼
Merritt Chap pf....	80	80	80
Mid Nat Gas A....	1¼	1⅛	1⅛
Mid Royalty cvt pf	14	14	14
Mid West Ut A....	22¾	22¾	22¾
Middle Ut pf....	43¼	43¼	43¼
Missouri K Pipe L....	6¾	6¾	6¾
do vtc B....	6	6	6
Mohawk Hd 7pc2pf	102	102	102
Mountain Pro....	5¼	5¼	5¼
N
Nat Aviation....	5¾	5¾	5¾
Nat Inv....	1¼	1¼	1¼
Nat Short T Sec A	18¼	16¼	16¼
Nat Union Radio....	2¼	2¼	2¼
Nelson Herman....	13¼	13¼	13¼
Newmont Min....	48	48	48
Nlag & Huds Pow....	10¼	10¼	10¼
Nlag Hud P A ww	4	4	4
Nlag Huds P B war	5¼	5¼	5¼
Nlag Huds P C ww	2¼	2¼	2¼
Nlias Bern....	2¼	2¼	2¼
Noranda Mines....	17⅜	16⅜	16⅞
No Am Util S....	3¾	3¾	3¾
No Empire Oil....	⅜	⅜	⅜
No & So Am Corp.	8¾	8¾	8¾
Nor Sts Pw A....	126⅛	125½	125½
Novadel Agene....	46	46	46
O
Ohio Oil pf....	101½	101½	101½
Outboard B....	3¾	3¾	3¾
P
Pacific Gas pf....	27	27	27
Pac Pub Sve A....	21½	21½	21½
Pan Pub Ser....	30¼	30¼	30¼
Penn Mex Fuel....	13¾	13¾	13¾
Pennroad vtc....	7¾	7¾	7¾
Penn Water....	39¼	39¼	39¼
Pilot Radio A....	7	7	7
Pines Winterfront....	17½	17½	17½
Premier Gold....	11-16	11-16	11-16
Prince & Whit pf....	21½	20¾	20¾
Public Utilities ww	7¼	7¼	7¼
do ww pf....	32	32	32
do war....	1¼	1¼	1¼
Puget Sound pf....	99½	99½	99½
R
Railroad Shares....	3¾	3¾	3¾
Rainbow Lu B....	1¾	1¾	1¾

	High	Low	Last
Reliance Int Corp B	1	1	1
Reliance Manag....	8¼	8¼	8¼
Reybarn Co ⊕....	2¾	2¾	2¾
Reynolds Inv....	1½	1½	1½
Roosevelt Fld Inc....	3	3	3
S
Safety Car H & L....	87½	87½	87½
St Anthony Gold....	3-16	⅛	⅛
Saxet Co....	9¾	9¾	9¾
Selected Indus....	4¾	4¾	4¾
So allot cf fp....	66	65½	65½
do allot cf fp st....	66	65½	65½
do prior....	65	65	65
Sentry Control....	1¼	1¼	1¼
Shawinigan W & P....	50	50	50
Singer Mfg....	340	340	340
South Penn Oil....	22	21	21
S Cal Ed rts....	2	2	2
Southn Nat Gas A....	7	7	7
S W Gas Ut....	4	3¾	3½
Spanish & G rc....	⅛	⅛	⅛
Std Motor Con....	⅝	⅝	⅝
St Oil of Ind....	36⅛	35⅞	36
St Oil of Ky....	22¾	22⅝	22⅝
St Oil of Neb....	35	35	35
Starrett pfd....	24	24	24
Strauss Robt S....	3½	2	2
Stromberg Carb....	17	17	17
Stutz Motor....	21¼	21	21¼
Sunray Oil (Del)....	3¼	3¼	3¼
Swift Internat....	34¼	34¼	34¼
T
Tobac Pr Ex....	1¼	1¼	1¼
Transcont Air T....	4¼	4	4¼
Trans Lux....	4¼	4¼	4¼
Tri Continental war	3¼	3¼	3¼
Twin St Nat Gas A	1¼	1¼	1¼
U
Union N Gas Can....	13¾	13¾	13¾
Union Tobacco....	⅞	⅞	⅞
United Corp war....	3¼	3¼	3¼
United Founders Cor	8⅝	8⅛	8⅛
United Gas new....	10	9¾	10
United L & P A....	26	25⅝	26
Un Milk pf....	37	37	37
U S Electric....	5¾	5¾	5¾
U S Finishing....	6⅛	6⅛	6⅛
U S & For Sec....	1¾	1¾	1¾
U S & Int Sec 1 pf.	44	44	44
United Stores v....	1¾	1¾	2-16
Utah Radio....	2¼	2¼	2¼
Utility Equity....	6¾	6¾	6¾
Utilits P & L A....	10¾	10¾	10¾
V
Vacuum Oil....	55⅞	55⅛	55⅛
Venezuelan Pet....	1¼	1	1
W
Watson J W....	1¼	1¼	1¼
Z
Zonite Prod'ts....	8¼	8¼	8¼

New York Curb Bonds

Abbott's Dairies 6s 42....	87½	87½	87½
Adams Ex 5s 52....	104½	104	104½
Alum Ltd 5s 48 wi....	98½	98½	98½
Am Cyanam 5s 42 ser B.	78½	78½	78½
Am G&E 5s 2028....	97	97	97
Am Pub Ser 6s 2016....	103½	104½	104½
Am Roll Mill 5½s 48....	99½	99½	99½
Am Roll Mill 4½s 49....	97½	97½	97½
Am Seating 6s 36....	63½	62½	62½
Appalach Co 1st 5s 41....	92½	92½	92½
Appalach Gas 6s B 48....	72½	71½	71½
Ark P&L 5s 56....	93	93	93
Asso Elec 4½s 53....	90	90	90
Asso G&E 4½s cv 49....	417	415	415
Asso G&E 5s 50....	93	93	93
Asso Gas 5s....	72	72	72
Asso G&E 5½s 39....	72	72	72
Asso G&E 4½s 49....	87½	87½	87½
Asso Tel Util 5½s 44 C..	85½	85	85
Bell Tel of Can 5s 55....	107½	107½	107½
Capitol Adm 8s A 53 ww	81½	81½	81½
Chicago Rivet 6s 33....	100½	100½	100½
Cent St El 5s 48....	62½	62½	62½
Cent Sts El 5½s 54....	74	74	74
Cent Sts P&L 5½s 53..	F2	81½	82
Chi Rw 6s 27 ctfs....	14½	14½	14½
Chi Rw Rcvr 5½s 49....	73½	73½	73½
Cities Ser 5s 50....	87½	87½	87½
Cities Ser 6s 66....	87½	87½	87½
Cities Ser 5½s 53....	87½	87½	87½
Cities Ser 6s 2030....	87½	87½	87½
Cities Ser 5½s 2030....	87½	87½	87½
Cities Ser 5s 2030....	87½	87½	87½
Cities Ser 4½

PORT OF BOSTON NEWS

By JAMES J. DELANEY

FISHING WEATHER

Hardships from cold, snow and ice were described by the vanguard of the Boston fishing fleet which arrived at the Fish Pier with catches for the Monday market. High seas that threw sprays which immediately froze and had to be chopped away caused the most trouble. Bitter frost added to the discomforts of the fishermen. The heavy and blinding snow made the trip from the banks hazardous.

GREAT TRIP

Excellent weather and a pleasant voyage was completed by five New Englanders who arrived on the S. S. Sir Harry, United Fruit Co., and left the ship at Long wharf to start homeward. She came from Tela, Honduras, making stops at Havana, Cuba, and Kingston, Jamaica, who made the trip were Fred C. Howe, George M. Baker of York, Me.; Harold W. Leverett of Durham, N. H.; Harry Brannigan of Pawtucket, R. I.; and Charles A. Thompson of Oaklpe.

Part of her cargo consisted of an airplane engine shipped from Tela to the Wright Aeronautical Corp. of Boston. She brought 25,624 stems of bananas and general cargo. Capt. D. M. MacDonald was in command.

SEEDS AND SPIRITS

Liquors for the ambassadors and seeds for gardeners were aboard a large cargo that came in on the S. S. Napierian, Leyland Line, which is loading at the Cunard docks, today. Vegetable seeds made up part of the cargo. Liquors for the Chilean ambassador and the Argentine ambassador at Washington, who are returning to Baltimore where they will be delivered under heavy federal and customs guard.

FISH ARRIVALS

Vessels	Haddock Lcd Mcod Mixed
Str. Bronkino	65,000 16,000 10,000 1,000
Str. Georgewave	70,000 21,000 2,000 10,000
Str. A. A. Mills	81,000 24,000 2,500 4,000
Str. P. J. O'Brien	87,000 24,000 2,500 3,000
Str. Gemma	71,000 5,000 3,000 14,000
Str. Shelton	82,000 24,000 3,000 3,000
Str. Flow	82,000 24,000 3,500 3,000
Str. W. J. O'Brien	57,000 24,000 2,500 3,000
Keith G. Minor	15,000 2,000 4,000 17,000
Irene & Helen	14,000 2,000 4,000
Tennie B.	14,000 2,000 4,000
Gert M. Pavel	40,000 2,000 3,000 4,000
Newfoundland	5,000 52,000
Killarney	47,000 5,000 8,000 9,000
Gert. De Costa	48,000 7,000 8,000 5,000
Jas. F. Dunton	35,000 19,000 2,000 1,000
J. C. Marshall	45,000 5,000 2,000 1,000
Isabella	45,000 5,000 3,000 5,000
Colleen	5,000 1,000 3,000 2,000
Str. Cormorant	63,000 25,000 7,000
Miss Elizabeth (schooner)	Angle 1... Marshall 2000 pollock; Isabella Parker 2000 pollock.
Small draggers—Mon 4th 19,000 mixed; Mon 2nd, St. Joseph 2300; 27th 34 1800; Two Pals 1400.
Halibuter—Sylvina Goulart 9000 haddock, 2000 cod.
Wholesale prices—Large cod 6½-7½c; lb. mkts. 4½-5½; haddock 8-9 pollock 4-5c; cusk 4-5½; cusk 4-5½; cusk 4-5½

EDITORIAL PAGE
FEBRUARY 2, 1931

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN

LARGEST EVENING
CIRCULATION IN NEW ENGLAND

The Hearst Papers Advocate

1. "Honest friendship with all nations—entangling alliances with none."—George Washington.
2. Proportional representation in the United States Senate—no State to have less than two Senators.
3. Army, Navy and Aviation—all united under a Secretary of National Defense.
4. Vigorous Federal action, under a Secretary of Education, to abolish illiteracy in the United States.
5. Installation of President and of Congress on the first of January following election in November.
6. Federal Sales Tax and Excise Taxes to replace entirely Income Taxes.
7. A calendar year of thirteen months of four weeks each; all holidays to fall on Saturday.
8. Construction of Nicaragua Canal for commerce and defense; advocated by the Hearst papers since 1895.
9. Acquisition of French and English West Indies as part payment on debt to the United States.
10. Selective immigration to admit only those suited for American citizenship and American needs.
11. Deportation of undesirable aliens and extension of preliminary citizenship periods to ten years.
12. Modification of Volstead Act to permit light wines and beers under Federal regulation.

Loosening the U. S. Belt

Reactionary bankers who urge a reduction in the American standard of living are doing an ill turn to the American people.

They are shutting their eyes to the truism that business is intended for the service of men.

The state of trade reflects a lack of balance between production and consumption. Accordingly, the proposal further to reduce consumption would merely add to the vicious cycle of depression.

It is sheer stupidity to attempt to restore economic balance by further curtailing consumption, which is already too small.

Unless people can be encouraged to buy more rather than less merchandise, the country is appallingly overequipped industrially.

The remedy lies in promoting, not discouraging, consumption.

Intelligent business men know that they must seek out new buyers.

The relatively high American standard of living was a fulfillment of a fundamental national ideal.

It was not achieved through sentiment, but by efficiency in production.

The economic equilibrium is now upset because purchasing power did not keep apace of production.

A further increase in the standard of living, through lowering retail prices or through raising real wages, would quickly restore prosperity.

On the other hand, a deliberate letdown in the standard of living would prolong the depression.

Such a defeatist policy would entail the further closing of factories and the scrapping of valuable capital equipment.

Furthermore, it would be a confession that modern economic civilization had broken down.

It is a national shame that the standard of living has temporarily fallen for great hordes of men and women who cannot find work.

Those who eat at breadlines are not currently enjoying the American standard of living.

Two-fisted, virile executives are devoting their brain power to ways of putting these unfortunate folk back on the job.

The process of recovery will be halted if attention is paid to quack cures suggested by a minority of timid bankers.

Fortunately, President Hoover has emphasized the fallacy of such negative proposals from silly men.

Waddill Catchings, a Wall Street banker, and William T. Foster, economist, writing in the February Forum, pertinently say:

"One cannot help noticing that it is never their own standard of living which the bankers propose to reduce. It is always the standard of living of the rank and file of the wage-earners. Or, if any banker does contemplate a lower level for his own family, it is a level far above the highest level ever reached by ninety per cent of American families. Even so, we should have to agree with these bankers if the United States were unable to produce enough wealth to maintain consumption at the level of recent years. But—we repeat—the United States is abundantly able. Not once since the war has our consumption of wealth even approached our capacity to produce wealth. Not once have we reached the standard of living which is readily attainable."

Storing Gasoline Here

An Answer to the Problem

The great petroleum companies are engaged in a dog-eat-dog fight for supremacy in Greater Boston.

And so long as this fight continues the people of Greater Boston will be annoyed and harassed.

Instead of subjecting the people to the annoyances and time wastes of these long-drawn battles, the companies would find it more profitable in the long run to pool their interests and to acquire jointly one of the nearby islands in Boston Harbor for the storage of most of the oil and gasoline to be sold in the Greater Boston market.

Unless the companies do this voluntarily, the City of Boston should itself set apart one of these islands and require all the competing companies to establish their storage reservoirs on it.

A Practical Postmaster

The appointment of William E. Hurley will give us a postal expert rather than a politician as Postmaster of Boston.

Mr. Hurley became a substitute carrier on May 25, 1898, and for the past thirty-two years he has devoted his life intelligently, reliably and faithfully to the postal service of Boston.

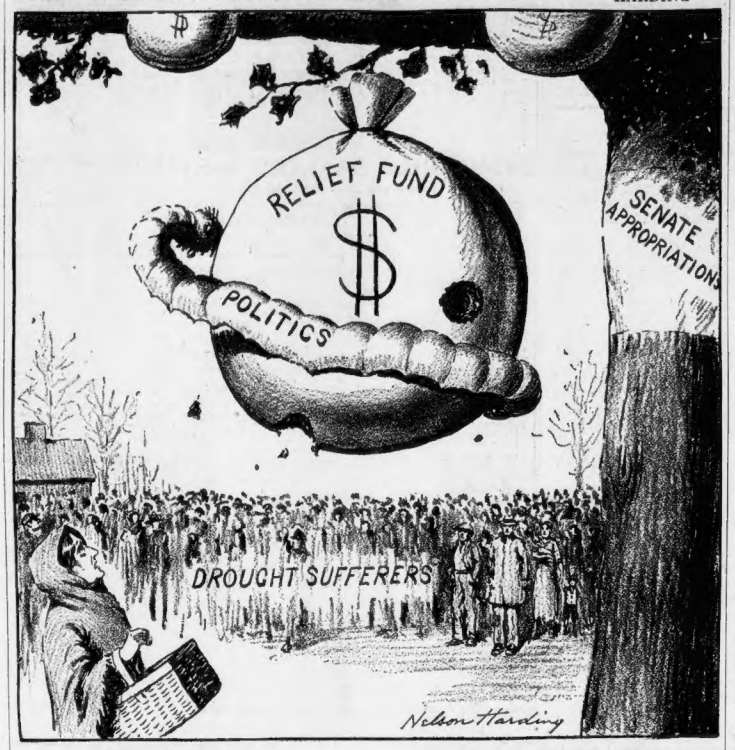
His designation will be good for the service and it will be good for the morale of the men who constitute it.

We invite our ambitious young men to enter this service and then require them all too often to stop in subordinate positions while the major executive posts to which they are entitled by experience and seniority are handed out like plums off a tree to wornout political hacks.

The postal service is the largest business operated by the Government and it is deserving of all the efficiency that trained executives can give it.

THE WORM AND THE APPLE

By NELSON HARDING



Just when the fruit is almost ripe,
And when, beneath the tree,
The hungry sufferers await Relief from misery

There comes a pest endangering
The help for those in need.
And it will spoil the needed fruit,
If suffered to succeed.

Listen, World! - Adventure

By ELSIE ROBINSON

Doing Same Thing Over

LONGING FOR adventure?

Sick of your job—sick of doing the same thing over and over? Sick of seeing the same people, living in the same four walls?

Elsie Robinson

And you want to go, don't you? Where? Anywhere. Anywhere away from here.

For you're sure that if you could get away, life would be different. The nagging little fears, the stinging little frets, would drop away. You'd be happy again. And excited, and eager, as you haven't been for years. You'd be—Free.

But you wouldn't. You're just fooling yourself.

Need a change? Of course you do. We all need changes. We all need to go to new places, see new faces, think new thoughts.

But just going somewhere-else won't cure what ails you. Seeing-something - different won't solve your problems. Adventure isn't really what you need, though how often you cry, "If I could only Live—live life—instead of just existing!"

But actually, you don't really want to live life. Actually, you want to escape life. That's why you're restless and irritable and bored.

You want to escape the things that make life hard for you. Competition . . . criticism . . . contacts and conflicts . . . all these things make life hard for you. And you think that, if you went somewhere else, into new scenes, where you could meet new people, you could escape them.

But you couldn't.

For these things are a normal part of life—everywhere. Wherever you may go, you will be forced to meet these conditions. If you can't conquer them here you can't meet and conquer them anywhere:

Life . . . that's what ails you.

Self . . . that's what ails you.

And you're miserable and bored because you can't make a Going Partnership of Life and Self.

You wouldn't remedy that fact by going to the West Indies, to England, or Italy, or India, or Russia. You wouldn't remedy it by dropping housekeeping or letter filing and going on the stage—or writing columns for newspapers. Always Life will go with you. Always Self will go with you. And until you can adjust Self to Life, you'll never be happy anywhere.

Stop trying to run away from Life. Stop gazing, yearningly, toward the horizon for your Big Adventure. Your big adventure is here . . . Now. It is here, in the job you're doing. It is here in the people you've always known.

Study that job. There's pride and punch in it if you'll look for it. Study those people. There's mystery and loveliness and a strange grace in them—if you'll recognize it.

If you can't find pride and punch in your daily round . . . if you can't recognize mystery and loveliness and force in the daily scene . . . then you'll never recognize them anywhere.

Find the adventure that exists here, now, all around you, and then . . . and only then . . . will you be fit for the adventure that exists beyond the horizon.

(Copyright, 1931, King Features Synd., Inc.)

What Do You Know?

BOSTON'S ORIGINAL KNOWLEDGE TEST

Do you know:

1. When cows lie down early in the day it is supposed to be a sign of what weather?
2. What is the word "pants" a shortened form of?
3. Who invented the locomotive?
4. What does the word "ave" in Ave Maria mean?
5. What name is given to a place where birds are confined? Fill each blank:
6. Concave is opposite in meaning to ——.
7. The meeting of cardinals to choose a Pope is called a ——.
8. Muscovy is an ancient name for ——.
9. A polka is a —— of Polish origin.
10. —— is the brightest star in the heavens.

Match correctly:

11. slow	tyro
12. aristocracy	retarded
13. range	placid
14. novice	scope
15. gentle	elite

Answers to today's test:

1. Rain. 2. Pantaloons. 3. George Stephenson. 4. Hail. 5. Aviary. 6. Convex. 7. Conclave. 8. Russia. 9. Dance. 10. Sirius. 11. Retarded. 12. Elite. 13. Scope. 14. Tyro. 15. Placid.

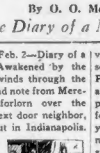
(Copyright, 1931, King Features Synd., Inc.)

New York Day by Day

By O. O. McINTYRE

The Diary of a Modern Pepys

NEW YORK, Feb. 2—Diary of a modern Pepys: Awakened by the shriek of high winds through the highways and a sad note from Meredith Nicholson, forlorn over the passing of his next door neighbor, Kin Hubbard, out in Indianapolis. Then to watch a theatrical rehearsal.



All the early afternoon working at my typewriter and later with my wife to tea for Mrs. Sidney Carey, of Lexington, and saw there Evangeline Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Montagu Love, Julia Hoyt and Louis Calhern, among others. So walking through the dazzle of Broadway.

A light dinner and early to bed trying to read for the first time Poe's "The Fall of the House of Usher," but a crowd of roysterers popped in and routed us out, bringing their own piano player, and cutting high jinks until long after the midnight bells.

* * *

Cafes are offering bits of philosophy, sparkling epigrams and such on the outside cover of menus. A sort of soporific before turning inside to the price list for a little eye bulging.

* * *

Personal nomination for the most expert wearer of the top hat among the first nighters—Russell Patterson.

* * *

W. C. Fields, waiting for a subway train, pushed a penny into a slot machine, jabbed the gadget and nothing happened. "Drat my gullibility!" he chirped and stepped into the arriving express. And now it's the big laugh provoking line in his show.

* * *

Perhaps the most dignified of the press agents is William J. Guard, who at 68 is Gatti-Casazza's man Friday at the Metropolitan. He bursts upon foyer crowds in a white lined Inverness cape, silk dicer at a jaunty angle and swinging a gold-knobbed cane—the last of Broadway's mid-Victorian flaneurs. He is the benevolent autocrat who, spurning the wise crack, calls the town's leading editors by first name and reads Voltaire for relaxation.

* * *

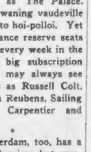
Few New York theaters have the vague quality called "atmosphere" so pronouncedly as The Palace. People think of waning vaudeville as appealing only to hoi-polloi. Yet persons of importance reserve seats for certain nights every week in the year. Sunday is big subscription night. Then one may always see such town figures as Russell Colt, Peter Arno, Aaron Reubens, Sailing Baruch, Georges Carpentier and Bugs Baer.

* * *

The New Amsterdam, too, has a clinging charm. Spacious but sombre, it has invariably housed a worthy attraction. Provincials have found it a good policy to buy seats there, not knowing or caring the precise name of the attraction. Other theaters with similar warmth in bygone days were The Empire, The Globe, Knickerbocker and Criterion.

* * *

Many new Thespic temples, dripping a rococco luxury and modern comfort, are strikingly cheerless and lacking in individuality. Visiting them is akin to a bench in the waiting room of the Grand Central. Awkwardly still, it often takes years for them to achieve that mellow intimacy that is 50 per cent a theater's charm. Most newer theaters have foyers that would not compare to a hall bedroom in a second class boarding house.



An attractive feature for many theater-goers is the strut through the lobby.

* * *

The theater standing out most vividly in my memory is People's Over-the-Rhine in Cincinnati. Here in a beer-slinging, smoke fogged old auditorium those of us who imagined we were the adventurous Cellinis or Casanovas of that day went to see Rose Sidell's Blonde Belles and perhaps exchange winks with the gold toothed and hippy one second from the left end.

* * *

The next most colorful playhouse was the old Orpheum in San Francisco. It was stuffed tight with customs dead and gone throughout the land. (What is this—Old Timers' Week, for land's sake?)

(Copyright, 1931, McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Hultman Is Discovered

Chicago Expert Confirms What We Knew All Along

Boston can thank Police Commissioner Hultman for its freedom from terrorism by gangsters and organized racketeers.

The Boston Evening American has said this in various ways and on numerous occasions.

Now comes no less an authority than Chicago's famous foe of the gangster, Albert Brunker, with complete affirmation of our enthusiasm for Mr. Hultman. Coupled with this endorsement by Mr. Brunker is his wish that Chicago, his home town, where he is chairman of the Civic Safety Committee, might have Mr. Hultman there to chase the hoodlums and killers afar and away.

The Boston Evening American also notes with interest that some of the other Boston newspapers have finally been awakened by Mr. Brunker's statements to the fact that we have an able, fearless, and unbossed police commissioner. One of our evening contemporaries has even come right out since Brunker's visit and said that Mr. Hultman takes orders from nobody and holds himself accountable to nobody but the citizens of Boston!

Well, well—several months late, but still as true as it was when the Boston Evening American said it when the commissioner took over the job.

And we hope another of Mr. Brunker's statements regarding Mr. Hultman is not overlooked, particularly by the legislators and others opposed to making the commissionership a decent-paying job. Mr. Hultman is making a considerable financial sacrifice in taking on this job. He is not a wealthy man. The commissionership is different from other jobs of the kind in the Commonwealth in that the holder is not permitted to do outside work. Mr. Brunker was astonished when he learned that the salary is but $8000. Boston is entitled to a man of Mr. Hultman's ability and honesty as police commissioner. The Legislature should be willing to permit the city to pay such a man a salary somewhere near on a line with his ability and with what he might earn in private life.

Car-riders Pay—and Pay!

The Boston Elevated faces a deficit of $1,100,000 this year with the prospect that this loss will be assessed upon the cities and towns of Greater Boston.

In concert with the other great metropolitan areas of this country, car-riding in Boston suffered a substantial decline.

The Elevated reduced its operating expenses by $500,000, but that heroic attempt could not change the figures from red to black.

Now we are warned that some of the five-cent lines may have to be eliminated and some of the non-paying surface lines may actually have to be abandoned. This at a time when Mayor Curley's rapid-transit proposals, street widenings and tunnel programs are being advanced to accommodate the future growth of the city.

These losses and expenses are borne in the last analysis by the car-riders. The assessment upon the cities and towns is only a temporary expedient which delays the tapping of the car-riders' pockets a few weeks or months.

They have been given shabby treatment from time immemorial.

The expensive cost of the subways and tunnels have been planted upon the backs of the car-riders despite the fact that they have not been the sole beneficiaries of them. If the subways and tunnels were eliminated and the cars put back upon the narrow streets, it would be well-nigh impossible to transact business in Boston.

Some day perhaps some official with enough "sand in his craw" will arise to advocate that the burden of the subways be lifted from the car-riders. Then fares can come down, there will be no deficits to meet, car-riding will become more popular and the rapid-transit expansions can be undertaken without fear of the results.

Those Extra Phone Calls

When Mr. Wycliffe Marshall and the Boston Central Labor Union got to the meat of their rate contest against the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company they might do well to inquire into the company's practice of charging surplus phone calls to the consumers.

The company seems to have acquired the approval of the Department of Public Utilities to limit conversations even on private lines to three minutes.

The householder receives her bill at the end of the month and finds that in addition to the fixed rate she has been charged for twenty, thirty or forty "additional local calls."

The grocer's bill will tell her how many pounds of steak or pecks of potatoes she has bought during the month. But when she applies to the telephone company for a detailed statement, she is invariably informed that the overcharges were undoubtedly for conversations in excess of three minutes, but that no record of them is available.

In its relations with its customers, the telephone company no doubt intends to be honest and accurate.

But it is a public utility, operating by grace of the people, and in its dealings with the people it must be like the public official. He should not only be honest but his reputation should be above suspicion or doubt.

The people are entirely willing to pay for what they get, but they must know they are getting it.

A Use for Whiskers

England Discovers One

At last a use has been found for whiskers. Several large hotels in London have ordered their waiters to grow them. It is the only way, they say, that they can distinguish the waiters from the guests.

The decision was made as a last resort. For years the hotel managements have been perplexed by the problem. They have tried dressing waiters in knee breeches. The effect, however, was too theatrical. Then they put flowers in their buttonholes, but several of England's leading statesmen and members of the nobility and gentry wear them, too. Thus embarrassment arose.

Side whiskers, of the type known here as mutton chop, banker or burnside are apparently the answer to the problem. And the rest of the world will heave a sigh of relief that a solution has been discovered. It was a momentous question, now happily answered. Yet it seems strange that confusion arose in the first place. Usually, if a man looks like a waiter he is a patron. And if he looks like a patron, he is a waiter. That is always a safe guide—in this country, anyway. But perhaps England is different.